Peter Bahlawanian je producentem filmu The Desire to Live režisérky/spisovatelky/redaktorky Mariam Avetisyanové . Film, který získal 136 cen ze 72 filmových festivalů po celém světě, je „vizuálně úžasným záznamem dopadu války v roce 2020 na domorodé obyvatele Artsakh“, zobrazující „nejistotu a výzvy zmrzačeného nebo neexistujícího živobytí v regionu zničeném válkou.“

Peter Bahlawanian jako pozadí doporučuje článek „V Artsakh se chystá genocida a Západ si zajistil místo v přední řadě“. Začíná to: „Ázerbájdžánské speciální jednotky a vojenský personál – maskující se jako „environmentalisté“ – zablokovali jedinou silnici spojující Artsakh s Arménií. Účinně přerušili jediné záchranné lano, které Artsakhští Arméni mají vůči vnějšímu světu – záchranné lano zaručené Trilaterálním prohlášením z 10. listopadu 2020. Se 120 000 Armény z Artachu, které je nyní zcela obklíčeno a izolováno, je Ázerbájdžán připraven zbavit se veškeré arménské populace. ...“

Další pozadí z Covert Action Magazine :

„Bidenova administrativa v minulém měsíci odsoudila blokádu, kterou Ázerbájdžánci uvalili na arménskou enklávu Náhorní Karabach, a zároveň prodloužila výjimku na druhý rok v řadě, která umožňuje poskytnout Ázerbájdžánu vojenskou pomoc ve výši 100 milionů dolarů. ...”

This was expected.

The West will gnaw on all of Russia's soft spots to distract her from the SMO in Ukraine. Who is next on the menu:
Georgia, Kaliningrad,
Kazakstan, North
Korea, Serbia, Syria? These regions should find common cause and band together to help Armenia survive.

The Armenians made an existential mistake allowing their leaders to push Russia away. Maybe it is not too late for them.
Sadly, the power hungry Turks are not to be trusted.

Honestly the Armenians should just leave Artsakh, they lost political and military control over land that was never internationally recognised as Armenia. End of story.

The Armenians should prioritise human lives(those in Artsakh) over the land of Artsakh itself.

Support for Azerbaijan offers a way of undermining Iran. Support for Armenia offers no such advantages. Why would Israel permit us to support Armenia?

What's interesting is that we have a pretty substantial and very cohesive Armenian minority — yet they're apparently politically impotent.

Armenians are Christians.... you know, like Europe is supposed to be, and America?

Yet this Godless JEWISH Biden Coup is arming Feckless Moslem Azerbaijanis?

Truly, God is damning America for her faithlessness, on oh, so many levels.

@anyone with a brain

It is historic Armenian Land. Just like Eastern Turkey. The long suffering Armenian people are continually downgraded by the West in favor of Muslin Ajerbjjan, an aggressive, hostile country. Rusia is their only hope.

@Fr. John

The oldest Christian country, whose borders have been retracted by the racist Muslims that surround them. The Biden Administration is supporting a genocide. Not surprising.

Armenians don't hate Whites, and their Congressman is Adam Schiff.

Hope for what?

The continued existence of the Armenian people or for more land?

Words like historic have no meaning, what matters is international recognition of borders and if that can't be established, military and political control of the disputed land.

Azerbaijan since independence has had international recognition of its claim to Artsakh-Karabakh and has recently established military control.

The Armenians need to recognise their loss, no one is going to fight on their claims to land no government recognises as Armenian.

So, do you feel about Russias annexation of Crimea. It was, in fact, historically Russian for several hundred years.

Contemporary borders in no way diminishes the historical lands of Armenia. No matter how much you yearn for that to be true.

@Pastit

I have no feeling about Russia's annexation of Crimea.

The same about Artsakh, if the Armenians take it or lose it, it does not matter to me.

In the cases of Artsakh and Crimea I think foreign powers should not get involved. And the countries should not ask for foreign intervention.

The Armenians should realise their loss and save lives by ceding Artsakh.

This discussion isn't about saving Armenian lives it is about maintaining Armenian control over Artsakh and no foreign country will help Armenia in that goal, because there is no reason to do so, humanitarian or otherwise.
