Vražda se ve Spojených státech stále více stává černou záležitostí.

FBI sleduje statistiky vražd, včetně rasy obětí a pachatelů. Značný počet vražd však má neznámé pachatele. Zde vyvíjím metodu, která kombinuje data o viktimizaci CDC a data o pachatelích FBI, aby vytvořila spolehlivější statistiky o páčání vražd. Analýza poskytuje vodítka o rozložení neznámých pachatelů.

Number of Homicide Victims/Offenders, Black

Černá čára je odhad @Scientific_Bird s použitím údajů FBI (modrá čára) a dat CDC (červená čára) černého podílu všech pachatelů vražd. Podíl černochů se výrazně zhoršil od počátku 80. let, kdy byl černý podíl pachatelů vražd ve vyšších 40 letech, do roku „rasového zúčtování“ 2020, kdy dosáhl téměř 65 %.

Po relativním klidu éry Cosbyho (první Reaganovo funkční období) přišla trhлина. Poté, co popraskané války skončily, se černý podíl usadil na nižších 50. letech. Během Velké recese hispánská vražda poklesla (z málo prozkoumaných důvodů), což zvýšilo podíl černochů. Pak přišel Fergusonův efekt a nakonec velkolepý Floydův efekt v roce 2020.

Pointa je v tomto:

Pokud by se takové otřesné, hanebné chování dalo připsat bílým americkým mužům, dobře od Jovea, rozhodně byste neslyšeli jeho konec a jistě by byla občanská práva bílých mužů zbavena politiků, kteří by se navzájem převyšovali výkřiky odsuzujícími bílé. muži.

Few Americans know it, but in fact Richard Nixon, even more than John Kennedy or Lyndon Johnson, shaped the civil-rights landscape we inhabit today. Nixon broke the will of the South, making school desegregation, long on the books but largely unimplemented, a reality for millions of children black and white. He presided over the nationalization of the Voting Rights Act, extending it beyond the South to cover all Americans—including Latinos. He oversaw the birth of bilingual education and averted the death of historically black colleges. Most important, for better or worse, he and his aides created affirmative action as we know it, turning a vague idea about a leg up at the starting gate into a vast national web of “goals and timetables” at colleges, corporations, and government contracting agencies.

We’re living in a world created by people who think of themselves as “nice”. Not loyal, but “nice” and bound by principle. The kind of people who pat themselves on the back for hurting their own people for the sake of a Higher Principle.

Yes, yes, yes, but are there enough black female meteorologists!

<https://www.washingtonpost.com/weather/2023/02/03/black-women-meteorologists-tv-weather/>

The American Meteorology Society (AMS) found that Black and African American meteorologists made up 2 percent of the entire membership in 2020, the last year it collected data. The ratio of Black men to women is 60 percent to 40 percent — indicating that Black women make up less than 1 percent of members. That data also includes the news industry. The National Association of Black Journalists says there are about 138 Black meteorologists in journalism across the United States. Of Black meteorologists, about 46 percent are women, according to Jason Frazer, NABJ's weather and climate task force chair.

“While African Americans make up about 13.6% of the US population, they represent only about 5.5% of the Meteorologists you see on television,” Frazer, a meteorologist and co-host for Fox Weather First, wrote in an email. “That is significantly less than the number of Black TV Anchors and Reporters.”

When will there be equity for black women among oil riggers! Or Alaskan fisherman! Or loggers! Or smokejumpers! Or rocket scientists!

I see that the latest big and long rise started in '08, as well as I can read the graph. I do not discount your correlations of black crime with the big Infotainment pushes for black worship in '14 and '20.

However, consider a simpler cause – raw numbers. All it would take if for a larger number of black guys of the appropriate age range (pretty wide, what 15 to 45 or so?) and temperament to bring the numbers up too.

What do I mean by “temperment”? You know it when you see it, but consider the effect of a half century of the Welfare State, along with the massive immigration. There are many more black men of that age with enough means not to be struggling but no jobs. Many, many more. As Peak Stupidity discussed in Idle Hands are the Devil's Workshop (written May 30th of '20) black men are much more prone to using free time to cause mayhem than White men are. I've seen it.

So, as usual, you have nature – my last paragraph – and the environment – Socialism and mass immigration (massive replacement of cheap labor) both causing effects in people. The Kung Flu PanicFest, with its huge amount of spending of ~~Government~~ taxpayers' money was a great experiment in UBI. The results were not very good at all, were they?

A quibble – the Cosby show started in 1984. The Cosby Era would really more accurately be seen as the second Reagan term, and perhaps the Bush term as well (the show went until 1992).

@Twinkie

As for the TV “Meteorologists”, listen, anyone can get the weather off his phone in a few seconds. There’s nothing they can tell you that you can’t look up quickly yourself. Then what do you want in a TV weatherman, nowadays? Tits and ass, is what it comes down to. What’s the point, otherwise?

This Brittany Bell popped up on youtube, and she is pretty good looking. However, how do we know completely if she doesn’t do the weather in a bikini?

Now, here’s the weather in Chile from about a decade ago. Not so many viewers watch just to know the historic high and low temperatures in Valparaiso.
