Jsem velmi potěšen, že mohu oznámit, že Will Jones, redaktor britského webzinu Daily Skeptic, nyní publikoval další důležitý nový článek o původu globální epidemie Covid, v němž prohlašuje, že teorie laboratorních úniků je tak široce přijímaná v kruzích alternativních médií. poslední tři roky „je téměř jistě nepravdivé“.

Proč je teorie úniku v laboratoři téměř jistě nepravdivá

Will Jones • Denní skeptik • 25. ledna 2023 • 1 400 slov

Zakladatel Webzinu Toby Young článek rozeslal na Twitteru svým 250 000 sledujícím a také jej okamžitě znovu publikoval americký Brownstone Institute .

Případ úniku z laboratoře se zdá být robustní: virus je jednoduše navržen a poprvé se objevil ve městě s velkou virovou laboratoří. Ale ve skutečnosti důkazy o tom, že virus unikl z Wuhanského virologického institutu, tam prostě nejsou. <https://t.co/kHUzYLEatY>

— Toby Young (@toadmeister) 25. ledna 2023

Daily Skeptic a Brownstone Institute jsou dvě z předních alt-Covidových publikací z anglosféry a tento nejnovější článek následoval po čtyřech dalších, které dříve křížově publikovali týkající se stejné otázky původu. To také přimělo Briana Mowreyho, spisovatele alt-Covid na Substacku, aby poskytl svůj vlastní přehled všech těchto materiálů.

Půl tuctu podstatných článků zveřejněných během několika týdnů je jistě významný trend. Minulý týden jsem již diskutoval o obrovském potenciálním významu tohoto pokračujícího vývoje a poznamenal, že k obnovenému úsilí konečně odhalit původ epidemie Covid, která si celosvětově vyžádala tolik milionů životů, se nyní připojily přední alt-mediální publikace a veřejné osobnosti.

Komunita Alt-Covid začíná odhalovat původ Covid

Ron Unz • Recenze Unz • 16. ledna 2023 • 4 500 slov

Prof. Jeffrey Sachs z Kolumbijské univerzity je akademik s nejvyšší vážností hlavního proudu, který strávil poslední dva roky jako předseda komise Covid Covid v Lancet . Před několika měsíci se mu dostalo mezinárodní pozornosti, když veřejně naznačil, že virus byl velmi pravděpodobně bioinženýrství, a vyzval k ukončení toho, co odsuzoval jako pokračující vládní pokus zakrýt jeho skutečný původ.

Páni, profesor Jeffrey Sachs:

"Předsedal jsem komisi pro Lancet 2 roky o Covidu. Jsem docela přesvědčen, že to vyšlo z americké biotechnologické laboratoře [...] Nevíme to jistě, ale existuje dostatek důkazů.

[Nicméně] to není vyšetřován, ne v USA, ne nikde." pic.twitter.com/IYvSJnlv1q

Jeho říjnový podcastový rozhovor na Grayzone Maxe Blumenthala se nyní blíží 400 000 zhlédnutí, což je již druhé nejoblíbenější video, jaké kdy bylo na tomto kanálu uvedeno.

Jeffrey Sachs jako spravedlivý rogue slon

Ron Unz • Recenze The Unz • 10. října 2022 • 3 500 slov

Jednotlivci jako prof. Sachs mají obrovskou mezinárodní důvěryhodnost. Mezitím alternativní zdroje jako Daily Skeptic, Brownstone Institute a Grayzone poskytují rostoucí mediální dosah, a to jak přímo, tak prostřednictvím nezávislých novinářů a spisovatelů, které ovlivňují. Dohromady by tato silná kombinace mohla úspěšně zpochybnit mocné zakrývání, které poslední tři roky udržovala americká vláda a její podřízení spojenci z MSM.

Tento vývoj v médiích představuje zásadní doplněk mých vlastních spisů na stejné téma.

Tento nový materiál také podnítil obnovený zájem o mou vlastní analýzu Covid, přičemž mé rozhovory s podcasty z loňského února již tento měsíc dosáhly půl milionu zhlédnutí na Rumble a pravděpodobně dosáhnou celkem 3 milionů během několika příštích dnů.

Every other theory is much worse.

The craziest is — This was some sort of “Attack on China”. Let us go through the disqualifying flaws with that idea.

-1- Why intentionally choose SARS2 — a modified, more contagious coronavirus?

-2- The Crimson Contagion exercise was a failure. It showed that contamination less severe than SARS2 could not be contained and would infect the U.S.

Combine #1 plus #2 and it is immediately obvious that the idea of an “Attack on China” is a non-starter. Intentionally releasing SARS2 might be an “Attack on the Entire Planet”. However, that introduces additional complications.

-3- Why choose Wuhan as the launch point for an “Attack on the Entire Planet”?

-4- Why transport SARS2 from America to China?

Rogue #NeverTrump Globalists would be partners with CCP Elites. Starting a 100% guaranteed global event in China works against the interests of the purported plotters.

If the rogues were targeting “world economic order” or “Trump’s reelection campaign”, why did the plotters not pick something much easier? Stealing SARS2 from America and releasing it at LAX or Heathrow Airport would be more effective and less risky.

-5- Why not obtain SARS2 from WIV, releasing it in Wuhan?

If this was an “attack”, then this is the simplest sequence of events to intentionally contaminate Wuhan, China. Discussion of this obvious option is notably absent.

The sceptic piece contains this:

a major clue may be the fact that multiple U.S. intelligence sources have stated they were following the outbreak in China from November 2019. This is despite China not being aware of the outbreak at that point (U.S. intelligence has even said as much), and there being no detectable signal of such an outbreak.

Which might have been damning, except it is 99%+ bogus/debunked.

The NCMI document is supposed to be from November, but the public did not hear about it until April. That timing is unbelievably absurd. NATO politicians leak like sieves. If ~30 NATO country bloviators (plus additional nations) had received this, we would have heard about it before Christmas.

Also, not a single page of this document has made it into public view. This strongly suggests that the document does not exist. Or, it was misrepresented to the media.

Starting from the perspective that everyone is lying, it is quite simple to understand what things or situations are not. You may not know what the actual situation is, but know what it can't be. The Wuhan lab leak never fit for a myriad of reasons. That the virus was a lab creation was obvious, because there are multiple patents on "corona virus" virtually all of them registered in the US. The fact that the US has, or funds, literally hundreds of military or contracted labs, with restricted access to local governments, around the globe doing "research" of this type makes Wuhan look like a patsy. The captured labs in Ukraine, ignored by the MSM, are more than "bad optics". We may never know the truth, but we will know what the truth isn't.

So your Anglosphere/Zionist Deep State conspiracy gains credibility. What else has the Anglosphere/Zionist Deep State been cooking up in its sick minds and its criminal labs?

Unz isn't on board Conspiracy A, but seems to be on board Conspiracy B. How many of his "critical thinker" brethren are in the same boat? Certainly neocon plunderer of Yeltsin era Russia, the esteemed Prof. Sachs.

You don't get a "little bit" impregnated by Satan. Do you people think anything out, or just pathologically grab for the low hanging fruit? Or maybe in Unz's case, the mid level fruit.

Check below also interesting substack from Brian Mowrey.

The Wuhan lab leak is just the ops “insurance”

<https://unglossed.substack.com/p/lab-leak-op-confirmed>

“Under my paradigm, Wuhan was a stage designed and choreographed for years in advance to foster a great, big distracting “controversy” between a WIV and Huanan origin. Thus, the only reason to release the virus in Wuhan in the first place was to seed this controversy; in other words, Wuhan’s location in China was secondary to the broader aims.

Jones has assembled a compelling overview of Unz’s case that China was the target, not merely a vector for global release, and that Kadlec et al.’s pandemic countermeasures were meant to effect containment, rather than being an end in of themselves. In other words, the orchestrators of this scheme were literal, raging idiots....

... what the Unz-Jones case proposes is that the orchestrators of the virus’s release planned to frame elements of the Public Health Apparatus for SARS-CoV-2, but rather than enticement to commit an actual crime (get WIV to create SARS-CoV-2), left partial exoneration on the table (there is no indication WIV was working on a precursor to SARS-CoV-2). It just simply didn’t occur to this arm of the intelligence community to expect resistance from the other actors in government they were trying to implicate!

On the other hand, perhaps the problem with my theory — that the WIV origin was always meant to be unprovable and therefore suppressible, leading to the construction of a false dichotomy between two fatally flawed theories — is the opposite: It implies that the perpetrators weren’t raging idiots.”

The Wuhan lab is to COVID what Oswald's gun was to JFK, what Sirhan's gun was to RFK, what McVeigh's truck was to OKC, and what a couple of planes carrying 20k gallons of kerosene were to 9/11. In all of these cases, a close or even cursory examination of the facts shows that the patsy couldn't have done the damage.

But the perps know that most people think in terms of general impressions rather than hard facts. Put a quasi-plausible patsy in the general vicinity of the crime, give the Mockingbird media its marching orders, and people can be made to believe, or at least accept, total nonsense.

Almost always, it is fascinating to listen to someone who possesses a powerful intellect on a subject in which that person is interested. Ron Unz is obviously very interested in the science of, and origin of, the outbreak. I am more engaged in discussing the response to the outbreak, but of course those two subjects are linked. As an aside I mention – again – that Erectus Walks Amongst Us, in the controversial HTMLs, is as informative and as astounding as anything you will ever read, and it is for all intents and purposes (because of its information) completely unavailable in a physical format.

let me start by saying that covid is a deliberately engineered bioweapon and that ralph baric holds the patent on its development. imo the wuhan lab was set up to be blamed by baric and fauci, that had moved their illegal gain of function research there and tried to cover the paper trail, by using ngos to fund the project and then lied about that.

with that said, when the “lab leak” scenario is discussed, everyone talks about wuhan but no one talks about ft. detrick, where this research had originated as a darpa project (dead give away, no pun intended) and that ft. detrick had been shut down in 2019 over safety concerns. there is no reason that this couldn’t be a bioweapon and a lab leak as well, they are not mutually exclusive. however i feel this was most likely a deliberately planned attack on china with the intent to blame china for the “lab leak” and carelessness in handling “their” bioweapon, after funding the research in order to plant the evidence.

imo this had been planned for years and one of the primary goals was to use this crisis to ram through their dangerous gain of function mrna based “vaccines” (that they also hold the patent on), that could never have passed full clinical trials and required emergency use authorization and legal indemnity.

Is there anything new here to support Ron's rogue actors theory that I reject on the ground that his "smoking gun" is simply the result of dissident anti Trump intell people cooking up a news drop to embaraass him?

When all the commenters to an anti Pompeo tweet by Prof Lawrence Tribe (as I have pointed out to Ron) don't even mention Ron's charge against him you may also wonder why.

TY, am starting to read it now..

“1. (1) Whenever there is a conflict, there are (at least) two versions. (2) Each side will promote its version and suppress the other versions. (3) The version of the winning side will become the establishment version that most people will accept. (4) If you knew the other versions, in a significant number of cases you would not accept the version of the winning side. (5) Therefore, in order to avoid promoting versions that are against your own interests, you should examine all versions of a conflict before deciding which version to accept..”

I don't think there is much question that Covid-19 was created in a lab, we know that gain of function research was taking place and the virus (the spike protein in particular) has features which make it very unlikely that it had a natural origin.

So how did it get out into the world? there are a few possibilities.

- 1) It escaped from the lab at Wuhan.
- 2) It was deliberately planted at Wuhan as a bioweapon in order to attack the Chinese.
- 3) It escaped elsewhere first but was deliberately taken to Wuhan to shift the blame onto the Chinese.
- 4) The whole thing was pre-planned, the Wuhan leak was done first to pin it on the Chinese but the agenda was always 'vaccine passports', big pharma profits, austerity and the curtailment of civil liberties for the masses.

I don't think any of those can be completely dismissed but I have issues with some of them.

Option 1 – There are indications of foreknowledge, also there are reports that the virus was present too early in other places for that to be the likely first and only release.

Option 2 – Why use a highly mutable coronavirus to attack a specific target? that seems pretty obviously stupid. Who wouldn't have guessed it would end up being a global issue?

Option 3 – Explains its unexpectedly early presence elsewhere and the foreknowledge but I would have expected evidence of mass infection elsewhere, predating the Wuhan outbreak.

I'm going for option 4 – It was a biowarfare attack on humanity at large, they tried to ensure the Chinese got it first and worst but it wasn't only aimed at them. As per usual, every time the banksters have an atrocity planned they have a drill first, event 201.

I think Ron Unz is right about the bioweapon attack but he is wrong to imagine that it was specifically aimed at the Chinese and the Iranians, though they were priority targets. It must have been obvious it would spread worldwide, it was an attack on us all, a naked power grab.

@Wizard of Oz

| Is there anything new here to support Ron's rogue actors theory

Sadly no. What sceptic offers up is this:

| there is no real evidence to support it. After more than three years, no hard evidence has appeared that the virus escaped from —the WIV—.

So the standard is:

there is no real evidence to support it. After more than three years, no hard evidence has appeared that the virus escaped from _____.

Now objectively insert any other option:

⊙ no hard evidence has appeared that the virus escaped from Fort Detrick

⊙ no hard evidence has appeared that the virus escaped from the U.S.

⊙ no hard evidence has appeared that the virus escaped from a lab in Ukraine

All of those options are self evidently less credible than the WIV.

The WUHAN-19 virus appeared in Wuhan, China. The city that hosts the Wuhan Institute of Virology.

All smart, honest analysts will keep WIV #1 until there is “hard evidence” to support the increased complexity of less plausible geographic distribution that requires a multinational conspiracy.

It does not have to be a technical leak. Malfeasance at WIV is at least as (possibly more) probable than failures like, “a scientist broke a test tube”.

I've been saying Ft Detrick was probable for a long time. Why?

1) It's clear COVID was engineered here in the states via some unholy alliance of DoD, Pfizer, and Moderna.

2) The anthrax attack used to threaten congress members into shutting up as to what they knew about the 9/11 Israel connection was traced by to a scientist (Ivins) from Ft Detrick who, surprise surprise, committed suicide before being brought to justice.

Russia, China, and Iran have two ways of holding CIA mad scientists accountable for this crime. Just as in domestic law, you can sue a criminal enterprise or prosecute it, you can do the equivalent in international law.

Viewed one way, US development and use of banned biological weapons in undeclared war is an internationally wrongful act in breach of jus cogens. This US act obligates all UN member nations to stop the US and to impose restitution, compensation with interest, or satisfaction (which may include prosecution or extradition of US suspects.) For SARS2, those remedies would make the Versailles Treaty look like a fix-it ticket, entailing replacement of the criminal state and R2P Pillar II capacity-building that reforms the US government out of existence.

https://www.un.org/en/ga/sixth/74/resp_of_states.shtml

Viewed another way, US development and use of banned biological weapons in undeclared war is a crime against peace, subjecting suspect US officials to prosecution or extradition in any jurisdiction in the world. Note that US obstruction of the International Criminal Court provides no shield; crimes against peace are universal jurisdiction law. The ICC is only one forum for their application.

This approach involves decapitation of the US government with trials of key staff – a postwar tribunal for the WWII that CIA started.

“A half-dozen substantial articles released within just a few weeks is certainly a significant trend. ”

None of these articles are substantial in the slightest. Mr Unz continues on his phantasmagorical mind-trip, let us hope not into an episode of schizophrenia. Perhaps it is a problem of being too intelligent, the tendency to see things that are not there, but hoping they might be. Are statements emanating from US intelligence actually real, who knows? Ditto with statements emanating from the CCP, not to mention virologists and bureaucracies with prestige and fortunes at stake. Why did the CCP immediately close down the WIV and erase all evidence from it? Was this a cunning diversion? Are the CCP and US secretly co-operating? Why didn't the 'rogue group' let loose the manufactured virus in Washington DC, giving the JewSA the perfect opportunity to blame China so as to start a new war? The speculative options continue to proliferate. Perhaps new more cogent theories and narratives will gain traction.

Because it isn't? It was blatantly engineered. We have hard proof of that. The nature of its release is an event which happened, and therefore can be proven through external evidence.

This seems more and more like the same old human story, dressed up in a new high-tech narrative. A struggle for power using any means necessary to get to the top. They play similar tricks to Aztec priests who used predictable events such solar eclipses to convince their audience that they could bring back the sun.

I seriously think they study outbreaks of disease in places where previous outbreaks were found to be more likely to have had their start, parts of Asia with high population density and other contributing factors seem to be a good bet. The idea is to identify the next “big” disease ASAP, that way they can cobble together a barely passable vaccine or treatment that has little therapeutic value in record time. It’s not really about treatment, they make their money and there is also ample opportunity to experiment with social engineering, strike the iron while it’s hot.

Most people have a vague understanding of science, and they will be too intimidated by “experts” to effectively raise their intuitive feelings of unease about the situation they suddenly find themselves in. The Aztec trick is their knowledge of the timeline of the average pandemic. They know that eventually people build natural resistance to new diseases. That’s when they tell people that herd immunity is the proof that their treatments and containment measures paid off.

I believe that they can manipulate genetics, but I think they can only rearrange things to see what happens, they (probably) can’t (yet) put together a designer virus with predictable results.

The response to the lab leak people is IRAN. And no other.

For, it is IRAN that got hit the hardest, the fastest, and from no apparent source. Back in May 2020, when Johns Hopkins reported 14,000,000 cases of Covid, the prime minister of Iran reported 15,000,000 cases in Iran alone! We recall how every single Iranian parliament member came down with Covid at the same time. The entry of Covid to the United States originated from Iran through Europe, not China. All fingers point toward Israeli and/or American espionage.

Somewhat OT:

On Thursday 26th January, Project Veritas published an edited video of Jordon Trishton Walker, Director, Worldwide R&D Strategic Operations and mRNA Scientific Planning at Pfizer, Inc., talking about the company's research into "Directed Evolution" (aka "gain of function") of Covid. The video is a bit disjointed, and jumps between research that Pfizer is doing and things that have not gone beyond discussion.

https://mobile.twitter.com/Project_Veritas/status/1618405890612420609

Project Veritas has checked the credentials of Walker, and he is real (i.e. not a hoaxer):

<https://mobile.twitter.com/JamesOKeefeIII/status/1618435991211233282>

He has also been investigated and verified by Brian O'Shea:

<https://brianoshea.substack.com/p/who-is-jordon-trishton-walker>

Needless to say the statements of Pfizer executive Dr Walker disagree with the company's PR, and the company's lawyers have been working hard to suppress the story: articles in Mail Online and msn.com have disappeared. DuckDuckGo had search results for "Jordon Trishton Walker" 15 hours ago, but now the page is blank. Google is still showing useful search results.

Twitter is allowing the story; other social media sites are not so receptive. Their "independent fact checkers" cannot dispute that these are the words of a Pfizer executive: all they can do is shadow-ban the story.

Sen. Marco Rubio has written to the CEO of Pfizer to express his concern.

Could be they were assured by experts that the virus will scythe through the targets and then a month later mutate into a less harmful version by the time it reaches places that matter.

Could be they were assured by experts that the vaccine is ready and the virus will not be a problem in the places that matter.

Could be they were assured by experts that since SARS never really escaped China, SARS 2 will also be confined to its initial targets.

These days you got enough experts to assure you of anything you're paying them to assure you of.

| Individuals such as Prof. Sachs possess enormous international credibility.

By which we mean no credibility at all, yes? “International” is a strong negative modifier.

| Prof. Jeffrey Sachs of Columbia University is an academic of the highest mainstream respectability who had spent the last two years as chairman of the Lancet’s Covid Commission.

Ah, so indeed the credibility is deeply negative. Anything he supports should be discredited by any honourable thinker.

| Webzine founder Toby Young Tweeted out the piece to his 250,000 followers, and it was also immediately republished by America’s Brownstone Institute.

Popularity, likewise, is a negative epistemic indicator. E.g. taking the vaccine was very popular – I’ve heard upwards of 90% of Americans took at least one – and a very terrible idea.

| A half-dozen substantial articles released within just a few weeks is certainly a significant trend.

Usually indicates a financially-driven propaganda drive. It’s not rational convergence, it’s coordination. Many megaphones, but one microphone.

By the way what really happened was that the world in general pissed off Heaven and, as is often the case, Heaven’s wrath came in the form of a plague. If it wasn’t one place it would have been another. Heaven deliberately chose something which does not and cannot have a vaccine, for example.

The best part is almost all the damage was self-inflicted. It wasn’t caused by the virus, it was caused by impiety, especially Pride.

Perhaps it is a problem of being too intelligent, the tendency to see things that are not there, but hoping they might be.

I can almost always win a debate even if I'm wrong. A big talker, you might say.

I tested it with the whole devil's advocate thing. If I argue for something I know in advance is wrong, do I win? Yeah, yeah I do.

If you're smart you can conveniently "forget" that the social rules of debate aren't nearly stringent enough to make it a reliable epistemic tool. (You can fix it but nobody uses that level of discipline.) Then declare that nobody has better arguments than you do. Or nobody but "low-credibility" fringe types, at least (meaning low-prestige). Just go ahead and privilege social status over experimental status – nobody but loser fringe types will call you on it, after all.

Thank you as always, Ron.

I spent most of 2020 explaining in comments how foolish and rabid the China-haters (mostly Republican Blumpfsuckers) had become in the wake of the GOP-made-and-released-bioweapon known as COVID-19.

In my opinion, China should seek out reparations from the American working class. Additionally, Republican Humiliation and kowtowing at this point will be an essential part of the US white's apology to the Shining Party on a Hill.

China has the assets and soft-power to do this. I hope they wait until the recession starts firmly hurting white Americans to the point where they cannot feed their families. Then they must be forced to bend the knee for scraps.

Somewhat OT:

On Thursday 26th January, Project Veritas published an edited video of Jordon Trishton Walker, Director, Worldwide R&D Strategic Operations and mRNA Scientific Planning at Pfizer, Inc., talking about the company's research into "Directed Evolution" (aka "gain of function") of Covid. The video is a bit disjointed, and jumps between research that Pfizer is doing and things that have not gone beyond discussion.

Well, I watched a little of the video and the guy just seemed like an idiot, spouting off after having a couple of drinks. I'd be very skeptical about believing anything he says, and despite his fancy title, I really wonder how much he really knows about anything. Apparently, although he has a medical degree, his main recent role has been as a marketing consultant.

As for anything he says about the Wuhan lab, maybe he got it by listening to Steve Bannon's podcast or something like that.

Obviously, everyone who hates Pfizer automatically believes every boastful statement by some Pfizer executive, but I think that sort of casual video evidence is very weak.

Just as you indicated, this was certainly off-topic, but since the video has gotten a lot of play, I thought I should respond.

I agree that the lab leak theory is certainly false, but that is because Covid had a natural origin. It did not come from Wuhan or any other lab, either accidentally or intentionally. It is quite clear now that Covid-19 was circulating at a low level in human populations for months if not years before the events in Wuhan that drew the world’s attention. It is a very ordinary respiratory virus that causes cold-like symptoms and is easily survived by 99.73% of those infected. There is nothing whatsoever unusual about Covid-19. Why should we surmise it had an unnatural origin?

FWIW —

For those who remember “The Spartacus Letter” from a couple of years ago, announcing the nefarious activities surrounding the whole pandemic and going into quite a lot of scientific detail about the disease, its author (who is quite obviously a scientist of some sort and well qualified to assess the evidence), had started a Substack a while ago. Could be they were assured by experts that since SARS never really escaped China, SARS 2 will also be confined to its initial targets.

These days you got enough experts to assure you of anything you're paying them to assure you of.

But the Covid-19 virus was highly contagious and if the pathogen that causes Covid 19 was created as a bioweapon to be used on China, then the extremely high degree of human–human transmission peculiar to the Covid-19 pathogen was the main design feature built in to it, and that could hardly be done by anyone who was not trying to.

Baric is known to have showed Wuhan researchers and no others in China how to create new and more contagious SARS-like coronaviruses. So Wuhan was not merely “a” city where virus research took place, it was the city in China where new bat origin coronaviruses were experimentally made more dangerous..

Whether theories fit like a glove or not is not so relevant. Facts from the past up to now show, that some US types in power have no qualms to use diseases and selective contaminations to further their objectives. From air delivered defoliants and poisons for Vietnam and swine and bird flu for attacking the Chinese food staples, to experiments even on their own unsuspecting citizens. And if their own president orders them to halt further virologic tinkering, they just outsource it to paid labs abroad or set up their own out of US law's reach, in corrupt shitholes like the Ukraine. Theses about Blumphian China haters are academic. This bears all the hallmarks of US world manipulation and making money from it while they're at it. The world is starting to realize this. When the USD is no longer king and the US hegemony is crumbling, the US grip on world press and data distribution will loosen also. All the shit the US has brought us in the past century, will gradually come out into the open. That will be a point of no return, as it will also prove that the BRICS initiative was right and just all along.

Straight from the shoulder, with no remorse:

Baric, Dazak, Fauci, and Bat Lady are manipulated into GoF research by TPTB to concoct a virus that:

1). They already have piddled with at Ft. Detrick in Maryland

2)Have concocted a mRNA vax against replete with nanoparticles therein

3)the virus social distancing and masking allows for paper ballots to be sent out ensuring massive Democrat vote fraud

4)The masking allows for masked people to go out and foment a color revolution psyop without fear of cameras enabling facial recognition, unleashing Antifa, BLM, and just plain attention-seeking lefties indulging in moral preening to go rioting

5)Allowed some feds to hide their faces in Trump regalia on the planned January 6th psyop with Ralph Nichols and his bullhorn on the tower leading enough of the gullible to actually enter the capital, tarnishing America-first candidates in the future.

6)The vaxxed will show a lessened fertility over time, will push a few oldsters to earlier deaths (saving on Social Security and Medicare costs), and will continue to increase mortality (another 25 year old NFL football player just died yesterday)

7)The nano particles in the vaxx might be very interesting when all those 5G towers get built. What might be going on there? Hmmmmm. Our PTB would never do _____, right?

8)Project Veritas just recorded a Pfizer employee who thought he was on a internet date admitting they are manipulating the virus in monkeys who pass it back and forth trying to make it mutate so that yearly boosters for new strains will be a permanent revenue stream.

9)The Vax gets into the lymphatic system and somehow seems to weaken the immune system against other things, so a particularly nasty new flu strain could really be a big nice population reducing bug in coming years to go along with the increasing strokes, myocardial infarctions, myocarditis, cancers, Barre syndromes, etc.

What is there for the WEF/WHO/budding NWO not to like? It's all good, right-o!

Director, Worldwide R&D Strategic Operations and mRNA Scientific Planning

Well, I watched a little of the video and the guy just seemed like an idiot, spouting off after having a couple of drinks.

Yes, he is clearly an idiot, and I expect that this morning he is an unemployed idiot.

Can we learn anything at all from his boasting? I think we can, but chiefly about the chatter and shared beliefs at Pfizer, rather than an authoritative description of Pfizer's research. Walker cannot know how the virus originated, though it would not be surprising if scientists at Pfizer and elsewhere believe that it originated in a laboratory, and then pick WIV as the nearest candidate. They realize that "gain of function" is bad, but they still want to do it, so they give it a new name, "directed evolution". The research program that he describes does not make a lot of sense, because it is difficult to predict how the virus will evolve. Developing a vaccine for a lab-grown variant would be futile unless the variant were deliberately released into the wild – and I don't believe that even Pfizer is that evil. Gain of function research would not be performed on monkeys as Walker describes, but on ferrets or "humanized mice".

Above all we learn that Pfizer is not very careful about its appointments. Director, Worldwide R&D Strategic Operations and mRNA Scientific Planning. Two levels below the CEO in the reporting chain. Really?

I wonder how Pfizer is persuading the media not to run the story. The video genuinely shows one of its executives talking mostly rubbish about the company. Pfizer has deep pockets, and perhaps it threatens to sue even though its case is weak. Perhaps it appeals to the need to maintain public confidence in the vaccines. Whatever its strategy, it seems to have worked: its share price did not tank yesterday.

Produce evidence for your assertion that it was circulating in the population for months if not years?

How do you explain the Moderna patented strand of DNA at the virus' furin cleavage site which is part of the spike protein and makes it human transmissible?

Here's a scientific study proving that it has a Moderna patented strand of DNA at its furin cleavage site:

<https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fviro.2022.834808/full>

Here's Fox News' Maria Bartiromo confronting the CEO of Moderna about the Moderna patented strand of DNA, here he does not deny it, he says his people are looking into it and that the virus may have come from a lab. How would Moderna not know that the virus has a Moderna patented strand of DNA at its furin cleavage site, seeing as they use the spike protein's (includes Modernas patent) DNA sequence to code the mRNA injection to make the body manufacture the spike protein? In addition, if the virus is natural then Modernas patent needs to be rescinded, because you can't patent something that is naturally occurring, if the virus is not natural then Moderna owns a part of the virus:

If that guy indeed works for Pfizer and if indeed what he says is true, Pfizer's labs need to be seized and shut down. It's Earth shaking if what he says is true.

If he works at Pfizer or consults for them in any way, the government and Pfizer need to address the video and present their case, if they don't, people are going to assume, rightfully, that what he said was true.

You said: "Obviously, everyone who hates Pfizer automatically believes every boastful statement by some Pfizer executive, but I think that sort of casual video evidence is very weak".

If he works for Pfizer and what he says is not addressed by the government and by Pfizer, then nothing else matters, including your "the government attacked China and Iran" with the virus (as if the virus was somehow isolated to China and Iran) theory. Come on Ron, you still think that there were a million plus Covid deaths in America although it's well known that they have been marking every death a Covid death as long as the person tests positive for Covid.

You said: "As for anything he says about the Wuhan lab, maybe he got it by listening to Steve Bannon's podcast or something like that". It was President Trump that brought up Wuhan in 2020, the "WuFlu", the "ChinaVirus". Wuhan was the governments Al-Queda post 9/11, it was the go-to bogeyman. It might of come from the Wuhan lab and EcoHealth Alliance etc, but if it was intentionally released it was released to harm not only China and Iran, that much is obvious.

Why are we obsessed with beating the dead horse?

So much time was spent debating if the Covid was a man made or natural virus? Instead of listening to professionals with appropriate background, experience, and credentials public was forced to swallow opinions instead of facts.

What will happen if it is a man made virus? or natural? or a bioweapon? released from China or US or Mars, so what? what would happen? Does anyone know? This is all a distraction. Are we going to put the culprits in jail for their crimes? Doubt it.

Bits and Pieces:

Newly released documents show show Covid project was a DOD/DHS project initialed in 2005 onward.

400 documents (not 400 pages) released under FOIA showed (interestingly enough) several contacts were issued how to use media for mis and dis information. And ABOVE ALL how to keep it secret (3 or four companies were awarded contracts to keep it secret.

Under Obama rules were made to call anyone one involved in Future covid pandemic project to be recognized as Govt employee (delivery man, manufacturer, supplier, blah blah blah)
Why

Moderna was awarded to develop a vaccine for upcoming vaccine. Russian involvement (financial gains)

If the virus was so lethal then why were rules bent to fit the crime. Nancy Pelosi, Diane Feinstein and many others were running around without masks at the airport? Not afraid of Boogeyman from the Indonesian islands or now coronavirus.

People could not attend churches but go to stores to buy alcohol or get this, OK to take off your mask in any restaurants???? Maybe Coronavirus was on its lunch hours in eating places. and in a mood to attack anyone eating Where was simple logic? Yes there was fear of retaliation but at least people should have talked openly Tons of evidence of manipulation of numbers. My favorite was the motorcycle accident. Cause of death: Coronavirus and death not by accident, or now another beauty ! in Nottingham, UK. . The suicide victim! cause of death “on death certificate” Coronavirus The dead body was not released until the relatives agreed and accepted the cause of death to be Coronavirus.

Why does an individual have to listen to non qualified “experts” or whistle blowers like “the great Jeffery Sachs” when they can see through by simple logic.

Hurray for people who use their brain to think.

Therefore the fact that they haven't started bombing someone in retaliation means that they or one of their allies did it.

We know from early in the pandemic that western think tanks and the IC were all projecting that the west was most prepared to weather it. A lot of western deep staters are high on their own supply. If you look at things like the Afghanistan papers, you can only conclude that many/most of these people actually believe their own BS.

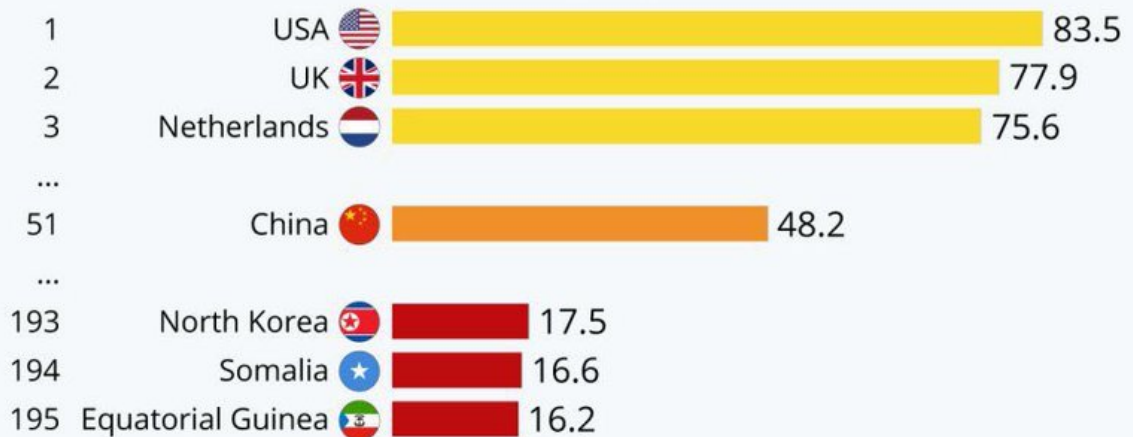

Exactly. And since the American MSM dominates the world, all the international organizations believed the same thing, so American policy-makers were living in an echo-chamber, believing their own propaganda:

The circumstantial evidence mounts: SARS-CoV-2 in Iran, vaping deaths among young men and nursing home deaths in eastern US in August 2019, the Baric gain-of-function research paper in 2015, outsourcing that research to Wuhan by Daszrak, the patents for the virus and “vaccines,” the Plandemic announced by Fauci and Gates in 2017, the simulation Event 201 in October 2019, the poor US performance in Wuhan military games that same month, the suppression of early and effective treatments using HCQ and ivermectin, and a paucity of Congressional investigation except for Sen. Ron Johnson. I don’t think we will ever get a clear definitive answer to the exact release of SARS-CoV-2, but we clearly have bogus cover stories.

If Event 201 was a dress rehearsal for the outbreak, and if there was a government rep from China present, does the theory of a Neocon bio-attack against China still hold? Another interesting aspect is the shift in focus from Event 201 to Crimson Contagion, which had no foreign representation. This might further validate the notion of a Neocon bio-attack.

Event 201 received massive early coverage by the gullible “anti-globalists” of the alt-media, but it obviously had nothing to do with the Covid outbreak. International organizations had been periodically holding various pandemic preparedness exercises for decades, at least since the SARS outbreak, and the particular timing was probably just coincidental.

However, Crimson Contagion, which received almost zero alt-media coverage, is far more suspicious. It was run by Robert Kadlec, for decades America’s leading biowarfare advocate, and he spent eight months preparing federal/state authorities for defense against a dangerous respiratory virus that might suddenly appear in China and then possibly leak into the US. A few weeks after the end of the exercise, Covid suddenly appeared in Wuhan. As I said, extremely suspicious timing, and it’s also quite suspicious that the alt-media totally ignored all of this evidence for almost three years.

I should emphasize that there’s absolutely no reason to believe that anyone connected with Crimson Contagion had any knowledge of the planned biowarfare attack against China. However, it’s quite plausible that the conspirators might have used their influence to encourage such defensive exercises, which also helps to explain the coincidental timing of Event 201.

There is zero data proving that the virus was “released” or “leaked”, except for some possible circumstantial evidence pointing at the pandemic being planned in one way or another, but, in reality, for the planned pandemic to work, they didn’t really need a deadly disease, just a scary name for a supposedly new virus. Any virus or pathogen would do, if adequate tests were created.

Instead, there is tons of evidence indicating that lockdowns, and mask and vaccine mandates, had lots of negative effects in society, including an increase in general diseases and death. This is easily verifiable.

For the life of me, I can’t see why to continue with this pointless discussion about “the origins of the virus”, when the problem is another one completely, and, in fact, didn’t even require a virus (if that worked better, they would have instituted lockdowns for “global warming”, and a vaccine against “Russian mind control rays”, or something).

If the guy works for Pfizer and if what he says is true this is why it is Earth shaking and their labs need to be shut down.

In 2020 Covid-19 was acknowledged to be present in America. In December of 2020 they started the distribution of the “vaccine”. The “vaccine” was supposed to be a perfect match for the spike protein that was present in the virus. The “vaccine” failed. It is horrible at its publically intended purpose. Not only is it horrible at its publically intended purpose but it also causes adverse events including disability and death. The unvaccinated since the beginning have had the superior protocol.

The virus’ mutations are most likely occurring in the “vaccinated” because the “vaccine” is not preventative, it is a leaky non-sterilizing “vaccine” that produces the spike protein in the body which the virus then mutates to work around. There are scientific papers on this. Not only is it a leaky “vaccine” but according to virologists you are not supposed to “vaccinate” in the middle of a pandemic as it causes mutations to occur. Common sense alone tells you who the people are that are in all probability causing the mutations, it’s not the unvaccinated because our natural immunity is superior to the “vaccines” immunity, it is the “vaccinated” who are the ones who are contracting Covid over and over again, not the unvaccinated, at least not at the same rate.

With that in mind, what this purported Pfizer executive said was that Pfizer is contemplating purposefully infecting monkeys with the current variant and then having those monkeys infect other monkeys over and over again so that they will eventually produce a mutation, which Pfizer can then detect and sequence its genome and then manufacture a “vaccine” with the same sequence as their predicted sequence, and then when human beings eventually produce another variant Pfizer will be ready with a “vaccine” that is ready to go quickly. But, that’s only if Pfizers theory is correct that mutating viruses in monkeys will produce the same result as mutating viruses in human, which I highly doubt would occur, and even if it did occur the results you would get would be a repeat of the 2020 results which were a complete failure. If the mutated virus from monkeys did not match the mutated virus from humans their theory of monkey mutated viruses matching human mutated viruses would prove to be false, at which point Pfizer, next time, a few months down the line, be compelled to release their monkey mutated virus into the wild so that it would become the dominant human virus at which point Pfizer could release their matching “vaccine”, but again, it would only be a repeat of 2020 and the whole fraud of the “vaccine” somehow being successful.

Anyone who buys into what’s currently happening and what Pfizer appears to be contemplating is setting themselves up for a lifetime of “booster” shots and Pfizer will be setting themselves up for a lifetime of profit. People who get the “boosters” over and over will eventually have their entire immune system collapse as the body is manufacturing different spike proteins year after year, repeatedly taxing the bodies innate immune system and risking adverse events including disability and death with every “booster”.

If you liked 2020, and thought it was successful, then go for it, what the Pfizer executive said is 2020 every year of your life until you die. Us unvaccinated people, we’re not doing 2020 anymore, no more being shamed, no more masking, no more social distancing, no more lockdowns, no more “vaccine” passports, no more discrimination, none of it, it’s over with for us.

I want to add to my comment here that if Pfizer is indeed contemplating doing what this executive says they are contemplating the monkeys that they plan on using to mutate the virus with will in all probability first be “vaccinated” with the “vaccine” and then they will be infected with the virus and then those monkeys will infect other “vaccinated” monkeys until a new variant appears.

“Vaccinated” monkeys creating variants that will match the variants that humans who are “vaccinated” will eventually make on their own as it is the “vaccinated” human beings who are in all probability the ones who are creating the variants.

@Notsofast: What I rarely see discussed is- and you touch on it here- is why the Chinese permitted this research to be conducted on their territory. This, to me, is the most bizarre feature of all of this.

They can't possibly be so naive. Or were they fooled by some bait and switch. Is this why there are sporadic lockdowns in China until suddenly the government announces China has herd immunity and it's no longer a concern.

Unfortunately, I've never had a chance to go there and see the place first hand, but it does seem that the Chinese state is at least as adept at perception management as the GAE (Global American Empire). Was this all a play for big bucks for Pharma that went sideways and caused more panic than it was meant to? A plot to cull the herd and save valuable resources for the Young Gods of the WEF? A scheme to propagate an ethnically specific nano-virus to disrupt China?

The only really provable result of all this has been chaos and a realignment of multiple layers of power.

agree with you on #4, but imo there was more than one strain. they were working on this for years and remember in the end they admitted their tests couldn't really differentiate between covid and the flu. they may have engineered individual strains based on genetics as suggested by the pnac manifesto (which could explain why they have so many labs around the world). that's what the russians strongly suggested about the labs in ukraine and the iranians formally accused the u.s. of a bioweapons attack.

Covid-19 does not exist, it is an illusion concocted by the WEF, the Rockefeller and Gates Foundations, UN Agenda 2030, see UN.org, the WHO, the CDC, etc., etc., to scare people into taking the genocide MRNA clot shot and is a depopulation agenda.

What covid-19 aka certificate of vaccination identification 2019 is, is the flu and colds and pneumonia renamed and the inventor of the PCR test Kary Mullis said that the test was not to be used for diagnosis , he died ie conveniently, in August 2019 before the rollout of the covid-19 scam.

There has been over 5 million illegals let into America in the 2 years the Biden regime has been in power and NOT ONE of these illegals has been made to take the MRNA genocide shot, ie the elites are not afraid of covid-19 because they know it does not exist and neither does any of the covid-19 variants exist, it is all a scam and a psyop and a depopulation agenda.

The white race is being killed and replaced by illegals, see UN.org and their UN Dept of Economic and Social Affairs Population Replacement Agenda , this is the plan!

A reference has to be made to Larry's article from March 2020.

<https://www.unz.com/lromanoff/chinas-coronavirus-a-shocking-update-did-the-virus-originate-in-the-us/>

To quote entirely from the article :

The man in the video is a top virologist and pharmacologist who performed a long and detailed search for the source of the virus. He spends the first part of the video explaining the various haplotypes (varieties, if you will), and explains how they are related to each other, how one must have come before another, and how one type derived from another. He explains this is merely elementary science and nothing to do with geopolitical issues, describing how, just as with numbers in order, 3 must always follow 2.

One of his main points is that the type infecting Taiwan exists only in Australia and the US and, since Taiwan was not infected by Australians, the infection in Taiwan could have come only from the US.

The basic logic is that the geographical location with the greatest diversity of virus strains must be the original source because a single strain cannot emerge from nothing. He demonstrated that only the US has all the five known strains of the virus (while Wuhan and most of China have only one, as do Taiwan and South Korea, Thailand and Vietnam, Singapore, and England, Belgium and Germany), constituting a thesis that the haplotypes in other nations may have originated in the US.

Has anyone heard the theory that “covid” is actually just preserved old cold/flu strains from prior decades? And then they are released after people’s immunity had either moved on or hadn’t encountered the earlier strains?

The reason a theory along those lines is appealing to me is because I actually don’t think the technology is good enough for the establishment/zog (etc) to actually create or meaningfully modify existing pathogens.

likely bio engineered and called for an end to what he condemned as an ongoing governmental attempt to cover-up its true origins.

There is a giant difference between a leak and intentional infliction.

Ron Unz argues the former. Jeffrey Sacks argues the later.

what is not a question is that

1. non human organizations (NHOs) (governments and private corporations) were used as fronts designed to use mRNA genetics to engineer changes into the bodies of virtually the whole human population on earth.

2. the massive marketing schemes conducted by the nation states on behalf of the vaccine providers demonstrate a need for humans to discover how to prevent this ever again to happen?

3. the failures of the NHOs (WHO and local to nation state health organizations). I don't care what any NHO says, without timely, full disclosure, easily accessible information made accessible to all members of the public in different formats suitable for understanding to the backgrounds and expertise of everyone about these experiments, humanity is rendered nothing short of being "rats in an experimental cage". Instead of full disclosure, Humanity experienced suppression of arriving information , denial of facts and intimidation against dissent.

4 . the many would be claims concerning damage inflicted by mRNA gene experiments were preempted by what was claimed to be emergency legislation.

5. the outcomes of this mRNA gene altering experiment conducted on living human beings will be in question for many years to come.

America does not need reparations. It needs good jobs at good wages. The WUHAN-19 virus that escaped from a CCP laboratory has accelerated trans-Pacific decoupling and MAGA Reindustrialization.

However, routinely demanding reparations from the CCP is a great method that should be used heavily by American and European politicians. It keeps the focus on the dangerous regime in Beijing that created the global WUHAN-19 coronavirus catastrophe. If that pressure is not maintained, CCP shills will try to shift the blame elsewhere.

The only way for WIV to wriggle off the hook is to conclusively and irrefutably identify an individual lab elsewhere as the source. And, there is not a single shred of “hard evidence” pointing to a specific facility in the U.S. or Ukraine.

I had forgotten a lot of what I wrote in another site in 2020, but I remember some important points:

Chain 1: Dr Ralph Baric played a very crucial role in developing this virus in North Carolina, bringing in a deputy from China, She Zhengli, (who later became famous as the Bat Woman, who asserted till end (she was rubbed clean off public media by the Chinese government, so her present status is not known) that Cover 19 was not made in the lab,) and later transferred the virus to a Canadian lab, from where two Chinese researchers “stole” it to China, where it was kept in Wuhan lab, from where it leaked out.

Chain 2: all this is true, but all this is only a “parallel construction” – a public conduit for the virus to Wuhan; whereas the same virus was sent to China by Dr Fauci himself, when Gain of Function researches were banned in America, and groomed in the Wuhan lab, and either escaped when an infected animal was sold for meat instead of destruction, or released by a saboteur on instructions from America (Chinese government line).

Chain 3: the virus was developed by Dr Baric from the SARS virus isolated in 2012 from a middle eastern patient, passed through generations of meerkat or some rodent, and when it escaped from custody, started an epidemic at Fort Detrick, and was carried to China by soldiers participating in a world-military-games held in Wuhan; whether the soldiers carried it accidentally or intentionally is not clear, according to this theory.

The Furin Cleavage Site is a clear sign that this virus is man-made; this piece of virus anatomy is not found in any of the cousin strains of SARS Covid -2 virus, but found in HIV. For this sequence to jump as a whole to another virus is a miracle at par with Joe Biden winning the 2020 elections.

As in any other monstrously huge conspiracy, many parallel cabals are trying to take advantage of the events. May be there are a few humans acting as links between these cabals, but, on the whole, these cabals are not aware of each others' plans or course of action.

1. Grooming virus as bioweapons for depopulation seems to be the agenda of one group,
2. using one such virus to inflict an economic hit on China seems to be the agenda of another,
3. using the spread of that virus to hit Iran seems to be yet another,
4. creating panic and curtailing freedoms seems to be the agenda of some other cabal,
5. using the panic to steal the elections is for one more group, and finally,
6. using this virus to test mRNA on people, and looting people in the name of vaccines seems to be the agenda of the big pharma.

I really doubt even the most ingenious evil brain could have designed all these at once. Some improvisation is inevitable, but I should say the evil genius almost succeeded, but for Putin breaking the spell with his SMO.

good question, it may be a matter of keep your friends close and your enemies closer but there have been many shakeups in chinese leadership in the last three years. the thing that stands out most to me, is that the chinese went their own way in developing a traditional vaccine rather than mrna based frankenvaxx that was imposed on the rest of the world. to me this indicates they don't trust the west (gee i wonder why?) and their captured health organizations. the russian response was more puzzling to me, as they chose to develop their own mrna based sputnik "vaccine" , although i'm really not familiar with it and don't know if it is exactly the same technology or any similar adverse affects.

I totally agree. Covid19 is a new scary name for old symptoms.
This whole discussion is pointless.

I see no reason to think that any virus has been rampaging about any more than usual. All that's different is the massive fuss generated by the media and govts, and the vast profits handed to the likes of Pfizer.

We know that they were wildly exaggerating "covid deaths". We know that the "test" didn't work, particularly when they ramped the cycles up. What we don't know (and can never know due to the obfuscation of data from previously reliable sources) is how many people actually did die of covid19 and only of covid19. Did any?

We also know that there aren't piles of plague victims all over the place, even though the masks were useless and social distancing was totally inadequate. No one dropping dead in the street since those propaganda videos from China in the very beginning.

They didn't need a real deadly virus to do any of this. Just a re-brand of something or other, a fake test and a LOT of PR.

Well done to produce fodder for the live imagination. Ron shouldn't have called them "rogues" because they were the most profoundly public spirited carers for humanity. Seeing the dangers of war around the world which would kill millions of the young and able they started a pandemic that would, at the cost of a few million deaths amongst the old and obese, at least postpone war amongst rational actors.

Sure let's do a deep sci-fi dive, it's free:)

Sars CoV-2 was 1] man made; and 2] released into the wild. And, as I see it — thus was not, to be very specific: a ‘lab leak’.

Was its release into the wild on-purpose, by accident, other?

Obvious questions. . . released into the wild: By whom, why, when, how? etc. — these must be explicated. And did this occur on purpose or by accident or other, such as ignorance. . . what was the intent, here?

The Project Veritas succeeded: in this perhaps true [or false] information that Pfizer is or wants to create their own mutation so as to create matching vaccine to fight it.

PV interview outright failed, since the obvious question was to ask how the Pfizer-created mutation would be spread to people, so that the company could use this as Cash Cow. Absent this link, the entire interview, rendered meaningless.

Not asking this most important question is a limited hangout by definition. And/or not showing what this man said in response to that question if this was asked, ditto.

I believe that it would be enlightening to see the x-rays belonging to the sufferers of the vaping disease from 2019, being analysed by the ai program that had been developed to diagnose covid lung disease. Apparently it is rather easy to medically confuse covid for the evaping sickness.

Vaping disease first popping up several states over from a US bio lab that later in the year is shut down for six months, and the respiratory lung disease breaking out at the old people's home.

Of course, let's remember that early on, genetic testing of the virus showed that an older strain was found in the US.

On second thoughts, maybe those early x-rays had better not be analysed.

The Great Barrington Declaration* has been signed by tens of thousands professional life scientists. Why cannot the Unz Hunch at least garner a few signors? For example, Unz:

1. Invokes Nicholas Wade. Why not get Wade to support his version of an intentional biodrop?
2. Adores (!?!?) Jeffry Sachs. Assuming time is of some essence, where is Sachs on this?
3. Posits covid is a bioweapon. Why not join up with Dr. Richard Fleming? He is a prominent life scientist and is also trying to get out the message that covid is a GMO weapon.

Of course, for me, the only way the Unz Hunch would ever begin to gain credibility is when it explains the subsequent, epic-level malfeasance committed against the many peoples of the world. Not least of which is the campaign to jab the planet with an experimental product now known to be neither safe or effective. Something more is going on.

* <https://gbdeclaration.org/>

I do not share Unz's veneration of Sachs. After reading the entire 50+ page Lancet Covid 19 Commission report and being unable to locate any mention of a) Lancetgate, or b) the Great Barrington Declaration and other similar massive cornerstones of dissent... I am sure it is a whitewash written in bureaucratese meant for unthinking sops. The "incendiary" mention of a lab leak is nothing but a ruse.

Non-scientist staff at WIV are not particularly well paid. A likely scenario for the release is — A small group of building maintenance and security guards were stealing apparently healthy animals from the destruction queue. They then sold them at the Wuhan Wet Market. This could have been going on for months.

The release occurred when they stole animals infected with FCS enhanced SARS2. This explains both the source “WIV” and the hot spot “Wet Market”. One of the petty conspirators took a few animals to a place where they could easily be exchanged for cash.

Much depends on what you call “a leak.” The virus did originate in a lab as their are genetic sequences that do not occur naturally. The “leak” may have been accidental (unlikely) or intentional (more likely).

The lab story is almost certainly true, however. Mr. Unz is not a trustworthy source on this stuff.

Option 2 – Why use a highly mutable coronavirus to attack a specific target? that seems pretty obviously stupid. Who wouldn't have guessed it would end up being a global issue?

SARS-CoV-2 is indeed highly mutable, as it's an RNA virus. Perhaps a DNA virus is far too stable, and the gain-of-function work on it would have been too hard?

I think Ron Unz is right about the bioweapon attack but he is wrong to imagine that it was specifically aimed at the Chinese and the Iranians, though they were priority targets. It must have been obvious it would spread worldwide, it was an attack on us all, a naked power grab.

I doubt that Covid-19 was designed as an attack on the world. One thing's certain about the psychopaths who would do such a ruthless thing in order to acquire some power: they would want to live, to use that power. By infecting the world with a highly contagious virus, the psychopaths themselves risk dying. Thus they would not do it intentionally.

No, I think Ron Unz is right: the global Covid-19 scourge was accidental, an unexpected consequence of a biowar attack on China and Iran by some short-sighted criminals (probably in the US) who thought it would never blow back on themselves.

| There is a giant difference between a leak and intentional infliction.

Is there?

If you die from being shot in the head, does it matter whether they aimed carefully or it was an accidental discharge? Either way you're dead and they have criminal liability.

I suppose it does matter in this way:

If it was an intentional infection then Ron Unz took the clotshot due to being outwitted by a dastardly mastermind.

If it was an accident then Ron Unz took the clotshot due to being outplayed by blundering idiots.

The Daily Sceptic's take is garbage.

We know that SARS-CoV2 is from a lab since it has a furin cleavage site (which no other betacoronavirus in its clade possesses). The furin cleavage site has TWO HUMAN-selective arginine codons NOT the typical CORONAVIRUS arginine codons. There are no other HUMAN arginine codons in SARS-CoV2. (David Baltimore pointed this out early in 2020).

Also read this: <https://nerdhaspower.weebly.com/ratg13-is-fake.html> from a site frequented by virology grad students and postdocs, who keep their identities secret to avoid the same repercussions that should rightly fall on Fauci and friends for funding the creation of SARS-CoV2, whether in a lab in Wuhan, or in UNC, or at DARPA, or Ukraine, or Fort Detrick, etc. Yuri Deigin put the Covid puzzle together long before Baker and Wade (<https://yurideigin.medium.com/lab-made-cov2-genealogy-through-the-lens-of-gain-of-function-research-f96dd7413748>) Too scientific for State Media (or Ron Unz)?

The Bat Lady would have published her work on RATG13 if it had been truly discovered seven years earlier as she stated; it was more important than most of her published work. As the grad students noted, it is easy to fake a sequence. This does not mean that the virus came out of her lab or Wuhan, she was just covering her ass. Chinese researchers also demanded (as was their right) to remove early sequences from patients from the NIH database, which would have helped understand the evolution of the virus. Again, covering up does not mean China was responsible, but it isn't usually done in science (except by Fauci and friends, and China).

I knew it was false because it was pushed, hard, by the Murdoch cancer, particularly the local Zionazis therein, who HATE China because they will never control it, and by the Morrison regime, including its morbidly obese Foreign Minister, who demanded an inquiry, with ‘weapons inspection’ powers. As usual with this type of feminazi, they get carried away trying to impress the boys with their ‘cojones’ leading to ludicrous trans-gender calamities. She was also probably suffering from low blood sugar not having had a Krusty Kreme ‘donut’ for an hour or so.

When known liars (recidivist does not do them justice) say something, I disbelieve it. When it is leavened with racist contempt as with the assertion that the despicable ‘Chinks’ are incompetent and cannot safely run a lab (the swill put forward here by the racist Zionazi troll A123)my prejudices are further confirmed. The Evil psychopaths running the West are looking for a casus belli to turn the long-running ‘phony war’ against China into a hot one, and lies blaming China regarding SARS CoV2, plainly a US creation, fit the bill nicely. Once again one asks-how can humanity possibly survive the USA and its minions?

The ‘accident’ theory is refuted, I believe, by the nature of the cytotoxic spike protein, harmful in numerous ways, the result of years of research that can be traced back to Baric et al investigating myocarditis caused by coronaviruses in rabbits in the late 80s and early 90s, the reality of the gene therapy injections, themselves dangerous in many ways, primarily through their making of the human body into a spike protein factory, in the nature of the lipid nano-particles designed to transport the mRNA into cells and the totalitarian campaign to force gene therapy injections on everybody, contrary to the Nuremberg Laws and various declarations on medical bio-ethics, even those at no risk fro CoViD19, and to destroy, slander, and make impossible to obtain, safe, effective and cheap early treatments like HCQ, IVM, fluvoxamine etc.

Incompetence, service to BigPharma and mass hysteria can only partially explain this debacle. The MSM in particular exceeded even their habitual standards of mendacity and cretinism, and, as ever, plainly were being instructed from above. Even now the baboon scum in Austfalia refuse to even acknowledge ANY problems with the gene therapy injections. The increase in heart disease in the young is put down, when it is mentioned, to CoViD itself, or ‘delays’ in seeking treatment. Issues with vaccines are not even mentioned, let alone denied.

Plainly this is a well prepared and war-gamed conspiracy, but to what end? For me, it looks ever more like the long awaited and promised Great Cull of the ‘useless eaters’.

I agree with all of it except the conclusion that those in the US who did this are reckless idiots, or that this is “blowback”. This is deliberate.

Before the first case hit out west, the government was already warning that it would hit the US and devastate us. That is not a government that wasn’t “expecting” blowback.

Why would our government ban the use of highly efficacious Ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine, censoring clinical studies on the matter, and forcing people to wait for their designer drugs and vaccines made for Covid, thereby allowing who knows how many to die. Why would they conduct their faulty clinical studies to disprove it (eg. using too high a dose of hydroxychloroquine, and giving it to people at the end-stage of Covid). That wasn’t reckless either. It was deliberate.

Why are we hesitant to conclude that this virus hitting the US and all over the world was intentional?

They could not very well use the US as Ground Zero, for their hand in it would be obvious.

What is their ultimate plan? We are already seeing some of it.

@Notsofast

not all bioweapons are designed to kill as many people as possible, this was more of an economic weapon, designed to destroy economies,

Isn't this where the bioweapons used against China's pork and poultry industries aligned in 2017-2018 are economic weapons as Ron Unz has taken us on the bioweapons tour recently?

I agree, I was being overly polemical. The Daily Sceptic article:

“U.S. Accidentally Proves It Could Not Have Spotted the Virus in China in November 2019”

is quite good. I don't know what this does to the Unz Biowarfare Theory that US intelligence had prior knowledge of the pandemic etc.etc. Although the Daily Sceptic is quoted in this current article as providing evidence for the Unz Biowarfare Theory, the Daily Sceptic author apparently doesn't think Mr Unz's Vaccines-Don't Cause Excess Death Theory is much chop. See:

I get all that. But the same ends could have been achieved without the bother or the expense of engineering a new virus. So why go to the trouble? And why take the risk of catching that new virus yourself?

They already had all that was necessary for the con – they took a bunch of same-old, same-old symptoms, gave them a jazzy new name and a huge cast of thoroughly disreputable politicians, media owners, billionaires and “scientists” all sang very very loudly from the same lying hymn sheet. And the illness was no worse than the usual flu, for all it’s spike proteins and whatever else they supposedly engineered. This was my view at the beginning and I have seen nothing over the last three years which contradicts it.

If it wasn’t for all the hullabaloo, we wouldn’t have even noticed “covid19”. Just like most people aren’t noticing the effects of the so-called “vaccine” right now. There was no deadly virus and no “pandemic”. What we had was a media driven pantodemic terrifying people into submission with artificially high death counts, and populations who would never believe that their leaders would do such a thing.

As far as I can see, all this debate about lab leaks is just distraction. It’s a con. What aren’t we talking about while we’re talking about that?

Of course, a fake virus which is hardly noticeable doesn’t require a vaccine. Their storyline (and bottom line) did require one. It could have just been (very expensive) saline and no one would have known. But it turns out to be deadly for some, dangerous for others, with long term effects that it’s just too soon to know about. Why? When harmless saline would have done the same theatrical job? What's the real point of that? It's clearly not just about the money.

“@Notsofast: What I rarely see discussed is- and you touch on it here- is why the Chinese permitted this research to be conducted on their territory. This, to me, is the most bizarre feature of all of this.”

It's not complicated. The CCP wanted to quickly grow its biotech industry with as much Western money as possible. Being inexperienced and inept, insufficient precautions were taken against viral escape.

It most definitely is. For the overclass.

Now...nobody here is a member of that group.

Unz tries to deliver and buys a place in the “management” level; not bad work so far , especially since the start of the Scamdemic. You aspire the same?! Lower strata of that layer? Could work. Good luck.

As for the type/layer of majority here and most people I personally know I can only imagine how Trudeau, Morrison and Ardern would’ve loved it.

Imagine Macron having it, as we speak, re:

Also... is there any other consideration here that the injection fiasco masquerading as a 'vaccine' was/is actually about expected biowarfare retaliation and a mandatory 'prep work' regime?

Notable to this consideration is a vast die off of bird populations across the U.S. and insect die offs that would correspond to a transmission problem from a retaliatory attack. But other countries are not noting a huge die off in these bird and insect populations.

Additionally the government of India awhile back said "No" to Pfizer and Moderna and their injection programs upon the people of India. Publicly it was stated that the issue was zero legal liability and complete immunity from prosecution that was demanded by these 2 pharmaceutical companies. But there may have been another reason...

Biowarfare defense experts in India may not have wanted to allow a pre-conditioning of the population sending them down a certain immunological path of no return.

It turns out that in Uttar Pradesh, India with a population of >200 million they went with Ivermectin (aka Stromectol since 1997) in a very successful result. At the time of decision making to keep Pfizer and Moderna out they also went with natural immunity against the initial bioweapon and had some estimate that they needed to keep their natural immunity condition/status for what would be another bioweapon down the road.

A road that now shows a huge damaged post injection problem with vast compromised immune systems and VAERS data pointing the finger through the fog at another mass murder with the claim of legal protection from various governments.

There is now more rationality proving itself in the group that said “NO” to the injection insanity and it may pay off again in another biowarfare attack.

From what Rand Paul was saying today (or yesterday), the Deep State is already starting to get information (data and proof) “CLASSIFIED” so that Congress won’t be able to get too far with their investigation.

In order to CATCH some of these perpetrators we will need an Investigation but it’s going to be hard to do if they are busy Classifying information. From What Rand Paul Says, even Congress can’t get ahold of that....Which is crazy and not sure I believe him.

The biggest problem is the “deep state” or whatever you want to call it, but it includes all the Alphabet agencies.

Without proper investigations THEY will get away with this massive world-wide Crime Against Humanity.

We know it has to be very Powerful people who organized and carried this out, otherwise there would be investigations. And they plan on doing the NEXT VIRUS ATTACK much worse. Covid was likely a Test drive.

Some people from the get-go knew that the Covid pandemic was a hoax or psyop, Ron Paul was one of those individuals. As soon as March 2020 in an article entitled “the Coronavirus hoax,” he commented that ‘the madness over the Coronavirus was not limited to politicians and the medical community...Fauci was all over the media, serving up outright falsehoods to stir up more panic. He testified to Congress that the death rate for the Coronavirus was ten times that of the seasonal flu, a claim without any scientific basis.”Fitnews.com 2020/03/16.

The problem with this article is that the “virus” has yet to be purified and isolated. For all intents, it doesn’t exist. The Bio-weapon is the mRNA. The mRNA DOES exist. The contagion that came out of Wuhan is just the flu. All deaths of this fiasco are from mal treatment, with holding proven and effective alternatives, and the mRNA. There is no COVID-19.

All our JTRIG and CIA keyboard kommandos are hard at work, modeling slogans for dimbulbs, niggling at red herrings, or just performing condescension.

But the CIA germ warfare apparat is in the position of Ted Bundy leaving eighty girl carcasses around—he can't talk his way out of the corpus delicti any more. SARS2 is the least of their problems. CIA whipped up ebola in Kenema just like CIA whipped up ebola in Ukraine.

<https://www.thepostil.com/lies-spies-and-us-bioweapons-on-the-verge-of-armed-doom/>

<https://www.independentsciencenews.org/health/did-west-africas-ebola-outbreak-of-2014-have-a-lab-origin/>

Now CIA is publicly busted, not just by civil society but by allied nuclear-armed great powers with a superior defense industrial base and a missile gap (a real one) affording positive control of escalation. The Seventh Floor can make fools of FBI but now it's the highly effective Russian and Chinese security services with the beef. The Langley regime will not survive this.

I look forward to the photo of CCO raising the flag on the bombed-out ruins of the Reichstag I mean NHB.

The ‘accident’ theory is refuted, I believe, by the nature of the cytotoxic spike protein, harmful in numerous ways, the result of years of research that can be traced back to Baric et al investigating myocarditis caused by coronaviruses in rabbits in the late 80s and early 90s

Thanks for explaining the spike protein. That wasn’t what I considered accidental though. I should have been more precise.

No, what I considered accidental was that Covid-19 went global. I’m sure the perpetrators didn’t expect the virus’s range to spread beyond the target countries (China and Iran). They are probably as horrified as anyone that the US suffered terribly from the blowback — as their heads would certainly deserve to roll if their actions were exposed.

The point is that if Pfizer is indeed doing gain of function (directed evolution) work in order to create a variant in order to create the accompanying “vaccine” they are literally doing what purportedly caused Covid-19 to begin with, and all of the harms of the so-called “vaccine”, it’s a rehash of 2019-2021, which is totally unacceptable, hence shut their labs down, they can’t have the “God hand” on the lever of another pandemic. That’s why it’s important.

As far as shutting down the entire medical, educational, and police system in America, that is what’s known as a societal collapse, it’s a rejection of civilization in favor of the law of the jungle, meaning that there is no law at all in the jungle, it’s a rejection of medical care, education, law enforcement and the impartial adjudication of crimes. I’m not sure if that’s what you are supporting here, but that’s what would happen.

This reminds me of when the government funds certain ideas or projects, and they compartmentalise everything. You end up with team A playing off against teamB. Neither one knows what the other is doing, except for the instructions that they have received. Stealth was similar. And obviously the direction the results take are really only known by the bare minimum of people. That way certain people can honestly say that they don't know anything and of course loose lips sink ships. Why not run a bogus scenario at the same time as a real one?

This is a belief that you hold: “The WUHAN-19 virus that escaped from a CCP laboratory”. It has not been shown to be factual yet.

Trump holds the belief that he is the father of the vaccine and that it has potentially saved 100 million lives worldwide, which are both objectively false beliefs.

You said: “However, routinely demanding reparations from the CCP is a great method that should be used heavily by American and European politicians. It keeps the focus on the dangerous regime in Beijing that created the global WUHAN-19 coronavirus catastrophe. If that pressure is not maintained, CCP shills will try to shift the blame elsewhere”. We’re not trying to imagine bogeyman regarding Covid-19’s origins and the so-called “vaccine”, we aren’t going to pin it on anyone for perceived political gain or to extort money from someone, we are going to find out the truth and reveal it to the whole world, politics and expressing beliefs as if they are the truth are over with. The truth is going to set us free. The way you talk here is akin to Trump holding to the belief that he was some of kind of savior with the “vaccine”, which has already been shown to be not safe and ineffective and to cause disability and death, where is Trump acknowledging these facts, he’s hiding in the dark with his political lies and his humongous ego, we, the “anti-vaxxers”, we’re not playing games, we are going to reveal the truth and bring it to the light of day for all to see and witness.

Here’s another bit of truth for you, the American’s people’s money is not the US government’s money, the Chinese people’s money is not the Chinese government’s money, both governments are evil and do not do the will of the people in either of our countries, why then would I want regular everyday

Chinese people's money should their government be found to have committed crimes regarding Covid-19, I'd prefer the criminals go to prison and to leave the Chinese people's money alone, and vice versa, if the United States government did it China is not getting a penny from the American people, I would prefer to see those responsible in the United States government put in prison.

You said: "The only way for WIV to wriggle off the hook is to conclusively and irrefutably identify an individual lab elsewhere as the source. And, there is not a single shred of "hard evidence" pointing to a specific facility in the U.S. or Ukraine". Are you kidding me, EcoHealth Alliance and the NIH/Fauci funded and transferred technology to Wuhan for gain of function work on coronaviruses. What you are saying is non-sensical, as if buildings can be guilty but not people, as if buildings are somehow responsible but not people.

Mr. Unz,

With all due respect, you just accidentally helped the “Wuhan as Source” narrative.

If that Pfizer idiot obtained the virus in the U.S.:

Q: Where would incompetence have released it?

A: In the U.S.

It takes:

- Immense technical skill to weaponize a virus
- More talent to transport
- And, even more capability to deploy

If stupidity or negligence is to blame for contaminating Wuhan, China — The incompetence almost certainly took place at a CCP lab very close to the Wet Market “patient zero” location. Idiots could not possibly have arranged a sophisticated and successful, multi stage, international, DNC rogue, #NeverTrump conspiracy. However, morons could have accidentally moved the virus less than 10 miles within the city of Wuhan.

And, it is just as bad the other way.

Competent, smart, and wise operatives would have known they were intentionally selecting an ultra contagious, FCS enhanced, SARS2. A coronavirus 100% guaranteed to “go global”. There is no rational explanation for any hypothetical cabal of highly intelligent, pro-CCP, #NeverTrump extremists to transfer such a contagion to Wuhan. Any group with the competence to target Wuhan would have opted for a more political option elsewhere, such as directly targeting Red State voters or a Trump owned property.

Any “Rogue Attack on China” theory is highly implausible due to internal inconsistency. It requires participants to be simultaneously... Competent & incompetent... Clever & idiotic... Wise & foolish... And, so on.

PEACE

You need to widen your horizons. The scientists who developed SARS-CoV-2 were undoubtedly aware of its pandemic potential. But why do you think the scientists were directly involved in the release of the virus?

It's far more likely that the scientists had no foreknowledge of its release. SARS-CoV-2 was just something in a fridge pulled out by some operative; the people who controlled the operative were likely quite ignorant. Someone as fat in the head as Pompeo was in the body might have given little thought to the likelihood of blowback.

That's my working hypothesis. The guilty ones (probably Americans) satisfied their impulse of hurting China and did not consider the longer term ramifications. The blowback in the US was a horrifying surprise to them. And now they are desperately hiding from the retribution they definitely deserve.

imo this had been planned for years and one of the primary goals was to use this crisis to ram through their dangerous gain of function mrna based “vaccines”

I agree that covid was planned for years and there were many goals of this virus:

1. Setting the chinese economy back decades
2. Allow the Federal Reserve to pump liquidity into the western banking system (something was seriously wrong from September 2019)
3. Run a live exercise to look for tweaks and improvements for future pandemics
4. Push through mrna vaccines to the global market
5. Take control of profitable businesses around the world since the usd was coming into its dying years (buy with usd before they became worthless paper)

During the period when the virus was being discovered in china, many countries were able to contain its spread. However in the US, the measures for testing and border management didn't make sense and it looked like they wanted the virus to make its way to the US (and around the globe). The media put it down to crazy Trump. Ironically, while Trump kept calling it a China virus he was also reluctant to close the border as it was going to be seen as a “racial” issue.

There was also Niall Ferguson's accusation that China was deliberately spreading the virus abroad by shutting down domestic travel while letting international travel continue. When a study of the flights out of china was conducted by Daniel Bell, he found this was a false accusation. However, this gave the US the excuse for the spread of the virus by china and this lie about china not stopping international travel has been cropping up all over the internet even till today.

While most countries were already testing for the virus, the US chose to deliberately not do any testing until months passed. Although test kits were distributed, instructions followed not to use them.

While many are only seeing the spread of covid as having a single goal, there are actually multiple goals and it was deliberately spread around the world but disguised as fumbling inept mishandling.

Yes I believe that he would spout such words, his guard was down and he may have been drinking, Pfizer is losing a lot of income from its cash cow and needs to produce another product to replace its present covid vaccine therefore they would turn to R&D and the marketing department to produce a new stream of cash.

Early rna strain analysis showed that the virus originated and mutated early on US and only after travelled to wuhan and the rest of the world. (US had several strains, whereas china just 1) All much before earliest acknowledged dates around the world That was know as soon as early 2022.

As sherlock's famous "after removing all impossible, whatever remains is the cause, however improvable" and Salandrias corollary "details are a waste of time, just imagine what an impartial actor would do and contrast with what actually happened" I find it naif to chase dead ends when there is enough public info to go a lot further.

I think I can present better theory just from the top of my head:

Early patents with the furin cleavage for enhanced human infection (moderna? 2016?) plus aids? tb? sequences in the spike protein proves that the virus was a result of gain of function. 2019 besides the early simulation also gave us fort detrick closure. Most probably the original public leakage of the virus. before august?

CEOs glimpsed what was coming and they all quit their posts and fled to their bunkers in droves.

After that the ball started rolling, and we got event 201, to train governments how to deal with the leakage that by end 2019 was already all over the world.

No good crisis goes to waste and the opportunity was seised to: bio attack on iran, great pensioners cull, framing and blaming of china for the deed, etc.

the protocols killed tenfold what the virus.

e.g. in portugal, the virus was already spreading late december.

January and february scores of people contracted a heavy uncarecteristic flu, but oficial structures refused to test them for covid.

The first official case was 2nd march. 6th of march Health Director General was on TV saying there was no reason to avoid contact with the elderly, and that everyone should visit them and now even more in particular.

16th schools closed and 18th the country entered emergency state.

Another curious example, france, where hidroxychloriquine was sold over the counter, until january 2020 when it was strangely forbidden and all stock was recalled and disapeared.

Many similar examples abound, NY comes to mind.

So, withouth great doubts I posit that covid entered the wild on US mid 2019, maybe by accident, most probably on purpose. More leaks where purposefully done all over the world with diferent strains and objectives, but at least on china to blame them, on iran as bioweapon, and the rest of the world to cull the pensioners and prepare the herd for the vaccine cash cow and great reset grabs of power by the government.

The Moderna patented strand of DNA does occur naturally, but I think it is non trivially important that the strand is not just in the virus it “occurred in the part of the spike protein known as the furin cleavage site (FCS), a short sequence of amino acids that can improve the virus’ infectivity of human cells”. The extremely high transmissibility of the Covid-19 pathogen (not its death rate) is why it caused the pandemic and many deaths it did, and the furin cleavage site is key. How could the Covid-19 pathogen have had such high human–human transmissibility deliberately engineered into it and then be used without understanding it would cause a global pandemic because of its capability for spreading round the world very fast or that it contained a tell tale sequence. Are those things supposed to exist without labels and information cataloging what they are and can do?

If it was created as a bioweapon and/ or thought suitable for an undercover attack on China, it hardly would contain such a ‘tell’ as a patented sequence even if it is found in nature. I think this is another piece of evidence against the virus having been deliberately released.

The scientists who developed SARS-CoV-2 were undoubtedly aware of its pandemic potential. But why do you think the scientists were directly involved in the release of the virus?

Because these things are kept securely, there are procedures to access them to ensure there is no mix up and they have labels.

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/zJ5tB7qtLGo>

It's like saying the USAF has nukes indistinguishable from ordinary high explosive bombs stored together and accessible by someone completely outside the chain of command to say the most dangerous virus on earth was just sitting in a refrigerator. No matter who you are you and your pals can't just go can get a nuke—certainly not without knowing exactly what it is.

It's far more likely that the scientists had no foreknowledge of its release. SARS-CoV-2 was just something in a fridge pulled out by some operative; the people who controlled the operative were likely quite ignorant.

Well that is not impossible I admit, but one thing is for certain: your operative and whoever was giving him his orders would know it was not a natural virus, but designed as a bioweapon, and so they would have no reasonable expectation of it behaving like a natural virus even if they were some kind of morons.

The guilty ones (probably Americans) satisfied their impulse of hurting China and did not consider the longer term ramifications. The blowback in the US was a horrifying surprise to them

Are the Chinese such morons that they would not be expected to have figured out who was attacking them. Are the Chinese going to stand for such an attack, and why wouldn't they expect another one if they did nothing? I think they would know, and have to do something very drastic to the US in retaliation.

Having grown jaded over 20 years of BS pandemic scares, I didn't pay any attention to Covid until March 17th, 2020. I quickly found many offering tempering or skeptical viewpoints. The following were all speaking out in March & April 2020, at the latest. Obviously this is just a personal sampling, there were surely vastly more; and, of course, I don't endorse all the views of everyone below:

Can anyone offer a plausible theory of why someone who honestly believes SARS-COV2 is a bioweapon and wants to get to the bottom of how it was released, would show no interest in the suppression of effective treatments for said bioweapon?

The authors of this study say the odds that it occurs in nature are 3 trillion to 1. Can you post a scientific study showing a natural occurrence of the Moderna patented DNA strand for me to look at?

From the study:

“The correlation between this SARS-CoV-2 sequence and the reverse complement of a proprietary mRNA sequence is of uncertain origin. Conventional biostatistical analysis indicates that the probability of this sequence randomly being present in a 30,000-nucleotide viral genome is 3.21×10^{-11} ”.

Study link:

<https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fviro.2022.834808/full>

You said:

“If it was created as a bioweapon and/ or thought suitable for an undercover attack on China, it hardly would contain such a ‘tell’ as a patented sequence even if it is found in nature. I think this is another piece of evidence against the virus having been deliberately released”.

In one sentence you said it was present in nature and in another sentence you said it’s a “tell” for an artificially manufactured bio-weapon that was deliberately released. If all one has to do is say that it’s present in nature and just leave it at that, the makers of the bio-weapon could just point to a naturally occurring sequence of the strand of DNA, and then no more “tell”, hence evidence against the virus having been artificially created. Can you point me to an instance of it being present in nature? There is lots of evidence that the virus is artificial, whether or not it was deliberately released or accidentally released we don't have conclusive proof of that yet. We do know that the US government and others actively work to genetically modify animal coronaviruses in order to make them human transmissible, so it's not like this kind of thing isn't worked on in labs around the world. Regarding the term "bio-weapon", the US government says that gain of function research is done so that they can pre-make a "vaccine" and then have it ready should nature decide to evolve a human-transmissible coronavirus on its own. I use the term "bio-weapon" to describe what's happening which doesn't match the US government's use of the term. I view Covid-19 and the "vaccine" as both being bio-weapon attacks. Maybe the government legitimately thinks that they can use gain of function research on bat coronaviruses in order to know exactly what nature is going to evolve on its own, to me that doesn't seem plausible, it's seems rather crude. In addition, the "vaccine" itself is a coronavirus "vaccine", there has never been a coronavirus "vaccine" that passed animal testing, whether it was for SARS, MERS, or RSV, all previous attempts at creating a "vaccine" failed animal testing due to antibody dependent enhancement in the test animals, the "vaccine" neither prevented infection nor mitigated symptoms but rather enhanced the effects of the virus, the animals would have been better off unvaccinated. Here's a scientific paper where scientists have objected to the fact that "vaccine" recipients are being denied informed consent regarding the risks of antibody dependent enhancement from the "vaccine"; to me, risking antibody dependent enhancement and becoming a spike protein factory and potentially having my DNA altered all to avoid a virus with an infection fatality rate well within the range of the seasonal flu is madness, it wouldn't be so much of an attack if it weren't mandated and if there was informed consent and if I wasn't demonized for not getting "vaccinated", hence my use of the word bio-weapon to describe the "vaccine".

Paper showing scientists objecting to the non-consent being given recipients of the "vaccine" regarding the risk of antibody dependent enhancement:

<https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/33113270/>

Paper showing that the "vaccine" causes genetic modification in human liver cells in vitro (petri dish), whether or not it happens in vivo (to human beings bodily DNA) has yet to be shown:

Admittedly, I have focused on the disastrous and dishonest response to covid rather than the origins. As has often been pointed out, the thing about the origin question is, even if one were to sleuth out an answer with a high degree of certainty, it seems unlikely to have much effect, especially without the mass disillusionment and anger that would come from understanding the deliberate mismanagement of the response. E.g. 9/11 and the dancing schlomos there to ‘documet the event’.

But I have taken note all along of sources of info on the origins that seemed like potentially good leads. I list those that have seemed most promising below. I’m curious why Mr. Unz has given them such short shrift.

Patents are publicly released. The CCP is the planet's most prolific (though not only) thief when it comes to Intellectual Property [IP]. Finding American IP in products made by CCP firms is normal and expected. CCP funded scientists using publicly available IP would be unsurprising.

The most plausible scenario is that the virus was created at the CCP's WIV laboratory. And, the staff at that facility lost control of it. Infected animals being stolen and sold at the Wet Market is a very easy explanation for how the virus moved across town.

The CCP did not intend to infect themselves and the planet. A simple human intersection of negligence and petty malfeasance at the CCP's WIV laboratory let a BSL2 handled virus into the wild.

As @mkr points out earlier, blaming the Chinese people for the misdeeds of the CCP Elites is a bit unfair. The question becomes, “When will the Chinese proletariat turn on the CCP bourgeoisie?”

Right, Pfizer apparatchik Jordon Trishton Walker bragged about banned biological weapons development. Why wouldn't he? He thinks it might impress his date and get him laid. He won't get in trouble, he's in with the in crowd. He thinks he's got it made.

At Twitter you had censor fairy Yoel Roth all aflutter because he's meeting with CIA (say it in your deepest big-shot voice.) This is what they do. They find an apple-polishing worm who lives for attaboys, and make him feel important. Ego-up – at the Farm you learn that in Spy Shit 101, right after they teach you to cut the tits off nuns.

Jordon Trishton Dickhead Cuntface Walker has a CIA handler of his own, fluffing his other-directed self-concept and putting him up to CIA's germ warfare dirty work.

Under Gates CIA made the decision to obscure its germ warfare criminality with a highly decentralized program. A couple dozen third-rate research universities, a bunch of shoestring institutes kept hungry so they'll do what they're told. And all the crookedest scummiest corporations, like the inveterate felons of Pfizer.

CIA went to mad horse doctor Bourla, dripping with blood from vivisection at the Doctor Moreau Public-Private Partnership for Fucked-Up Studies, and said "Cool, let's do that shit to people now. Let's cut the tits and dicks off people's kids too! It'll traumatize the subject population!" And Bourla rubbed his hands together like le Merchant and said, "I got just the guy for this, he's desperate for approval all the time, Walker, that fuckin tool."

(I note that Ron Unz is gold-framing people who are telling him what he wants to hear (again) A classic example of the type of mentality that has ruined the West and brought the world to the brink of disaster)

It's far more likely that the scientists had no foreknowledge of its release. SARS-CoV-2 was just something in a fridge pulled out by some operative; the people who controlled the operative were likely quite ignorant.

That is your working hypothesis? seriously? 'Operatives' with no idea of what they are playing with have fridges full of viruses to release? do you realise how utterly stupid that sounds? Who stocks those fridges?

How many people reading this wouldn't have asked the simple question 'Can this thing really be contained?' Anyone? What about you Ron Unz? Come on guys own up !! Is there anyone out there as stupid as those 'intelligence operatives'? How do you imagine the conversation went?

"We want to do a bioweapon attack on China and Iran"

"There's a fridge full of viruses over there, help yourself"

"How how about this one" (pulling a random vial out of the fridge)

"Yeah, whatever"

"Covid-19 it says, what does it do?"

"Its a coronavirus, remember the SARS thing? but its a lot more infectious, we made sure of that"

"Hmm, won't it be likely to spread to other countries too"

"Naaa, it'll be alright"

"Won't we have to shut down international travel to make sure?"

"I dunno, I reckon you'll have to cross that bridge when you get to it"

"OK then, I'll take this one, I mean what could go wrong eh"

I note that 'event 201' wasn't simulating an outbreak confined to China either.

While we are on the subject, as soon as I knew how leaky the Covid 'vaccines' were, I predicted (using completely basic principles) that we were never going to 'vaccinate' our way out of the pandemic. That was nearly two years ago now (on the Unz review too) How could the medical establishment worldwide not have also known that? Am I some sort of genius? I don't think so, I was just stating the bloody obvious (please let me know what you think) I haven't had any job offers from the intelligence agencies or from any of the World's health authorities, if that is anything to go by. I reckon it is obvious that the agenda had little or nothing to do with public health, It was more about getting a needle in every arm, 'vaccine' passports, the rolling back of civil liberties and austerity for the masses. (but hey, what do I know? no gold frames for me)

We are routinely being asked to swallow ludicrous tales that make no sense, how about the Skripal affair?

Two high ranking GRU operatives flew directly from Russia using their own names. They took a train to Salisbury, got their faces on just about every camera in Salisbury town centre, then went back to London to party with some hookers. The next day they went back to Salisbury to smear some stuff on a doorknob (no way that could fail right?) Then (according to the fairy tale) the Skripals touched the door handle, got contaminated by a deadly, fast acting nerve agent, went for a drive, went for a meal then went for a walk in the park where they collapsed simultaneously, several hours after being poisoned. Makes perfect sense right?

There are times when the incompetence theory is just too hard to swallow.

Isn't this where the bioweapons used against China's pork and poultry industries aligned in 2017-2018 are economic weapons as Ron Unz has taken us on the bioweapons tour recently?

That has been part of his "tour" but where are the other (read ANY) livestock disease experts agreeing that these outbreaks were the result of an intentional attack and not just the ongoing dance with overcrowding, inbreeding, antibiotic resistance, etc? Unz NEVER bolstered these tidbits with any further supporting evidence or corroboration of any kind.

This is not much different than when my neighbor gets all worked up about persistent jet clouds, claiming "chemtrails" have killed their favorite tree, or caused three fish in the creek to go belly up. I have been asking them for 20 years now to come up with chemical evidence. And two years on I am also waiting on Ron — or someone — to strengthen the claim of a bio attack on Chinese livestock.

Maybe those outbreaks among livestock were natural in origin. But Western infectious disease experts obviously can't investigate those and report that they were the result of a biowarfare attack. Maybe Chinese experts have looked into those outbreaks. But I would think reporting that there was a biowarfare attack would simply lead to them being scolded and ridiculed in the U.S./Western media.

The point is that those livestock outbreaks are very suspicious when considered alongside the fact that Kadlec was a high-ranking member of the Trump administration, along with all the other details of the Covid outbreak.

Hmmm.

[P]ainstaking detective work by Czech authorities has pointed the finger at Moscow – and Unit 29155 of the GRU.

In the wake of the Salisbury poisoning, European security services have been investigating a series of previously unexplained events.

For Czech police, that included the October 2014 explosion. A crucial find, sources close to the investigation have told the BBC, was an email sent to Imex Group, the company which operated the depot.

It claimed to come from the National Guard of Tajikistan. It asked for two men to be given access to the site for an inspection visit. Scans of their passports were attached. The men were said to be Ruslan Tabarov from Tajikistan and Nicolaj Popa, a Moldovan citizen.

The pictures on the passports match those of the two men accused by Britain of the Salisbury poisoning

The dailyclout.io analysis of the Pfizer documents reveals that

“the Chinese Communist Party partnered with Pfizer and BioNTech to produce BioNTech’s injections in a memorandum of understanding. The SEC filing for BioNTech, which produces the Pfizer vaccine, shows that the IP was transferred to China in 2021. Not to a person in China, not to a company in China, to China says the SEC filing. And China has produced a billion injections. And it’s got factories now all over western Europe and North America. So when Europeans and North Americans are getting injected, it’s now China that is instrumental in the production, what’s in it, how it’s transported. In the United States, China opened two production plants, one in Princeton, New Jersey, and one in Massachusetts.”

So, how does this fit in with Mr. Unz’s theory?

Let’s see... Rogue elements in the USA launched a bioweapon attack on China and Iran, but the USA and world got hit by blowback. Now the victim of the bioweapon, China, has been put in charge of manufacturing our supposed antidote to the bioweapon. Apparently the US defense, intelligence, and public health communities, either a) haven’t figured out what Mr. Unz has, or b) they have figured it out, but see no problem with the arrangement. Or? (And of course, that the ‘antidote’ produces the same toxic protein as the bioweapon is irrelevant.)

Incompetent turtles all the way down?

That is your working hypothesis? seriously? ‘Operatives’ with no idea of what they are playing with have fridges full of viruses to release? do you realise how utterly stupid that sounds? Who stocks those fridges?

America has supposedly spent something like $100 billion over the last 70 years on our biowarfare infrastructure, so presumably there are many, many viruses sitting around in fridges ready for release.

Under my reconstruction, one or two top figures in the Trump Administration probably organized the attack, with Mike Pompeo and John Bolton being the most likely suspects. However, the actual operation was implemented by mid/low level Americans who assumed that they were involved in a fully-authorized “black operation” aimed at severely damaging America’s leading international adversary. Here’s a link to my outline:

<https://www.unz.com/runz/american-pravda-george-orwells-virus-lab-leak/#outline-of-the-hypothetical-biowarfare-attack-scenario>

The only missing piece was that Trump himself had never been informed, just like Bolton failed to inform him when he ordered the arrest of a top Chinese executive while Trump was having dinner with China’s leader.

Ron’s so blind to what’s painfully obvious and right in front of his face that he can’t even reach the low hanging fruit. “You don’t get a little bit impregnated by Satan”. Love that. They lied about the origins of the virus, the test, the number of cases, ‘asymptomatic carriers’, ‘died with COVID’, the ‘vaccine’, vaccine injuries, the clinical trial data, the FDA approval data, and told you your heart attack was from doing dishes. But when they said there was a real virus called SARs CoV 2, that existed AT ALL, everyone believed it like it came from God’s lips to their ears. THAT is getting ‘a little bit impregnated by Satan’. And guess what, you’re still having Satan’s baby. Post of the day brother! You say it all with so little.

one or two top figures in the Trump Administration probably organized the attack, with Mike Pompeo and John Bolton being the most likely suspects.

Neither of those names makes the slightest bit of sense:

- Pompeo would have stayed with Trump in his 2nd term. The idea that Pompeo would intentionally wipe out his personal path to power by scuttling Trump's re-election campaign is laughable.
- Bolton was a pathetic #NeverTrump figure foisted onto the administration by Mitch McConnell. He was openly devalued, stripped of authority, and excluded from meetings. Bolton would be hard pressed to successfully order a latte. The idea of Bolton as a mastermind? Really?

There are really only three basic anti-Trump / anti-MAGA scenarios. And, the first two are totally flawed:

-1- Any pro-CCP, Leftoid group competent enough to intentionally steal the FCS enhanced SARS2 would know it was incredibly contagious. Their goal would be a #NeverTrump virus, targeting the U.S. They would have no motive to take it to Wuhan.

-2- Any incompetent group of hacks who had no clue what they were stealing would have blown other steps in the chain. They would lack the capability to transport it to Wuhan. Patient Zero would have occurred near the source lab.

-3- The #NeverTrump extremists stole the virus from WIV. They immediately released it in Wuhan, because they understood it was a 100% chance to spread globally, thus derailing Trump's re-election campaign with the planet wide catastrophe.

Only #3 makes any sense, as it does not require a vast complex, multinational plot. A small group of anti-Trump Leftoids could conceivably achieve this. Given irrational SJW rage, would they endanger the planet to "get Trump"? I am willing to believe that a sufficient quantity of truly unhinged fanatics could be found.

The Eco Health Alliance contract was cover for forward intelligence and mission planning. These scouts identified critical weaknesses in WIV security procedures. And, they targeted the exact sample to be stolen from the BSL2 part of the facility. Young healthy members of the action team would receive saline injections purported to be protection. Then they were tasked with the steal and release steps.

This means the CCP Laboratory at WIV was either negligent with security, or complicit with #NeverTrump extremism. Take your pick.

I still think that petty theft by a few non-scientists is much more probable. However, a somewhat larger conspiracy centered on WIV is not impossible.

PEACE

Are the Chinese such morons that they would not be expected to have figured out who was attacking them. Are the Chinese going to stand for such an attack, and why wouldn't they expect another one if they did nothing? I think they would know, and have to do something very drastic to the US in retaliation.

Well they did implement severe lockdowns for 3 years. Which is the kind of defensive measure you might implement if you suspect such an attack.

I'm not really sure what you expect them or anyone else to do if they believed it was an attack: immediately launch a nuclear attack on the US that would be ultimately self-destructive and get them nuked in retaliation?

I don't know if it was an attack or not, but if it was, it was extraordinarily successful as it generated the domestic and elite political capital to wage economic warfare for the past 4 years. And there is an obvious effort by US hawks to goad China into some sort of military conflict vis a vis Taiwan, both to get involved militarily against China sooner rather than later, and also to generate even more anti-China political capital to pursue hawkish aims and policies further.

<https://foreignpolicy.com/2022/10/12/biden-china-semiconductor-chips-exports-decouple/>

The United States has waged low-grade economic warfare against China for at least four years now—firing volley after volley of tariffs, export controls, investment blocks, visa limits, and much more. But Washington’s endgame for this conflict has always been hazy. Does it seek to compel specific changes in Beijing’s behavior, or challenge the Chinese system itself? To protect core security interests, or retain hegemony by any means? To strengthen America, or hobble its chief rival?...In short, America’s restrictionists—zero-sum thinkers who urgently want to accelerate technological decoupling—have won the strategy debate inside the Biden administration. More cautious voices—technocrats and centrists who advocate incremental curbs on select aspects of China’s tech ties—have lost. This shift portends even harsher U.S. measures to come, not only in advanced computing but also in other sectors (like biotech, manufacturing, and finance) deemed strategic. The pace and details are uncertain, but the strategic objective and political commitment are now clearer than ever. China’s technological rise will be slowed at any price.

I had picked up on some of these items some years back and recollected them again here for connect the dots considerations and as evidence to deliberateness in biowarfare attacks against the Chinese pork industry.

Similar articles, reports and history are widely known as to the Chinese poultry industry.

“He pointed out that during the previous two years, the Chinese economy had already suffered serious blows from other mysterious new diseases, although these had targeted farm animals rather than people. During 2018 a new Avian Flu virus had swept the country, eliminating large portions of China’s poultry industry, and during 2019 the Swine Flu viral epidemic had devastated China’s pig farms, destroying 40% of the nation’s primary domestic source of meat, with widespread claims that the latter disease was being spread by mysterious small drones. My morning newspapers had hardly ignored these important business stories, noting that the sudden collapse of much of China’s domestic food production might prove a huge boon to American farm exports at the height of our trade conflict, but I had never considered the obvious implications. So for three years in a row, China had been severely impacted by strange new viral diseases, though only the most recent had been deadly to humans. This evidence was merely circumstantial, but the pattern seemed highly suspicious.”

<https://www.unz.com/runz/american-pravda-our-coronavirus-catastrophe-as-biowarfare-blowback/>

Swine flu was propagated by drones

As strange as it seems, the complete collapse of the pig farm industry in China in 2019 was propagated by drones. This is why so many isolated pig farms became infected. “Criminal elements” were using drones to spray the pigs with flu to devastate the pork industry.

“Criminal Elements”...? Can we be more specific?

CHINESE FARMERS: CRIMINALS ARE USING DRONES TO INFECT OUR PIGS
THEIR PLAN TO FIGHT BACK LANDED THEM IN TROUBLE WITH A LOCAL AIRPORT

Excerpted-

“In October, navigations systems started to fail on flights in and out of Harbin airport while they flew over Zhaozhou county. Authorities later traced the cause of the disturbance to a farm’s unauthorized anti-drone device, which it had begun using in an attempt to stop criminals from using drones to drop items infected with swine flu on its pigs.”

<https://futurism.com/the-byte/chinese-farmers-criminals-drones-pigs-infect>

China flight systems jammed by pig farm’s African swine fever defences

A Chinese pig farm’s attempt to ward off drones – said to be spreading African swine fever – jammed the navigation systems of a number of planes flying overhead.

The farm, in northeastern China, was ordered last month to turn in an unauthorised anti-drone device installed to prevent criminal gangs dropping items infected with the disease, according to online news portal Thepaper.cn.

<https://www.scmp.com/news/china/society/article/3042991/china-flight-systems-jammed-pig-farms-african-swine-fever>

This African swine fever outbreak, in other words, is much worse than that avian flu outbreak in terms of livestock losses. “It’s historic; there’s never been anything like this in the history of modern animal production,” said McCracken. “And it’s a frightening situation only in that there is no current control.”

“This is the biggest animal disease outbreak we’ve ever had on the planet,” Dirk Pfeiffer, a veterinary epidemiologist at City University of Hong Kong and expert on African swine fever, told the Guardian. “It makes the foot and mouth disease and BSE [mad cow disease] outbreaks pale in comparison to the damage that is being done.”

<https://www.vox.com/2019/6/6/18655460/china-african-swine-fever-pig-ebola>

Trump trade war went “hot”

For some reason, ever since the “Trump trade war”, China has been hit with unusually dangerous and lethal germs, viral agents, and illnesses that has attacked livestock and people.

Ever since President Donald Trump became President and incorporated Neocon “War Hawks” on his negotiation team, China has been wracked with all sorts of[1] new,[2] novel, and[3] unusually lethal strains of viral agents. All of which cripple the Chinese people, food and livestock.

<https://www.unz.com/article/was-the-2020-wuhan-coronavirus-an-engineered-biological-attack-on-china-by-america-for-geopolitical-advantage/>

There is too much anecdotal information and background here to ignore the likelihood of a U.S. biowarfare attack on the Chinese pork industry and additional information (available) as to the Chinese poultry also being similarly hit.

Not to rain too hard on anyone's parade here, but I say man's knowledge of coronaviruses is neither complete nor comprehensive, all the more so considering the potential for genetic recombination in RNA viruses.

Especially in coronaviruses, recombination may also occur even among distantly related evolutionary groups (subgenera), due to their characteristic transcription mechanism, that involves subgenomic mRNAs that are formed by template switching.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Genetic_recombination

Also the betacoronavirus, Human SARS-CoV, appears to have had a complex history of recombination between ancestral coronaviruses that were hosted in several different animal groups.

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Betacoronavirus>

For close to decade, if not longer, the much maligned Peter Daszak and his fellows at the EcoHealth Alliance had been warning about direct bat to human infections among villagers living around bat caves.

Bats May Be Carrying the Next SARS Pandemic Disease could jump directly from bats to humans, researchers argue

Kai Kupferschmidt

30 Oct 2013

“This shows, that right now in China, there are bats carrying a virus that can directly infect people, and cause another SARS pandemic,” says Peter Daszak, one of the authors and president of EcoHealth Alliance in New York City.

Note that when Ornithorhynchus anatinus was first introduced to European naturalists and scientists, some refused to accept that it was real, arguing that it was a fake made from several different animals that had been sewn or glued together.

he NCMI document is supposed to be from November, but the public did not hear about it until April. That timing is unbelievably absurd. NATO politicians leak like sieves. If ~30 NATO country bloviators (plus additional nations) had received this, we would have heard about it before Christmas.

Also, not a single page of this document has made it into public view. This strongly suggests that the document does not exist. Or, it was misrepresented to the media.

This is key.

RKU et al carry on & on & on as if this document were gospel truth

Give it up Ron. You're making a fool of yourself. You claim the American military brought the virus to Wuhan for the military games. It's equally plausible that the Chinese infected the belongings of the Americans with the virus to bring back to America.

As far as the American deaths, 1.5 million deaths in a country with 330 million people average age of dead 80? You're supposed to be a math tech guy.

The craziest, and most likely, other explanation IMO is that this was a “great reset” mafia attack on all humanity. It was started in China to make them the incompetent patsy. It created “zee great opportunity zee great reset” by the WEF and WHO etc. This is much like 911 created an opportunity to fight terrorism everywhere the neocons wanted to invade.

Lockdowns were required whether it was deliberate or not. What the lockdowns would have been is if the pandemic was believed by the Chinese to have been the result to a bioweapon attack by China, is purely defensive and not any kind of deterrent to further and more effective follow up attacks.

I'm not really sure what you expect them or anyone else to do if they believed it was an attack:

If it was they would know it was and who was responsible. Doing nothing would not be an option. As for nuclear weapons, China had none at all during the Korean war, so them being too scared of US nukes to retaliate in any way against a devastating bioweapon attack on China is not very plausible

| 1.5 million deaths in a country with 330 million people average age of dead 80

The U.S. had a life expectancy of 77 years in 2020.

To paraphrase Stalin, it is not the count that matters, it is who does the counting.

No-one knows, within a million or so, how many people died from covid alone. The best estimate of the Infected Fatality Rate was made by Ioannidis and Bhattacharya in 2020 – .15%. That figure has now been confirmed by numerous studies – equivalent to a bad ‘flu year.

To understand the impact of the disease one must calculate the number of years of life curtailed by it.

Those over 77 who died need to be subtracted from the total as well as those who died as a result of the response to the pan(nic)demic.

In the near future, real genocide bioweapons targeting individuals based on their YDNA or mtDNA will be released, the ones that will releases it will be the Chinese.

It's feasiBle that a fast spreading virus, engineered to target individuals based on their YDNA with the final effect of sterilizing them or killing them (although killing them would be too fast and noticeable) by the Chinese will be released. It's entirely possible, YDNA is your Y-chromosome, only males have this and males pass it on to their male offspring. Research YDNA, much advancements are being done just on tracking your ancestors and where they lived. The Chinese have entirely different YDNA to Europeans or Africans or South Asians. They're going to release a weapon that will sterilize non Chinese males. 80% of Han Chinese males belong to YDNA O haplogroup. You might think why the Jews never did this but you'd be surprised to realize that they were planning it but they couldn't pull through with it because Arabs and Europeans have the same YDNA as Jews. Although most Jews have middle eastern YDNA so they'd kill themselves if they try to kill off the arabs or if they tried to kill of their protectors (Anglo-Europeans/Americans) the arabs would have their collective asses. They might also release another weapon or a super weapon that also targets women based on their mtDNA. Russians might also come up with one but they'd sterilize have their population if they pick their dominant YDNA and relinquish the rest but the Russians aren't bright, thry don't innovate or invent. The Chinese are like that as well but they have the East Asian tendency to refine and advance known technology. The Chinese have stolen so much in the field of viral technology that they might end up sterilizing us all.

You can't seriously be implying you fell for that one? Is it that far fetched that the Czech authorities would play along? You know perfectly well the Western intelligence people are all in it together.

There is plenty more stupidity afoot with that story, Craig Murray spent months on it and is probably the best source if you are really interested. Everything is bogus about that story from the 'Novichok' with which the Russians allegedly framed themselves and was alleged to be only makeable in Russia, to the disappearance of the Skripals after they were kept incommunicado for ages. Julia Skripal obviously wasn't buying the story, she expressed a desire to go home (Russia)

I'm very curious why there is such a narrow focus on the WIV, when other likely vectors have been memory-holed. Here's a few —

9 February 2020

“The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of China has officially demanded that the United States explain that biohazard containers were found buried in the evacuated consulate general in Wuhan. The PRC security forces cordoned off other US diplomatic missions in the country.

An official statement by the Foreign Ministry said that the containers were found on January 30 after the US consulate general in Wuhan was evacuated in full on a special board of the US Air Force in connection with the outbreak of a new virus. The search was carried out after Chinese intelligence handed over certain “undeniable materials”, the contents of which have not yet been disclosed.”

— Here's another, not widely reported —

2nd February 2020

-(Russia) According to William Ebbs, several Russian scientists believe America created the Wuhan coronavirus in order to make tonnes of money by subsequently coming up with an antidote or vaccine.

Russian media sources suggest the novel disease, provisionally known as 2019-nCoV, could be an American made bio-weapon designed to sabotage China. The claims have had significant airtime on mainstream Russian media and could be part of Vladimir Putin's efforts to discredit U.S interests in the region.

“The Chinese believe the coronavirus is created by the Americans,” the popular Komsomolskaya Pravda reported, citing as proof that the virus was “genetically shaped in the American laboratories,” the claim that “all the infected are Asians!” and there are “no Europeans.” (this part since proved wrong: Uncle Mengele wants to kill humanity in general: he only picks on blacks and browns because they're easier for Bill Gates to get at) — And the one that most explains the Mengeles' strategy, is this, reported by an American team: [from a Fartbook post I made in April 2020]

'The much-vilified Wuhan seafood market is NOT the source of the outbreak, as is WELL-KNOWN. The Patient One who took her virus TO that market was a US military person, one Maatje Benassi, who was residing in a hotel less than a kilometre away, who visited the market with fellow attendees at the Wuhan World Military Games, being held in the city.

The hotel became a 'hot spot', but Patient One, Maatje Benassi had travelled to Wuhan from Fort Belvoir, not far from the Chapel Hill BSL4 lab. She had also travelled from the infamous Richard Lugar Centre in Tblisi Georgia, where sarin gas was made and supplied to terrorists in Syria in 2013.' [And the clincher: Benassi and her team of 300 servicepersons did their FINAL training before embarking for Wuhan, at Fort Detrick] — Additionally to all that are the evidences piling up, that the 37 bio-warfare labs run by US companies associated with Hunter Biden, in "Ukraine" were doing weaponising research on coronavirus, among many other pathogens.

Do you believe the “small rogue element” in the USA government (as described by Ron Unz) is capable of sending out a swarm of drones all over China to decimate their pigs with a pathogen? Not me. Chinese might be able to do that in USA, say with the bird flu going on now, but not the other way around; Chinese track the foreign nationals too closely.

Yeah-bull-shit, troll. The USA has refused to allow the Bio-weapons Treaty Inspection regime to operate for TWENTY years. So much for 'defensive', you lying troll. I invite everyone to read Whitney Webb's series on US bio-warfare in The Last American Vagabond and elsewhere to see just how flagrant a lie that is. And there is much more besides her work, such as the Bulgarian journalist Dilyana Gaytandzhieva with her work in particular focused on the Lugar Centre in Georgia, near Tbilisi but also listing research on offensive bio-weapons in twenty-five countries around the world.

Where did Shiro Ishii, the butcher vivisectionist of humans of Unit 731 infamy go for sanctuary after WW2? The USA, which then waged bio-warfare under his direction in Korea. US bio-warfare research goes back, at least, to after WW1. Who introduced African Swine fever and dengue to Cuba? The USA. Why does the USA have more bio-labs researching bio-weapons than the rest of the world combined, around the world, including at least twelve in Ukraine? Why did the Indian Ministry of Home Affairs formally complain of US collaboration with a private lab in India, researching the hideous Nipah virus (without informing the Federal Government). and of US 'prospectors' obtaining specimens from bats and (human)bat-hunters in Assam, again without informing the Government? Is there any evidence? Please correct me if I'm wrong, but from what I see, the basis for this supposed NCIM report are ABC and Israel — Jews.

Not an assemblage Ron Unz would be particularly credulous of 'reports' from. But in this context he seemingly supposes it all to be as solid as God's garage floor.

In Ron's response to you from December he says that there was little Chinese population in Qom, but:

The most damning indictment of Iran's crisis response came on Feb. 24, when Mohammad Hossein Bahreini, the president of Mashhad University of Medical Sciences, in an interview with the state-run Iranian Students' News Agency admonished that the "presence of 700 Chinese clerical students in the Qom Seminary prepared the ground for dissemination" of the coronavirus all over Iran. The interview was removed shortly after publication and repudiated by state-linked media later. On the same day, Ahmad Amirabadi Farahani, a member of parliament from Qom who sits on the parliamentary presiding board, cited Bahreini as saying that the first deaths caused by COVID-19 in Qom came on Feb. 13, that is, six days before Iran's official announcement of the coronavirus outbreak in Qom.

<https://foreignpolicy.com/2020/03/24/how-iran-botched-coronavirus-pandemic-response/>

With Iran's economy so dependent on China and its Belt and Road investment, it's no wonder they quickly tried to cover up any idea that Chinese students – likely returning from Chinese New Year celebrations – could ever be the cause of anything.

Another factor that made Qom more susceptible was it's focus on mass religious meetings. The first major outbreak in S. Korea was tied to an old lady attending a born again church with something like a thousand people in attendance.

When Iran finally did take concerted action to contain the spread, domestic politics and religious ideology impaired its effectiveness.

The city's Friday prayer leader opposed quarantining the Fatima Masumeh Shrine, dubbing it an enemy plot to deal a "reputational blow" to "the sanctuary of Shiites in the world."

I already said it– Korea. There, China, has an easily resupplied proxy that is an undercover ally, has its own nuclear deterrent, and tens of thousand of US soldiers within reach. A land war in Asia against an apparently minor power being quietly backed by China (maybe Russia to now) is not one America would be keen to escalate. That would be a rerun of Korean and Vietnamese wars.

On the political front, North Korea could announce that it believes the Covid -19 pandemic was an attack on North Korea , and name those in the US who it believes were behind the bioweapon use (such as Pompeo and Bolton), but make clear the US as a whole was of course accountable because the responsibility to ensure that conspiratorial groups within the US of A did not use weapons of mass destruction in attacks on other countries was all America's China would be getting its message across in an indirect way by using Kim's NK as a cat's paw (as it has already been used in a way against Trump), and Xi's China would avoid the risk of nuclear exchange. There is little doubt that China exerts a shadowy overlordship on Pyongyang and the regime of Kim is beholden Beijing. The progress made by North Korea in developing a thermonuclear warhead and ICBM capability would be astounding if achieved without key technical assistance from China. Anyway, the North Koreans would have their own reasons for participating in a punitive war on the US in South Korea.

<https://www.unz.com/pfrost/they-wont-be-only-ones/>

North Korean shelling of Yeongpyeong Island, November 23, 2010. Why are tensions rising in Korea? There has been much talk about B.R. Myers' book: The Cleanest Race: How North Koreans See Themselves—and Why It Matters. Far from being communists, the North Koreans are, well, Nazis. And that matters a lot to us. Or so the book argues.

Actually, North Koreans see themselves pretty much the same way they saw themselves back in the 1950s. The most interesting change has been among Westerners—and Americans in particular. We no longer view ourselves as heirs of a specific ethnic and national tradition. Indeed, blood relationships scarcely matter at all in the West, except within the confines of the nuclear family—and even that last bastion has fallen for almost half of all adults. The market economy is becoming the sole organizing principle of our social life. {...] The North Korean leadership no longer sees the conquest of South Korea as a goal that can be pushed indefinitely into the future. It is something that must happen soon—before the demographic changes in the South become irreversible. Yes, war is coming ..

Russia would not be sad at the US being engaged in Korea, especially now. The most important result of the war in Ukraine is it has altered the strategic calculus among the big three.

Defensive biowarfare infrastructure is what the US has been spending on since the Reagan era when an international treaty was signed forbidding the development of offensive capabilities (ie viruses).

Well, that “defensive” biowarfare infrastructure was responsible for all those high-profile anthrax deaths just after 9/11, the only documented case of a biowarfare attack on American soil in modern times.

And a forty-year veteran of American “biodefense” had an important perspective on these issues, which I republished and cited in my first April 2020 article:

<https://www.unz.com/article/was-coronavirus-a-biowarfare-attack-against-china/>

As Scott Ritter and numerous other WMD experts have pointed out, the only difference between work on “biodefense” and “biowarfare” is the invisible question of intent. Furthermore, America’s government and MSM had completely lied about our illegal use of biowarfare during the Korean War:

With Iran's economy so dependent on China and its Belt and Road investment, it's no wonder they quickly tried to cover up any idea that Chinese students – likely returning from Chinese New Year celebrations – could ever be the cause of anything.

Your proposed scenario involves the random spread of Covid from Wuhan in China to Iran or other countries, and the likelihood would obviously be proportional to the size of the local Chinese population.

My point was that Iran has one of the lowest Chinese populations in the world, totaling just a few thousand, of which your source says 700 were located in Qom. Meanwhile, 300,000 Chinese lived and work in Northern Italy, 150,000 did the same in Spain, and there are millions of Chinese living in the US and Canada.

While it's possible that the disease randomly spread to Qom, Iran before it heavily hit any of those other countries, that scenario seems exceptionally unlikely.

As Robert Kadlec had emphasized in his late 1990s articles, a crucial advantage of biowarfare attacks is that they allow "plausible deniability." But "implausible deniability" seems to work fine for lots of people as well.

If this was some kind of rogue neocon-CIA attack against China (I'm willing to grant a 1 out of 3 plausibility to the idea) then it would have been intended as economic warfare. Not like MacArthur's wish to drop atomic bombs along the Yalu River (which Truman rejected), but simply done with the intent of disrupting the Chinese economy. As it happens the US economy had also been badly disrupted and it's quite plausible that China may be planning its own measures of economic warfare in the future. But there would be no reason for China to insist on a military response to something which was meant as economic warfare (if it really did occur).

Are the Chinese such morons that they would not be expected to have figured out who was attacking them. Are the Chinese going to stand for such an attack, and why wouldn't they expect another one if they did nothing? I think they would know, and have to do something very drastic to the US in retaliation.

Well, they wouldn't have proof, so what good would accusations do?

For example, the Iranian government and MSM explicitly accused the US of illegally attacking its political leadership with the Covid bioweapon and they even filed a formal complaint with the UN.

Since the US controls both the global media and the UN, nothing happened and no one in America even heard about it. I was closely following the Covid outbreak and I only heard about the Iranian accusations a year later.

Similar Chinese accusations without any results or consequences might make the PRC government look weak. Or maybe the Chinese population would get angry enough to put pressure on their government to take military steps they preferred to avoid.

A few months ago, Russia's top military and political leadership publicly claimed that they had hard evidence American-controlled biolabs in Ukraine had been preparing illegal biowarfare attacks against Russia. I can't say whether or not all those charges were true, but what good did the public accusations do?

There's overwhelming evidence that America illegally used biowarfare during the Korean War, but the very strong Chinese evidence was ignored and disbelieved for 70 years because the West controlled the global media, and American MSM control is far stronger today:

@Ron Unz

While it's possible that the disease randomly spread to Qom, Iran before it heavily hit any of those other countries, that scenario seems exceptionally unlikely.

I believe the key word is heavily and how we interpret that.

Issues leading to increased early cases in Iran

1. Lack of medical equipment and preparedness by the Iranians leading to more excess spread.
2. Political and religious reasons to avoid bans on large meetings and other issues such as still allowing in flights from China even past a national ban
3. 700 Chinese students in Qom (a city of 900,000 people).

Issues leading to decreased early cases in USA

1. More effective early screening and flight bans
2. Difficulty in locating cases in a large population

CDC director Dr. Robert Redfield said that the number of cases of COVID-19 until late January was so low, that finding them, even if testing had been more widespread, would be like “looking for a needle in a haystack.”

<https://time.com/5844858/first-us-coronavirus-cases/>

3. Lack of testing equipment

Quest Diagnostics, based in New Jersey, says the company released its COVID-19 test on March 9, and plans to perform tens of thousands of tests a week within six weeks.

Taken together, that's still a tiny fraction of the number that should be conducted in a country of 327 million people, say experts. As of March 11, CDC, state and public health labs have conducted more than 11,000 tests since mid-January. By comparison, South Korea has tested more than 200,000 of its population of 51 million since January.

<https://time.com/5801790/coronavirus-testing-us/>

By April 1st 2020 Iran had 47,593 cases vs 212,747 in US, thusly better reflecting the amount of cases once testing was more up to spread.

Personally speaking I feel that a natural origin and spread is still a possibility, but also understand in the scope of 20-21st century history the bio-weapon theory makes a lot of sense and don't discount it either.

Students are indeed an unlikely path.

There is a much more straightforward route. Both China and Iran are central plan economies with State Owned Enterprises [SOE]. Iran's commercial/religious leadership also tends towards gerontocracy, as ties to the revolution yield political strength.

It is not hard to imagine young, healthy, mildly symptomatic, CCP officials travelling to Iran and meeting with their revolutionary counterparts. After the CCP accidentally contaminated the Iranian gerontocracy, this pool of patients suffered consequences statistically consistent with their age and pre-existing conditions.

Smart, honest observers see this extremely obvious & plausible connection. Yet some people do not. Could it be that confirmation bias leads to “implausible denialism”?

If this was some kind of rogue neocon-CIA attack against China (I'm willing to grant a 1 out of 3 plausibility to the idea) then it would have been intended as economic warfare.

The Chinese could hardly act on the assumption that they knew what the intention behind it was or that the perpetrators not repeating the gambit could be left to their own self interest. Are they supposed to be reading articles in Unz Review on the pandemic and taking everything Ron says as Gospel?; because how could the Chinese know that Ron is correct or not being deliberately misleading on behalf of the conspiracy, which he could be an asset of. Mr Unz has included among his friends generals who were top officials in the Defense Intelligence Agency if I recall rightly. I would note that Ron says the same covid bioweapon used in China was used to attack Iran with the intention of killing members of the Iranian leadership, so why would the Chinese think they had not faced a similarly merciless operation with the objective of exterminating them by a Beltway-Langley Deep State cabal that may still have its hands on the lever of power?

| Not like MacArthur's wish to drop atomic bombs along the Yalu River

It was not like something that was actually done, I agree. The US did not use the Bomb, merely toyed with the idea and quickly dismissed it. The Chinese with the pandemic are supposedly (in the scenario we are discussing) faced with a American conspiracy cocooned within the state structure of the USA clandestinely deploying a bioweapon in Wuhan where China had its virology institute, and thus only be interpretable as an intention to frame China for the whole thing,, including any global pandemic unexpectedly ensuing.

China may be planning its own measures of economic warfare in the future. But there would be no reason for China to insist on a military response to something which was meant as economic warfare

Hardly pure economic warfare this American attack with a bespoke virus that was intended to damage the Chinese economy by infecting millions of Chinese and killing many thousand so that the country had to be lockdown.

Anyway, there would be every reason for China to discount the idea that a virus attack that eventually shook China not merely economically but politically in the way the Covid-19 pathogen did recently might well strongly incentivize use of another (better designed to hit ethnic Chinese perhaps) such bioweapon in the hope of toppling the government of China and sending it into anarchic chaos for a generation. I stand by my conclusion that were it a bioweapon attack China would know it was and who did it; they would have to act in no uncertain manner to deter a repeat

Do you believe the “small rogue element” in the USA government (as described by Ron Unz) is capable of sending out a swarm of drones all over China to decimate their pigs with a pathogen?

Yes. Easily.

Just like I accept the history of 1763–64: Britain wages biological warfare with smallpox

“The British give smallpox-contaminated blankets to Shawnee and Lenape (Delaware) communities—an action sanctioned by the British officers Sir Jeffery Amherst and his replacement, General Thomas Gage.”

<https://www.nlm.nih.gov/nativevoices/timeline/229.html>

or...

The history of Biological Warfare at the 1346 Siege of Caffa-

Where arrows would rain down on the city contaminated with plague infected blood and catapults would launch plague infected dead bodies into the city in acts of biological warfare.

This biowarfare stuff is old hat. What do you think the U.S. Intelligence Community (IC) in dirty tricks world does all day and gets paid for?

Just from a military perspective alone the U.S. has conducted biowarfare experiments on its own people/population...

“Operation Sea-Spray was a 1950 U.S. Navy secret biological warfare experiment in which Serratia marcescens and Bacillus globigii bacteria were sprayed over the San Francisco Bay Area in California, in order to determine how vulnerable a city like San Francisco may be to a bioweapon attack.”

“Starting on September 20, 1950 and continuing until September 27, the U.S. Navy released the two types of bacteria from a ship off the shore of San Francisco, believing them to be harmless to humans. Based on results from monitoring equipment at 43 locations around the city, the Army determined that San Francisco had received enough of a dose for nearly all of the city’s 800,000 residents to inhale at least 5,000 of the particles.”

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Operation_Sea-Spray

Also if a set of ‘rogue operations’ bagainst China... it would explain the removal of Trump and the fact that Biden was never legitimately elected. Ron Unz approaches the basic and growing material with enough documentation to walk around in conspiracy theory connect the dots world with reason.

What is small is easily scattered.

– Lao Tzu

It never had legs as far as I am concerned. Nor do I believe the lab leak explanation has been adequately disproved. though, assuming a novel covid exists, I lean toward it being a GMO. Alas, the Unz Hunch depends too much on a fragile/narrow chronology of when and why. Furthermore, it does not explain — it cannot explain — all the mass censorship, lockdowns and obsession with vaccinating everyone. No “small rogue element” in the US government has that sort of power.

Finally, why call it “American” at all when the alleged perpetrators were targeting Iran and are probably composed of Jewish foreign policy freaks who are almost by definition Israel First? And are these the only countries tinkering around with harmful germs?

p.s I would like to know the truth about this biodrop. I believe the people of the world deserve to get the truth about who was behind these crimes. But I do not believe this is the way to go about it. I consider it a ruse and distraction for the purpose of being a sterile dead end. I think Ron Unz knows this too. His avoidance of many concerns speaks volumes. And his half hearted crusade (if you can call it that) to manifest some kind of call to action has absolutely nothing to show. Nada.

<https://www.unz.com/akarlin/assassination-quality/>

Most things in life are strongly g loaded, from obvious things such as socio-economic success and chess ability to less obvious ones such as an appreciation for Indian cuisine or quality terrorism.

Assassinations are no different. Assassination quality seems to be a function of national IQ, plus the levels of remuneration and prestige with the national intelligence services.

Mossad is really, really good at this game. Stands to reason.

High IQ, incredible prestige, decent money. The Soviets were also very good at it.

Again, very high prestige – the KGB only recruited from the best universities.

Incidentally, the post-Soviet penetration of the Russian state by former KGB men was not so much the result of a conspiracy as the natural effects of a high concentration reservoir of human capital gradually spilling out into society. Modern Russia has rather less to write home about, with its current spies seemingly unfamiliar with the very concept of OPSEC. Not surprising, considering the sort of people it hires.

Actually, Ruslan Boshirov and Alexander Petrovin were GRU. In the Soviet times the GRU were those thought not up to KGB recruitment standards. Putin was in KGB counter intel which was a very sought after assignment within the KGB, and rare for someone lacking in connections to get. Many in that department were the children of Soviet officials.

China is surrounded by the military bases of the most genocidal, destructive and aggressive force for Evil in history, the USA. They are as close as the increasingly militarised 'South Korean' island of Jeju, and include bases in Japan, South Korea, Guam, Australia and elsewhere, and the roving marauders of the US Navy. NO such Chinese bases are anywhere near the USA, or anybody else, because China has ONE overseas base, in Djibouti in the Horn of Africa. Moreover US elites NEVER cease speaking of their desire to '..bring China down', they have and are spending tens of billions on separatist terrorism in Tibet, Xinjiang, Hong Kong, 'South' Mongolia and elsewhere in China, support the rebel regime in Taiwan and have launched economic warfare against China. And the USA has launched a number of bio-warfare attacks on China in recent years, first targeting the food supply, then CoViD19.

Yet, despite ALL that, this troll attempts to paint China as the aggressor. That takes REAL chutzpah, but the troll is certainly down to that task.

“Patient One who took her virus TO that market was a US military person, one Maatje Benassi, who was residing in a hotel less than a kilometre away, who visited the market with fellow attendees at the Wuhan World Military Games, being held in the city.”

No no no. Ron has said, with certainty, that the US team were NOT staying at the purported hotel near the ‘wet markets’. He doesn’t say where the team WERE staying, just that they were NOT at the hotel postulated.

I have spent considerable trying to find-out things about the US team to the games, with ZERO success. I can not find a list of competitor’s names. I can not find photos of the team members in which individuals are identifiable. I can not find comparison of success rate of the US team compared with success at previous games.

The whole ‘debate’ on natural versus accidental release from a laboratory is a pre-prepared false dichotomy. Most likely by far is virus was developed in one(or more) of the many bio- warfare labs located in Ukraine. Why in Ukraine and not in US? Because the US government holds that US laws that constrain the US government from certain activities do not apply outside the physical US. That is why they have Guantanamo Bay. ‘Oh US law doesn’t apply there; it’s not in the US.’ At the same time, of course, they assert that US law applies anywhere in the world.

So, unlawful activity carried out in Ukraine is not just not unlawful, but can not be physically subject to any audit.

Ron here is an excerpt from a comment that I found on the web. It contains a number of assertions which might, or not, be true. Can you please state which are true, if any, and which are either false, partly false, or of unknown veracity. I have added the numbering to facilitate your response.

TIA

Strangely enough, about nine months ago you'd left a very similar comment, and at the time I explained that you'd probably fallen for an Internet hoax that had been widely circulated a couple of years ago:

<https://www.unz.com/runz/two-years-after-covid-american-eyes-remain-firmly-shut/?showcomments#comment-5277486>

The whole story was probably just concocted by pro-China propaganda-activists, and I'd never paid any attention to it since it lacked any documentation and the Internet is filled with enormous quantities of nonsense.

I can't imagine why anyone would believe something they read on some random website somewhere. But all too many people are extremely gullible.

Ron your response is not worthy of you. I don't believe anything. I want to see evidence. Are you saying that all those assertions are false?

@RoboMoralFascist 1st

| Can I hope that you are not going to tell us that Jackie killed Jack?

As I recall Unz covered that when he was aired on the world's most popular radio show, Red Ice. Ha. Why get into that any further?

But really, why doesn't Ronnie interview RFK Jr. (and Dr. Peter McCullough, and Dr. Jay Bhattacharya, etc.) about covid origins and vaxxing? Have a separate interview with RFK jr. on the Mossad connection to the assassination of JFK. Put it on Unz TV Network...

Meanwhile, where are the petitions, the town hall meetings, the hearings, etc.? Why does UR feel like an echo chamber and look like a sound proof room?

There are probably tens or hundreds of billions of web pages on the Internet. Why should you or anyone else pay any attention to the nonsense that some random person happened to write on one of them? I certainly won't.
