Světla! Akce! Resetovat!

Davos Freak Show Světového ekonomického fóra \(WEF\) je v pondělí opět v provozu.

Mainstreamová média kolektivního Západu unisono budou týden nepřetržitě točit všechny „novinky“, které se hodí k tisku, aby vychvalovaly nové deklinace The Great Reset, překřtěného The Great Narrative, ale ve skutečnosti zarámované jako benigní nabídka „kapitalismu zainteresovaných stran“ . Toto jsou hlavní prkna stinné platformy stinné nevládní organizace registrované v Kolíně nad Rýnem, na šedivém předměstí Ženevy.

Remixed Diderot a D'Alembert Encyclopedias by se daly napsat o davoské patologii – kde se velký seznam multimiliardářů, hlav států a miláčků korporací (vlastněných BlackRock, Vanguard, State Street a spol.) „zabývá“ prodejem balíčků Demented Dystopia nic netušící masy.

Ale pojďme dál a zaměřme se na pár panelů příští týden – které by se daly snadno zaměnit za relace Straight to Hell .

Seznam úterý 17. ledna je obzvláště poutavý. Vyznačuje se „De-globalizace nebo re-globalizace? panel s řečníky Ian Bremmer, Adam Tooze, Niall Ferguson, Péter Szijjártó a Ngairé Woods. Vynikají tři atlanticisté/výjimeční, zvláště ultratoxický Ferguson.

Po „In Defence of Europe“, kde se představí spousta nulit včetně polského Andrjeze Dudy, budou účastníci přivítáni speciální sezónou v pekle (promiň, Rimbaud), v níž nebude nikdo jiný než domina ES Ursula von der Leyen, kterou zná drtivá většina lidí. Němci jako Ursula von der Leichen (“Ursula of Cadavers”) v tag teamu s hlavním mozkiem WEF, emulátorem Třetí říše Klausem “Nosferatu” Schwabem.

Říká se, že Lucifer je ve svém privilegovaném podzemním sídle zelený závistí.

Je tu také „Ukrajina: Co dál?“ s další hromadou nulit a „Válka v Evropě: Rok 2“, kde Moldavsko probudilo holku Maiu Sandu a finskou party girl Sannu Marin.

V sekci Válečné zločince má čestné místo „Rozhovor s Henrym Kissingerem: Historický pohled na válku“, kde bude Dr. K. prodávat všechny permutace své ochranné známky Rozděl a panuj. Přidanou síru zajistí Thucydides škrtič Graham Allison.

Kancléř Olaf Scholz „Játrová klobása“ bude ve svém zvláštním projevu bok po boku s Nosferatu v naději, že nebude – doslova – grilován.

Poté, ve středu 18. ledna, přichází apoteóza: „Obnovení bezpečnosti a míru“ s řečníky Fareedem Zakarií – hnědým mužem amerického establishmentu; Jens z NATO Stoltenberg „Válka je mír“; Andrzej Duda – opět; a kanadská válečná štvář Chrystia Freelandová – o které se široce hovořilo, že se stane příští generální tajemnicí NATO. A bude to šťavnatější: koksový komik vydávající se za vojevůdce se může připojit přes zoom z Kyjeva.

Názor, že tento panel je oprávněn vydávat soudy o „míru“, si nezaslouží nic menšího než vlastní Nobelovu cenu za mír.

Cynici všech přesvědčení mohou být omluveni, že naříkají, že pan Zircon – v současnosti na oceánské hlídce zahrnující Atlantik, Indický oceán a samozřejmě Středozemní moře „Mare Nostrum“ – nepředloží v Davosu svou vizitku.

Analytik Peter Koenig vypracoval přesvědčivou tezi, že WEF, WHO a NATO mohou provozovat nějaký sofistický kult smrti. The Great Reset se vesele mísí s agendou NATO jako agent provokatér, finančník a zbraňový agent války Impéria proti Rusku v černé díře na Ukrajině. Vhodnější by v tomto případě bylo NAKO – zkratka pro North Atlantic Killing Organization.

Jak to shrnuje Koenig, „NATO vstupuje na jakékoli území, kde ‚konvenční‘ mediální stroj na lži a sociální inženýrství selhávají nebo nedosahují dostatečně rychle svých cílů určujících lidí.“

Zároveň si jen velmi málo lidí uvědomuje, že 13. června 2019 byla v New Yorku uzavřena tajná dohoda mezi OSN, WEF, řadou nevládních organizací vyzbrojených oligarchy – s WHO v první linii

– a v neposlední řadě přinejmenším nejlepší světové korporace, které všechny vlastní propojené bludiště s Vanguardem a BlackRockem ve středu.

Praktickým výsledkem dohody je Agenda OSN 2030.

Prakticky každá vláda v oblasti NATOstan a na „západní polokouli“ (definice zřízení USA) byla unesena Agendou 2030 – což v podstatě znamená hromadění, privatizace a financování veškerého pozemského majetku pod záminkou jeho „ochrany“.

Překlad: marketing a monetizace celého přírodního světa (viz například zde , zde a zde .)

Davoské superhvězdy, jako je nesnesitelný bore Niall Ferguson, jsou prostě dobře odměňovaní vazalové: západní intelektuálové z Harvardu, Yale a Princetonu, kteří by se nikdy neodvážili kousnout do ruky, která je živí.

Ferguson právě napsal sloupek na Bloomberg s názvem „Na východní frontě není vše v klidu“ – v podstatě proto, aby jménem svých pánů rozšiřoval riziko 3. světové války a obviňoval samozřejmě „Čínu jako arzenál autokracie“.

Mezi sériovými šílenými šílenostmi tato vyniká. Ferguson píše: „S americkou strategií jsou dva zjevné problémy (...) Prvním je, že pokud jsou algoritmické zbraňové systémy ekvivalentem taktických jaderných zbraní, Putin může být nakonec přinucen použít ty druhé, protože ty první mu zjevně chybí.

Bezradnost je zde eufemismus. Ferguson zjevně nemá ponětí, co znamená „algoritmické zbraně“; pokud má na mysli elektronickou válku, USA si možná dokázaly na chvíli udržet převahu na Ukrajině, ale to je konec.

No, to je typický Ferguson – který napsal celou Rothschildovu hagiografii stejně jako jeho sloupek, pil z archivů Rothschildů, které vypadaly, že byly dezinfikovány, protože o jejich historii neví téměř nic smysluplného.

Ferguson „vydedukoval“, že Rusko je slabé a Čína silná. Nesmysl. Oba jsou silní – a Rusko je technologicky vyspělejší než Čína ve svém pokročilém vývoji útočných a obranných raket a může porazit USA v jaderné válce, protože ruský vzdušný prostor je utěsněn vrstvenou obranou, jako je S-400 až do již testované S-500 a navržené S-600.

Pokud jde o polovodičové čipy, výhodou, kterou má Tchaj-wan při výrobě čipů, je hromadná výroba nejpokročilejších čipů; ale Čína a Rusko mohou vyrobit čipy nezbytné pro vojenské použití, i když se nezapojí do masové komerční výroby. USA zde mají důležitou obchodní výhodu s Tchaj-wanem, ale to není vojenská výhoda. Ferguson prozradí svou hru, když se chytne za hlavu, že je třeba „odradit rodící se kombinaci Ruska, Íránu a Číny podobnou Ose od riskování souběžného konfliktu ve třech dějištích: ve východní Evropě, na Středním východě a na Dálném východě“.

Zde máme typickou atlanticistickou démonizaci tří hlavních vektorů integrace Eurasie smíchanou s toxickým koktejlem ignorance a arogance: je to NATO, kdo rozdmýchává „konflikt“ ve východní Evropě; a je to Impérium, které je vyhnáno z „Dálného východu“ (och, to je tak koloniální) a brzy ze Středního východu (ve skutečnosti západní Asie).

Příběh AMGOT

Nikdo s IQ vyšším než pokojová teplota nebude očekávat, že Davos bude příští týden vážně diskutovat o jakémkoli aspektu existenční války NATO vs. Eurasie – nemluvě o navrhování diplomacie.

Nechám vám tedy další typický laciný příběh o tom, jak se Impérium – které vládne Davosu – v praxi vypořádává se svými vazaly.

Na začátku tohoto roku na Sicílii jsem se dozvěděl, že v Římě ve spěchu přistálo v rámci neplánované návštěvy velmi cenný majetek Pentagonu. O několik dní později byl důvod návštěvy otištěn v La Repubblica, jednom z listů toxického klanu Agnelli.

Byl to mafiánský podvod: osobní „návrh“ pro Meloniho vládu, aby bezpodmínečně poskytla Kyjevu co nejdříve nákladný protiraketový systém Samp-T, vyvinutý evropským konsorciem Eurosam, sdružujícím MBDA. Itálie, MBDA Francie a Thales.

Itálie vlastní pouze 5 baterií tohoto systému, které nejsou zrovna skvělé proti balistickým střelám, ale účinné proti řízeným střelám. Poradce pro národní bezpečnost Jake Sullivan již zavolal do Palazzo Chigi, aby oznámil „nabídku, kterou nelze odmítnout“. Zřejmě to nestačilo, proto urychlený vyslanecký výlet. Řím bude muset držet krok. Nebo jinak. Ostatně nikdy nezapomínejte na terminologii používanou americkými generály k označení Sicílie a Itálie jako celku: AMGOT.

Americká vláda okupované území.

Bavte se s davoskou freak show.

Well, as every WASP and every Prussian is supposed to know deep in his gut, the Russians are obvious examples of the grossly inferior Slavs. And such inferior whites, like the Irish and various Mediterranean types, will always make huge mistakes and shoot with every fault of calculation. So it would be a freak accident if the Russians were to send all those monsters to Hell with their Master.

China and Russia can fabricate the chips necessary for military use, though not engage in mass commercial production?

China mass produces more than one billion chips every day and, since half the fabs under construction are Chinese, will double production within 12 months. It already produces the leading flash memory chips and its AI chips are as good as Nvidia's.

That was a Mafia scam: a face-to-face “suggestion” for the Meloni government to imperatively provide Kiev, as soon as possible, with the costly anti-Samp-T missile system, developed by an European consortium, Eurosam, uniting MBDA Italy, MBDA France and Thales.

“Costly” is a good word for this system. The missiles themselves are expensive – $1.25 million for the short-range Aster 15, and at least $2.5 million for the longer range Aster 30. The kicker is the cost of the radar and command system:

SAMP/T Battery: ~$400-450 million for radar, command systems, 6 launchers, & 96 Aster 30 missiles

A single incoming missile gets through, and the investment in the whole system is gone. No wonder Italy needed so much “persuading”. From the prices I can imagine these things being made by slow-working Swiss Elves.

Yet, 5.000 soldiers are “suddenly” required to make sure the mob can have its big meeting in Vegas, I mean Davos. Looks like times have changed since 2019.

And the criminal conspiracy front called WEF isn't below the radar anymore. And the US running this front knows it very well. A few couple of thousand protestors here and a couple of critical journalists there may actually change quite a lot now.

Especially, if the public becomes (more) aware how many of their politicians and economic “leaders” are actually going to Davos. And WHAT EXACTLY is being discussed there. And after Covid we know very well how far they are willing to go for “an agendy”. Which – obviously – seems to come from the WEF-front.

So, things may get a lot more interesting on the Western front.

Davos reptiles need love too:

The Swiss escort agencies near Davos are already fully booked ahead of this year's World Economic Forum, the elite gathering that brings together heads of state, corporate executives, and influential non-profits, Austrian outlet Exxpress reported on Sunday, citing a missive purportedly sent from one such agency.

In a message to unnamed hospitality staff and published by Express, escort agency Sensuallounge Escort urges readers to book their "fine selection of ladies and gentlemen" ahead of time to ensure "the best possible care and company during the World Economic Forum."

Sensuallounge reportedly offers "services for all sexual orientations," and the outlet claims one night with one of their employees costs €2,350 (just over $2,500). The service does not appear to accept cash as payment, offering clients the option of paying with a major credit card or via PayPal.

Explaining that the WEF's annual get-together is high season for Swiss prostitutes, Exxpress revealed the agencies set up dedicated websites for the conference. Their roster seemingly fully booked, Sensuallounge's site had already disappeared as of Monday. <https://www.sott.net/article/476345-Swiss-escort-agencies-booked-solid-during-WEF-event-in-Davos>

Who will rid us of these pesky little proselytizers of dysgenic dysfunction?
Certainly there must be a cast of thousands that have nothing to lose.

We are not allowed on planes or across borders anymore.

So, it's up to YOU.

Start by taking your witty pitter-patter to where it is needed:

Supermarket check out queues, around the BBQ, the youngsters hitching a lift to football.

Remember; the last weapon we have left is our wit, and apparently the devil hates being laughed at. Every time you see or hear that “dysgenic dysfunction”, point it out and laugh your head off. Point and ridicule, point and ridicule.

That said, your ridicule should be informed and intelligent, screaming “Joo-Joo-Joo” really does nothing for our cause.

P.S. Threats of violence and calls to lawlessness are not only counterproductive, you can, and soon will, be arrested for that. Free speech is the privilege of the civilised, violence is the base state of the barbarian. It is time to choose...

As tempting as it is to fantasize about dropping some powerful ordnance on this entire event, one must keep in mind that the real enemy is not the monkey nor even the organ grinder. It is the entity that sent their right hand man to give the lucre to a runner who paid the organ grinder who made the monkey dance for the amusement of the mob.

These loathsome individuals can be replaced in a heartbeat with no tears being shed. The farm teams are full of up and comers chomping at the bit to make it to the big show.

Bilderberg used to act as such a clearing house. The 10% “who think they think” once they got a list of the attendees thought that they had it all figured out but they only saw the monkeys. A few got to the organ grinder but the trail then went mostly dead. Nothing to see here folks beyond what they want you to see.

If some of the ones that pull and push power buttons behind the screens can allocate their sorry asses openly to Davos [if], then that should be proof enough that geo-politics is a gamed layer. Putin is in on some things, as is China, they [global power players as improvised by the moment] just are bickering for what is mine and thine. Sad to take the binary logic of a Piper Escobar as worth readable.

The rabble [me, you, Escobar, the ones you know and frequent, the no-stakes] is in for a dent. The stake-holders seem to be content with their Shakespearean playwright – opera – ballet. The human world is indeed obese, as in bulging out of Planet Earth Biosphere. That is what is ultimately wrong. The quality of desire of our elites is not up to the game.

Would suggest the 'bad guy or 'groups' stuff such as davos or gates etc are to distract from the smiley cons around us, so people sit failing to make effort where we live. There are probably a half million cabalers, and they know the juvenile tendency of people which is why they concocted the cons of 'govt' state' and monotheism 'obedience religions and bs distractions so could take over world for their vile schemes. More people are snapping out of it though point is the cons are many, so supposed person or group here or there are actually irrelevant. Imo there is no difference between cons claiming to be 'state, 'city, county, 'courts judges lawyers, media, skools, ulilities, large corporations, fake activist groups etc, and supposed 'super' boogy man act gates or fauci, or davos or bilderberg etc.

Supposed fed govt same scheme, 'dc wouldn't exist if cons pretending to be 'states or 'county etc didn't exist, which did same dictating lockdown masks etc, and scam tax, and 'permit' ramming more apartments and houses for more immigrants etc.

So when I see this type thing just see cons doing more distraction, and psych image, and should be said the web as functions as distraction as people look at web, though again should focus where we live. Of course am making comment on web though is only ten percent of focus, otherwise share info around local, or do postal notes etc. Isn't knock to article because makes points about scheming, just saying the scheming is local, and as general fact can't be warriors for future when watching as audience.

There is important information in this article, but Pepe's writing style obscures rather than clarifies what he is attempting to convey. The reader must try to decypher his main points because he doesn't emphasize them, rather opting to concoct clever memes like "dominatrix Ursula" (a meme which admittedly would be humorous if turned into a prompt and run through DALL-E or Midjourney to generate the corresponding image).

What are some of the major points? Pepe hints at one when he writes that "Nobody with an IQ over room temperature will expect Davos next week to discuss any aspect of the NATO vs. Eurasia existential war seriously – not to mention propose diplomacy." The point being made, I think, is that there is a lack of discussion, in the West in general, of what is really going on in the world – for example, the emergence of a multipolar world order. By refusing to discuss reality itself, Pepe seems to be implying, Western elites are doomed to obsolescence with the rise of Eurasia and other poles of power.

Other analysts have noticed the same type of refusal to discuss reality, in the West. In this quote below, Alexander Mercouris of The Duran is interviewing Sergey Karaganov, in a recent video with the title Russia, from Greater Europe to Greater Eurasia:

One of the most depressing facts about this crisis — because you talked about the way in which Europe is very absorbed with the Ukrainian crisis — [is that] much of what you have been talking about, Professor Karaganov, you will not find discussed at all in any part of the Western media. I mean, [there are] very few references there to the BRICS, for example; hardly any references to the Shanghai Cooperation Organization; very little discussion about multi-polar systems or unipolar systems.

[This is] the kind of language that people are becoming increasingly accustomed to, not just in Russia but around the world. [There is] a long denial, for many years, about the rise of China, a long denial for many years about the fact that China and Russia were working together and were forging a relationship with each other. [There is] a failure to see a lot of what is going on in Africa. This has been a major shock here in Britain, that African states are now expressing opinions which go against those of the former Imperial Heartland, which to a great extent, of course, is still in London.

Many people in the West — and I don't think this is just the Western public — [such as] policy makers, still see the world very much on the basis of that system that you described at the beginning of your last point: the one [in which] the West still has its overriding hegemony, military, economic, cultural. That [vision] still prevails in some way: that, ultimately, all we need is to exert ourselves a little in one place or another — Ukraine, in this particular case — and we will eventually prevail.

This is a very difficult thing because you've described the change, the transition, but I don't think in European capitals there's very much understanding that at the moment we are in that process of transition.

That whole interview is worth a view, although the interviewee, dr. Karaganov, mumbles into a low quality microphone, which makes it difficult to understand what he is saying. The Duran seems to be producing consistently interesting analysis. Maybe Ron Unz should get them to write for the Unz Review...

I read his book, Destined for War, which discusses conflicts between established powers and rising powers since the days of Athens and Sparta to the current situation with the US and China. The thing that struck me most was a sentence that began, “As much as Russia deserves to be strangled” There was nothing in the book to explain the reasoning or qualify the meaning for wanting to destroy a nation of a hundred and fifty million people.

@YetAnotherAnon

Many insincere (agent-type) commenters here in recent times, but very few K.K.K. or similar. Most are Zio or other victimology types, and the majority of such posts are as 'Anonymous' or 'Anon', which is bizarre. It isn't an overload. Since appearing, Kurt Knispel seems alright in general, as does Ghali.

Really, since I first signed up, I wish I'd used a unname like Joe Stalin (yes, I know someone has now), Hotoke, or Grand Kleagle. It doesn't matter, as long as most post in good faith, and regulars have some idea of what other users who use their u-names to post say. A few are always irritating, but you don't even have to hit the 'Ignore' button, do that if you want, but you can just see the unname of the fool and not read it.

An idle thought, but the blog-style software that Mr. Unz and probably others have refined and expanded so well (I have had an account for, I think, over ten years, the site was more minimal before, but the basics of the comment system were already there) appears to handle links of user names to 'Anonymous' or 'Anon' as array indices.

I don't have time to do it, but tracking the patterns of each index would be amusing.

OTOH, there is no restriction on users to use their u-names to post before posting as 'Anonymous' or 'Anon'. It would be a good enhancement to the already good software. I would suggest at least ten posts passing moderation before permission to post as 'Anonymous' or 'Anon'.

That would give good-faith logins a chance to match the indices to account names, just by seeing patterns. I have been on the side where one can check IP addresses on a well-known U.S.

site, so of course I know that the correlation of, e.g. ‘Anon[xxx]’ and signed-up unname is clearly visible. Also know that obsessions and language tics can make it clear to the simple user.

Alternatively, the number of ‘Anon’ posts could be limited far more than the use of buttons, say, once a week.

A few posters who use their u-names are always irritating, but you don’t even have to hit the ‘Ignore’ button, do that if you want, but you can just see the unname of the fool and not read it.

Many ‘anon’s are worse.

Just a few ideas.

Since the term “the Antichrist” originated in the Bible, we must follow God’s own description of it in his Bible. Thus to know correctly and accurately who it is with divine certainty, we must have respect for its biblical sense. While in the past people have bandied about the names of Kaiser Wilhelm, Lenin, Mussolini, and others to be the Antichrist, realize that God prophesies of spiritual matters, not of political. Therefore, the Antichrist will not be a political person, but an ecclesiastical one.

Who would he be?

Martin Luther revealed to the world that the Antichrist is the office of the papacy. He brought about not only this exposure of the papacy but also its fall from the heights of its power by preaching the pure gospel to the members of the Roman Catholic church. See this from the history of the Lutheran Reformation.

Luther demonstrated biblically that the papacy in Rome was the Babylon of Revelation chapter 17 with his writing On the Babylonian Captivity of the Church, and other writings, clearly proclaiming in the Smalcald Articles: “The pope is the very Antichrist.”

However, in the five centuries since then the papacy has returned to a state of being unrecognized as the great Antichrist by almost all the world’s Lutheran and Protestant members.

Well, as every WASP and every Prussian is supposed to know deep in his gut, the Russians are obvious examples of the grossly inferior Slavs. And such inferior whites, like the Irish and various Mediterranean types, will always make huge mistakes and shoot with every fault of calculation.

Well the Russian Slavs don't seem to be breaking stereotypes when it comes to war.

Look at how they just stuck a platoon in a trench and without any armored support or plan. Just stick a platoon in a trench in freezing weather and see what happens.

The Russians would be better off with Prussian commanders.

But Putin has a Jewish chef in charge of the main front so he clearly knows what he is doing.

If I were to hire a commander for a complex modern war I would definitely try to find someone with a background in hospitality services. Can he cook a Souffle? That is the first question I would ask.

Good comment –

The vast majority of these WEF-toadies have to be generic midwits, lacking in both insight and imagination, or simply “educated” to stupidity. The evidence of this is their recent report, drawn from “leading insights from over 1,200 experts across the Forum’s diverse network.”

A modern nuclear war will happen so quickly that the vast majority of the elites (for example, Davos attendees) will barely have time to get notified and make it to their vehicles.

The amusing part is that nobody wants to tell them the bad news....

The 1200 “experts” were asked to rank the biggest risks in 2 and 10 years. I mentioned their rankings in the last paragraph.

I am not convinced, at all, that humans are responsible for climate change, no. The way that “the science” of it has been mishandled, over many years, is very suspicious. If it was correct what they were saying, there would be no need to censor and marginalize dissenting voices.

And this sort of thing (there has been lots and lots of it) does not make me trust the narrative more – rather the opposite:

The global climate in 10 years will be, my guess, not very different from what it is now. The climate has always been changing, and it is a slow process.

No, he hasn't, And NEITHER HAVE YOU, nor I, or anybody else.

Don't confuse tectonic plate rebound (from the decline of the ice-age glaciers) with "rising oceans". While the oceans are rising, it's got NOTHING to do with mankind's activities, and EVERYTHING to do with the earth constantly accumulating MORE WATER (mostly from space, but also hydrogen produced deep within the earth as products of atomic fission — just as helium is — combining, by various processes, with oxygen (when it isn't combining with carbon to create an almost never-ending supply of petroleum).

@Tsar Nicholas

There are ways which are far more efficient (in terms of dead/survivor ratios) than the use of one or few Khinzals or other missiles. Relatively low-tech, too.

And when the WEF rolls into town NOBODY who is allowed to stay is innocent. This is evident by the fact that the Davos conferences NEVER have any leaks from waiters, waitresses, servers, taxi drivers, and other service people. Thus the only conclusion is that those jobs are being temporarily filled by others who are heavily invested into the beast system Fortune 500 CEOs, etc., for whom the price of a leak being traced back to them would be far, far higher than for the typical restaurant, hotel, or taxi company employee.

[The World Economic Forum (WEF)'s Davos Freak Show is back in business on Monday.]

Yes, they had a special SHOW by the 'Iranian opposition' discussion important issues such as:

– Why the western leaders have not sanctioned the leader Ali Khamenei, close ally of President Putin who is sending drones to Putin to kill innocent Ukrainian people.

– Why Ali Khamenei is welcomed to Social Media

– Did you know that President Raisi got verified account on Instagram, can you believe that? When it is so easy to kick them out of social media so we can go to Iran and run the country according to Jewish mafia's prescription. If you don't help us then how can we help you to save your broken economy. Then we will never see each other in this WONDERFUL forum ever again.

So, this American CITIZEN, Massome QumiKolah, known as Masih Alinejad, who poses as the representative of the Iranian women, is nothing but a CHARLATAN.

She gives orders to bold headed Klaus Schwab as follows:

– We want the 'leaders' of G7 call their ambassadors from Iran and kick the Iranian diplomats out of their countries

– Trump, under the pressure of Jewish mafia members such as Mark Dubowitz from a terrorist foundation FDD, put Iran Revolutionary Guard on the 'terrorist' list. This charlatan said:

I ask the Canadians to do the same, they did not. Then she said:

– The EU MUST put the name of the Revolutionary Guard, which is part of the Iranian defense system on ‘terrorist’ list to help Mossad, CIA, MI6 so we the CLOWNS can make more money as AGENTS.

You can tell how serious The World Economic Forum was from these shows performed by the CIRCUS, “Iranian opposition”, whose main job was to make people laugh, not to get bored with the bold headed Schwab.

How come the US tech companies allowing Khamenei to enjoy freedom of speech on Twitter and Instagram while he banned 80 million Iranians from same social media? Grateful to @wef for giving me the opportunity at Davos this year to eco the voice of Iranians. pic.twitter.com/9Xg42r6mWH pic.twitter.com/ayaWD2i2eX

I've made comments on this subject previously at Unz but apparently bears repeating... Already the war mongers at Davos are preparing us all for a global nuclear war. A recently published article at the Business Insider shows a list of cities currently targeted for thermonuclear war however it is based on outdated information. Here is the most likely sequence of events that will unfold;

An initial attack begins with a large atomic detonation many miles above central USA. The resulting light and EMP burst would "blind" both commercial and military satellites, fry (nationwide and beyond) the electronics in every vehicle made after 1980, release an electromagnetic storm magnitudes stronger than the Carrington Event of 1859. All power generation plants would cease to function, ditto hospitals, manufacturing, service sector such as water pumping and yes, immobilize every plane on the ground or in the air- they'd fall right out of the sky.

There are indeed several cities of interest built into this scenario e.g., the deep warm water ports and or naval submarine/shipping yards like San Diego, Groton, Conn, Frisco Bay, LA as well as high tech centers, Seattle and Omaha, NE where all underground telephonic cables from the West converge and then fan out to the Eastern part of the country, destroying Omaha's Offutt AFB (US Command HQ) as well.

Over the last two years, Washington DC has been emptying out that is, for various highly influential politicians and top bureaucrats. They keep on the move, avoid full sessions or gatherings of Congresspersons, top CEO, COO's and the like. The NYC metro area, will remain a hub for finance and business enterprise, maritime, the country's most wealthy, thus will be an important nuclear target as well.

Surface transportation is gradually shifting to underground highways currently used by Walmart. These vehicles may avoid the EMP effect. Visit <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DAs33gsHNWg> and <https://strangesounds.org/2021/10/walmarts-secret-military-bases-linked-underground-tunnels.html> for additional details.

Of course the end users of these deliveries will either be the very rich , critical military or essential brain trust...the rest of us will be expected to roll up and die. Marijuana and narcotics will be freely available for the Terminals!! (us) but when the sources for delivery dry up, then what!?, you xox#xx#x Effen lunatics!

Do the clowns in Davos really believe the bullshit they peddle each other, or is it like in The Emperor's New Clothes, where each is afraid to admit to the others that he doesn't buy into the crap being spouted and just plays along, in search of advantage over his fellow attendants?

That is a good question, politicians are natural born opportunists and liars, and truth is not their skill set, lying is. And every politician is after power, so to move up the totem pole, one must mouth the platitudes of the official narrative. So yes, they compete, to say the lie the best, in the most convincing way, to get attention of those above them.

See my comment #86.

The purpose of a political whore is to sell the agenda of the elites. So today we saw this first hand at Davos, Finland's PM Sanna Marin says "we don't know when the war ends – but Ukraine has to win. I don't see another choice."

Does she believe the crap she says? Probably not.

A modern politician is exactly like a used car salesman, they have to move the crap on the lot for the owner. The elite agenda is crap, it must be sold to the public, so the elite hire salesman called politicians, they compete with each other in elections, then the elite decide who they want on their "sales team", and rig the election to get their choice in, or they simple put up two of their favorites not caring which one wins, because they own them both.

Every politician, with almost no exceptions, sell out their country in the course of doing business. They are low life whores and they know it, and in fact many of the US politicians went on the Lolita express to Epstein island to bonk underaged girls. In Amerikan elections, populist candidates who have some integrity like Ron Paul or Bernie Sanders are always pushed to the side and never even get on the ticket.

He probably left out “the most advanced nodes”.... But you are absolutely correct that the majority of massed produced chips are not the most advanced nodes – excerpt for smartphones and tablets. On that note there are mainland Chinese AI chips that did indeed match Nvidia (run by and staffed by many ethnic Chinese anyway so it only makes sense) – but they needed to be fabbed by TSMC on Taiwan. That’s actually why Huawei initially got blindsided by the US gov. Huawei had the audacity to design a mobile phone chip that beat Qualcomm and match Apple. But again Huawei needed TSMC to manufacture it. But what made it worse why the US targeted the whole industry is because SMIC proved it could manufacture 7nm 3 to 5 years earlier than the west thought possible (the dummies forget Taiwan engineers are Chinese and thousands of them moved to Mainland China to work).... Then YMTC was able to leapfrog all other companies in the memory sector in design and manufacturing. So now the US has decided to just basically embargo the whole industry. Pretty pathetic – but hey.... What I want to know is when Russia and China will begin working together on the whole semiconductor supply chain. Russia is good in physics and chemistry

Probably 95% of Americans are on board with either war against Russia or war against China. The progressives tend to want war against Russia, and the conservatives tend want war against China, though there is some overlap. Boomers, like the National Review audience, just want war against everyone all at the same time. That's because their identity as boomer Americans is tied up with USA being number one. And they will be dead soon anyway, so they want one last hurrah of screwing everyone else on earth over to firmly cement themselves as the worst group of people who have ever lived before they finally croak.

So, what exactly do you expect the state of the global climate to be in ten years?

Paradisaical? I gather you've not, yet, been flooded, burned, parched by unending drought, seen the sea gradually encroach, or rip the guts out of your seaside villa or infected by some exotic zoonosis, the host having been driven from the forest by rapid climate destabilisation.

Ok so you believe everyone is going to be killed by cataclysmic events in the next 10 years.

But you are also convinced that the vaccines are killing people.

Are you trying to save them from the vaccines so they can live a few years before the great Doomsday?

Seems to me that if you really believe in Doomsday then you should support COVID and not the vaccines.

Most CO₂ comes from outside the US/EU and yet climate change advocates are completely obsessed with changing our behaviors. Why is that? Shouldn't you be hoping that a virus takes the third world population down a notch?

Most of these could be accounted by cooperation , rich people , defense and US made wars abroad .

Most of the trash that destroys the world – it’s habitat, ecology , and flora and fauna also come from west .

These sorts of destructions add to other kind of environmental issues that add to CO2 production

Subsistence economy in the third world doesn’t add to CO2 load

That is a good question, politicians are natural born opportunists and liars, and truth is not their skill set, lying is.

Given that the old ghoul Kissinger has now reversed himself and now supports admitting Ukraine into NATO adds to the saliency of your point. One wonders what induced the warty old toad to publicly reverse his previous position?

As you also noted, all politicians sell out their countries, (and friends and families), to one degree or another. But, the ability to betray requires a degree of trust, and with trust now on the wain, those opportunities for betrayal, (and even beneficial cooperation), are going to become increasingly scarce.

Do our “elites” not realize that in destroying trust and normalizing betrayal, they’re going to render society increasingly unworkable, create new impediments to progress and, instead of ushering in an era of peace, they’ll be ushering in one of increased feudalism as they begin warring with each other for top spot?

Yea seems many resist. Bottom line is 1st world countries use too much. The amount of junk produced is astonishing. When China banned taking in western scrap sadly other poorer countries started to take it in a ruin their environments. Regardless of where anyone stands on "green energy" (which is a misnomer because solar panels are toxic to dispose of and mining the minerals for lithium batteries is very destructive) – any sane human should want clean water and clean farmland and cleaner air. The best way to do that is use less.

Mumblebrain, how much do you know about the practice of science?

Live measurements of the climate have been made for the last 150 years or so. This, in the terms of the Earth's age, is a relative nothing. Zero. It is therefore extremely sensitive to extrapolate from this data when speaking about rates of change. As for the rest, one must make models to describe what went on, and use alternative means, such as looking at tree rings and snow layers. How precise are these models? How global? How well do they fit together? Are they accurate enough to base sweeping predictions on? Obviously not, as you can see from the newsclip I linked. There are many more like that one.

Anyways – I don't know that humans do not have an influence on the climate (it would be strange if we didn't). What I can see is that it is not science that is practiced when we are dealing with “the science of climate change”. It has become too politicized to be trustworthy, in my estimation – it is not serious science to marginalize opponents while ignoring their arguments. And I do not like the hysteria that surrounds it – making people panicky, shameful, and nervous. It stinks. That it fits into sinister globalist agendas like a hand fits a glove does not make it any better.

What kind of changes we humans might have on the global climate, and how big our influence is compared to other factors (such as solar activity and orbital mechanics), I cannot say. But I do not think it is much, and it is not something I worry about. The changes that are usually described would not be all bad, either – for example, Greenland and Siberia would become very nice places if they became much warmer. Greenland used to be covered with woods, you know...

Note that I still think it is best to treat the environment well – i.e. not pollute, destroy, poison ecosystems. But this is a different thing than global climate.

Why is the first world always the focus in every single climate change discussion?

It is the first world that invented alternative power sources but leftists seem to think Whites need to adopt tiny cars and be childless.

Am I not supposed to notice a connection?

Leftists aren't over in Nigeria asking the men to wear condoms for the sake of the earth.

They want to guilt Whites over driving SUVs and eating meat. Are they in Nigeria asking the men to stop eating goats?

The climate change movement reeks to high heaven of leftist resentment. All of their proposals just happened to be focused on majority White countries. The left tells us that primitive people don't exist and yet they seem to think they can only save the world by controlling White people. Just read any climate change discussion. It's always about how the first world needs to change. No talk of third world birth rates or how Wakanda still doesn't exist despite the fact that Whites left Africa after WW2.

Excuses for third worlders, blame for Whites. Same old left-wing story.

Paleo-climate studies from numerous proxies eg ice-cores, coral cores, tree rings, mud cores etc, are numerous and gathered from around the world. Other proxies, like drop stones from icebergs littering the north Atlantic, giving a clue to the state of Greenland's ice-cap over the millennia, have also been developed. As for models, as REAL scientists say, 'All models are wrong, but some are useful'.

Climate models have vastly improved, thanks to greater data inputs, vastly increased computing power, and refinements of models. It's called 'science'. It has been 'politicised' not by the scientists, who plug on despite the typically deranged Rightist hate and slander campaign directed against them, but by creatures like you, who simply do not like the findings.

Opponents, the few that there are, of the scientific consensus are NOT 'ignored' or 'marginalised' through fear or malice, but because they have NEVER produced useful science, let alone a refutation of the basic theory. They have the entire Rightwing MSM and moronosphere at their disposal, and always have done, and that no doubt confuses the intellectually challenged. Your insouciant disinterest in climate destabilisation amounts to 'Well, if it happens, I'll be dead, so who gives a fuck'. The standard 'moderate' denialist garbage, accompanied by the usual fake 'concern' for the global biosphere, and a truly wicked observation that Siberia and Greenland would be 'very nice', while the tropics become uninhabitable for billions and mid-latitudes suffer weather and climate catastrophes unknown to humanity. You creatures truly are despicable.

The average ignorant Yank cretin probably thinks that war on China, in China's backyard, would be like the 'turkey-shoot' in Iraq, or the martial glory of the triumph in Grenada, Nutmeg Capital of the World. This could be the end of Thanatopia, or of humanity.

No body blaming white when trashes from the those ships show up engulfing swarms of all varieties of sea creatures .

No body blaming white when Apple has to change its charger everything it markets a new products .

No body is blaming whites when the environmental disasters faced by Vietnam or Congo or Somalia or Mexico or Amazon cascade into myriad toxic effects on social , ground water , surface and agricultural lands .

Export crop or cash crop that now defines agricultural landscape of countries from Ethiopia to Honduras damage local climate , destabilize the eco system and lead to exposure to noxious environmental reality .

Puerto Rico has seen the destruction of its environment from the target practice of US military.

Our fast food habit and habit of loving processed food continue to damage the agriculture and food supply across broad swath with additional damages to environment. It allows to discard and throw food that produces methane and diverts resources away from fresh and normal food .

We (west) comprise 1/6 of world population but we consume 30 times more than the rest 5/6.

Add to this the chemical leakage from military site ,corporations and discarding of chemicals by common folks .

Professor of Harvard University Kenneth Rogoff boasts in Davos: “...even in the event of a military defeat of Russia, sanctions should not simply be lifted, since it is necessary to achieve regime change.” This brazen American garbage believes that sanctions should be aimed at bringing Russia to “appalling poverty.”

Let us bring fear, terror and dread to Mr. Rogoff, the scum’s family & friends!

lol Mulga –

this is classic “believe, or go to Hell!”-schtick. It is not science.

I don’t believe it. I have thought about the matter (a great deal, in fact), and have studied it at university level, and discussed it at length with people from both sides. I am not getting my informaton from these groups you mention. And I have come to the conclusions that I presented to you.

We don’t agree, and we don’t have to. Best wishes!

Why has a petrocurrency from the Middle East never emerged? It seems such a natural idea. Not the gold standard, but the oil standard. Have nations that have credible access to near unlimited oil supply print a currency that is convertible into so many ounces/pints of oil. To move beyond fiat currency, you need something that is universally recognized to be of value; at least for now oil is such a commodity in the modern world.
