První návrh mimořádných událostí, které se v Rusku odehrály v Nejdělsí den – sobotu 24. června – nás přivádí ke zcela nové plechovce červů.

Globální většina moc chce vědět, co bude dál. Podívejme se na klíčové figurky na šachovnici.

Ministr zahraničí Sergej Lavrov kráčí na plné obrátky: připomněl všem, že hegemonův modus operandi je podporovat pokusy o převrat, kdykoli to může být užitečné. To se shoduje se skutečností, že FSB aktivně vyšetřuje, zda a jak se západní zpravodajská služba podílela na The Longest Day.

Narážka na kolektivní Západ – od ministra zahraničí Anthonyho Blinkena dolů – zběsile se snaží distancovat, i když CIA prostřednictvím svého typického hlásného troubu, Washington Post, prozradila, že věděla o „vzpouře“.

Program byl bolestně zřejmý: Kyjev prohrávající na všech frontách bude rituálně pohřben od zdi ke zdi pokrytím falešné ruské „občanské války“.

Neexistuje žádná kuřácká zbraň – zatím. FSB však sleduje několik vodítek, aby demonstrovala, jak byla „povstání“ vytvořena CIA/NATO. Díky velkolepému selhání je nadcházející summit NATO 11. července ve Vilniusu ještě žhavější.

Číňané, podobně jako Lavrov, se také pustili do pronásledování: Global Times tvrdily, že myšlenka „Wagnerova vzpoura oslabující Putinovu autoritu je zbožným přáním Západu“, přičemž „silná odstrašovací schopnost“ Kremlu jeho autoritu dále zvyšuje. To je přesně čtení ruské ulice.

Číňané dospěli k závěru po zásadní návštěvě náměstka ministra zahraničních věcí Andreje Rudenka, který v neděli 25. června promptně odletěl do Pekingu. Takto funguje železný strategický partnerství v praxi.

„Povstání“ jako PR trik

Pravděpodobně nejlepší vysvětlení matic a šroubů The Longest Day zatím nabídl Rostislav Ischenko.

Globální většina se bude radovat, že Prigožinovo divadlo nakonec nechalo kolektivní Západ omámený, zmatený a rozbitý: nemělo to celé rozpoutat totální chaos uvnitř ruské společnosti a armády?

I když probíhala falešná, bleskurychlá „vzpouře“, Rusko pokračovalo v bušení do kyjevských sil – které mimochodem roztočily, že hlavní fáze „protiofenzívy“ byla zahájena přesně 24. června v noci. . To byl, jak se dalo předpokládat, další bluf.

Zpátky do ruské ulice. „Povstání“ – zasazené do velmi spletitého spiknutí – bylo nakonec široce interpretováno jako jen další vojenská demonstrace (cemistrem Prigožinem, nikoli drtivou většinou Wagnerových vojáků). „Povstání“ se ukázalo jako západní PR trik, série (nakonec vybledlých) obrázků pro globální spotřebu.

Ale teď se věci musí stát mnohem vážnějšími.

Lavrov znovu poukázal na roli, kterou sehrává stále zvelebovaný Le Petit Roi, Emmanuel Macron, přímo tam se Spojenými státy:

Takže stejně jako Kyjev a kolektivní západní média, dodal Lavrov, Macron zůstává součástí jediného „stroje“ pracujícího proti Moskvě. To souvisí s Putinem, který o Macronově nedělní intervenci prohlásil, že „celá západní vojenská, ekonomická a informační mašinérie se dala do pohybu proti nám“.

A to je fakt.

Sázka na „dlouhodobou ekonomickou blokádu“

K zlověstnějším mrakům na obzoru přispívá další skutečnost.

Zatímco nikdo nedával pozor, přesně v osudných 24. a 25. června se v Kodani konal minikongres představitelů národní bezpečnosti.

Pravděpodobně diskutovali o „míru na Ukrajině“. Předsedou nebyl nikdo jiný než americký poradce pro národní bezpečnost Jake Sullivan.

Setkání byly přítomny Brazílie, Německo, Velká Británie, Francie, Itálie, Dánsko, Indie, Kanada, Saúdská Arábie, Turecko, Jižní Afrika, Japonsko, Ukrajina – a příslovečný eurokrat nesuverénní EU.

Všimněte si většiny G7, bok po boku se třemi BRICS a dvěma aspirujícími členy BRICS+.

„Mír na Ukrajině“ znamená v tomto kontextu tzv. 10bodový „Zelensky mírový plán“, který implikuje totální ruskou strategickou porážku – kompletní s obnovením Ukrajiny v hranicích z roku 1991 a zaplacením kolosálních „reparací“ Moskvou.

Není divu, že Čína nebyla jeho součástí. Přesto tam byly tři BRICS – říkejte jim nejslabší uzly. Budoucí členové BRICS a BRICS+ tvoří šest „swingových států“, kterým se Hegemon bude neúnavně dvořit a/nebo je podrobí tvrdým hybridním válkám, aby se „chovaly“, pokud jde o Ukrajinu: Brazílie, Indie, Jižní Afrika, Turecko, Saúdská Arábie, a Indonésie.

Pak je tu 11. <sup>sankční</sup> balíček EU, který posouvá ekonomickou válku proti Rusku na zcela novou úroveň, jak dosvědčuje úřadující stálý zástupce při EU Kirill Logvinov.

Logvinov vysvětlil, jak „Brusel má v úmyslu zatáhnout do této války co nejvíce zemí (...) Je zde jasný posun od neúspěšné bleskové války, která měla údajně způsobit nenapravitelné škody Rusku, k vícetahové hře s cílem vytvořit jakousi dlouhodobou ekonomickou blokádu proti naší zemi.

To je nezřetěněné území hybridní války – a klíčovými cíli je šest „swingových států“.

Logvinov poznamenal, že „EU vždy raději používá vydírání a nátlak. Vzhledem k tomu, že EU zůstává pro mnoho zemí největším hospodářským partnerem a také zdrojem investic a finančním dárce, má Brusel zjevně dostatek páky k vyvinutí tlaku. Očekává se tedy, že boj EU proti obcházení sankcí bude zdlouhavý a nekompromisní.“

Vítáme vás tedy u extrateritoriálních sankcí, uvádějících na černou listinu společnosti ze třetích zemí ve stylu EU, které jsou „podezřelé“ z reexportu zakázaného zboží do Ruska nebo se podílejí na obchodu s ropou, aniž by vzaly v úvahu takzvaný cenový strop ruské ropy.

Zábava na běloruském slunci

Jaká bude mezi tolika lacinými vzrušeními další role hlavního aktéra ve filmu Nejdělní den (a ještě předtím)? A záleží na tom?

Čínští učenci nám rádi připomínají, že v dobách čínských nepokojů – například na konci dynastií Han a Tang – bylo důvodem vždy to, že vojevůdci neplnili rozkazy císaře.

Janičáři Osmanské říše – jejich tehdejší Wagner – měli chránit sultána a vést jeho války. Skončili tím, že se rozhodli, kdo by mohl být sultán – stejně jako legionáři Římské říše nakonec rozhodli, kdo bude císař.

Čínská rada je vždy prozíravá: Dejte si pozor na to, jak používáte své vojáky. Ujistěte se, že věří tomu, za co bojují. Jinak se otočí, aby vás kousli.

A to nás přivádí k tomu, že Prigožin znovu mění svůj příběh (je na to specialista).

Nyní říká, že 23. až 24. června byla jen pouhá „demonstrace“ k vyjádření své nespokojenosti. Hlavním cílem bylo prokázat převahu Wagnera nad ruskou armádou.

Všichni o tom věděli: Wagnerovi vojáci bojují den co den již více než 10 let v Libyi, Sýrii, Středoafričské republice a na Ukrajině.

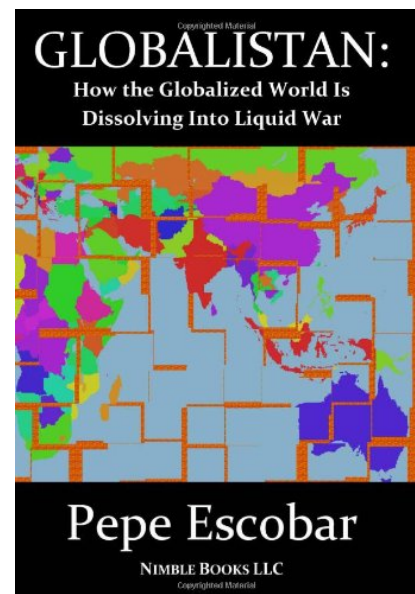

A proto se mohl pochlubit, že „Wagner postoupil o 700 km, aniž by narazil na odpor. Pokud by je Rusko požádalo, aby vedly válku od začátku, bylo by po tom v noci 24. února 2022.“

Prigožin také naráží na dohodu s Běloruskem – položení další mlhy války kolem možného převodu Wagnera pod běloruskou jurisdikci. NATO je už předem vyděšené. Očekávejte další nafouknuté vojenské rozpočty – které budou uvaleny na summitu ve Vilniusu příští měsíc.

V Bělorusku v Mogilevské oblasti se již staví tábory pro nejméně 8 000 bojovníků Wagner – podle „Vyorstky“ („Rozvržení“).

Skutečný příběh za tím je, že Bělorusko již delší dobu očekávalo možný útok zuřivého Polska. Souběžně s tím, jak poslat NATO do extra šíleného režimu, Moskva by mohla uvažovat o otevření nové fronty mezi Lvovem a Kyjevem.

Wagner v Bělorusku dává naprostý smysl. Běloruská armáda není zrovna silná. Wagner zajišťuje ruskou západní frontu. To vyvolá v NATO velké peklo – i obrazně řečeno, a donutí je utrácet ještě astronomičtější částky. A Wagner může vesele využívat letiště v Bělorusku k provozování svých – přeznačených – aktivit v západní Asii a Africe.

Všechno, co se stalo od The Longest Day, je součástí nového dramatického dějového zvratu v běžící sérii – mnohem poutavější než cokoliv, co by mohl Netflix nabídnout.

Zdá se však, že to, co většina ruského veřejného mínění skutečně očekává, není další fraška Jízda valkýry. Očekávají vážné vyčerpání byrokratické bažiny sovětského typu a skutečné odhodlání dovést tuto „téměř válku“ k logickému závěru co nejrychleji.

i'm still laughing. i don't know why so many can't get the joke and like meam jojo are still dazed and confused. prigozhin "banished" to belarus, and allowed to take his most loyal mercenaries with him. go on, get out of russia all you bums, go and form your own private military, completely unrelated to the russian army or government. there, that ought to teach them! gee, i hope these "maniacs" don't do something horrible like, like attack kiev, boy don't we know what that's like!

who said the russians don't have a sense of humor? it's just dry as the artic wind and twice as cold.

Russia under Putin has remained what it was under Yeltsin – a looted, oligarch-run country with Putin as the figurehead. They're basically fighting a frozen conflict in the Ukraine having given up much of the gains they made early in the war. They never even stopped the flow of western arms into the Ukraine by destroying the rail system – which means that oligarchs making money is a higher priority than the war.

The oligarchs who stole the wealth of the country in the 1990's were never kicked out and their stolen wealth never taken back.

They expect a serious draining of the Soviet-style bureaucratic swamp, and a real commitment to get this “almost war” to its logical conclusion as quickly as possible.

That’s another effect of having Wagner “out of the way”. The Russian military will now have no more excuses for executing storming operations in critical areas, to break open the stupid war of attrition.

“What happens in Russia” and everywhere, is the can-of-worms gets kicked a few inches more toward the DEAD END of The Road....itself now only a few more inches away. Meanwhile, everybody just keeps on keepin’-on, each after their own peculiar fashion, holding their breaths and “Waitin’ for a miracle.”

It’s hoped-for “shape” and “content” will vary some here-and-there, but basically comes down to the widespread realization that since even the congenital control freaks have finally lost-it, something’s gotta give. This has given rise to a frantic widespread wish that something/anything or somebody/anybody will soon rush into the airless vacuum and take-over the dangling reigns of the run-away world-wagon or blow the game-ending horn or let loose Tesla’s technology or administer a massive dose of MAID to put all the miserable masses at-last to rest....anything but having to actually clean-up the mess.

Panic has set-in throughout “civilization.” Where is that daring Young Man on the shining White Horse galloping up to leap onto the plunging backs of the fear-blinded “leaders” and check the team’s headlong rush to disaster? Where is The Savior striding down from The Clouds to deal out “justice” to the wicked and “salvation” to the righteous? Where is the magic machine that will usher in an age of endless material abundance and free Mankind forever from the drudgery of having to “earn a living”? Where are those conspiracy-theorized schemes supposed to at-least have a go at faking something along those lines? Where is our promised Hollywood Happy Ending to this long night of “self”-besotted debauchery....everything Disneyland-like fresh and new again the morning after?

Here in Indian Country us surviving Free Wild Peoples recognize that our domesticated Human Relations do in-fact need an “intervention.” The good-and-bad news is....this is it.

Emslander,

That's another effect of having Wagner "out of the way". The Russian military will now have no more excuses for executing storming operations in critical areas, to break open the stupid war of attrition.

This war of attrition is deliberate and cunning by design. It is waged on the cheap by Russia. The lopsided casualty rate average since the beginning is about 7 to 1 in Russia's favor. Russia has used the war for development, testing, overhauls, and revision of hardware, doctrine, and experience. Before, the entire Russian military was structured for a DEFENSE WAR of the Motherland. Russian fighting forces have almost never been an invasive or expeditionary force. A war fought outside of Russia has to be logistically structured for the long term.

The acute observer will notice the many changes within the entire military structure, command, personnel, doctrine, and materiel. Another benefit is the depletion of NATO's military arsenal to next to nothing. Time has given the sanctions the necessary effects of severely depleting the West's resources, prosperity, economic instability, stubborn inflation, and ever close to economic collapse.

Why rush things when your enemy is committing such wonderful self harm and slow suicide??

Russia has saved Western Civilization before a number of times. And this is one of them. Russian civilization has shown itself to be superior to any of the West. Based on performance parameters.

One ship I was on came out of the shipyard originally with a certain brand of diesel engine generators. Despite many revisions, modifications, they just would not perform, breaking down, under performing, etc.

Finally, at the request of a very smart Chief Engineer, the Company replaces them with a superb quality brand. The difference was dramatic. Had the company listened to the man with experience and expertise, it could have avoided letting some nobody with just a degree sitting in an office all his life.

In the West, since WWI, WWII, Middle East Wars, the POLITY DID NOT WANT WAR. If the American sheeple, Boobus Americanus had a small amount of truthful news they would not want the JUSA backing Ukraine.

This is a general case of Deductive Theory and Hypothesis chasing the real world to make its dreams come true. From the general to the specific, from the abstract to the concrete, to Induction.

Induction simplified is this: WHAT WORKS. Deduction simplified is WHAT SHOULD WORK A CERTAIN WAY.

If you understand this, then you can begin to get the big picture of why and how decisions are made in our sewer Western countries.

The Russian government's main goal is – or “must be” – to raise peoples' purchasing power / net income according to The Putin. The SMO has achieved that at least for the oligarchs (aka Jews). They have doubled their profits in the past year; same in Jewkraine.

Peskov recently proclaimed that the RUS gvt. also wants to keep going with the privatization of public goods – the peoples' properties.

Putin, Prigozhin and the Danger of Disorder

June 27, 2023

Thomas L. Friedman

The events playing out in Russia feel like the trailer for the next James Bond movie: Vladimir Putin's ex-chef/ex-cyberhacker/recent mercenary army leader, Yevgeny V. Prigozhin, goes rogue.

Prigozhin, a character straight out of "Dr. No," leads a convoy of ex-convicts and soldiers of fortune on a madcap dash to seize the Russian capital, shooting down a few Russian military helicopters along the way. They meet so little resistance that the internet is full of pictures of his mercenaries waiting patiently in line to buy coffee: "Hey, could you put a lid on that? I don't want it to spill on my tank!"

But then, just as suddenly, as Prigozhin's men got within 120 miles of Moscow, he apparently caught wind that his convoy on the open highway would be sitting ducks to a determined air attack. So Prigozhin opted for a plea bargain, arranged by the president of Belarus, and called off his revolution — sorry, didn't mean it, I was just trying to point out some problems with the Russian Army — and everyone called it a day.

It's still not clear if the stone-hearted Putin conveyed any direct threat to his old pal Prigozhin, but as Putin's former bag man, Prigozhin clearly wasn't taking any chances. With good reason. As the ever-helpful president of Belarus, where Prigozhin reportedly surfaced on Tuesday, said, the Russian president told him that he wanted to kill his traitorous mercenary commander, to "squash him like a bug."

Like the sinister Ernst Stavro Blofeld, the Bond villain who leads the international criminal syndicate SPECTRE and was often seen petting his white cat while plotting mayhem, Putin is often seen at his 20-foot-long white table, with visitors usually seated at the far end, where, you suspect, a trapdoor waits, ready to swallow anyone who gets out of line.

Boobus Americanus had a small amount of truthful news they would not want the JUSA backing Ukraine.

i find myself thinking this same thought, many, many times. what i have come to realize, is that most of my fellow americans i talk to, after a brief conversation, actually agree with me on ukraine and israel but look around nervously before telling me, they feel much the same way. let's face facts the mockingbird media, serves the purpose of the new big brother cheka, telling us what we think, if we know what's good for us. we're not as boobus, as they want us to think. of course, i am a thought criminal, as all who attempt to exercise their so-called first amendment rights are, after all the constitution was written by a bunch white supremacist, slave raping, terrorists. obviously, we must totally eradicate all reference and influence of these fucking proto nazis, by burning the constitution to the ground (except for the 14th amendment, of course).

@Poupon Marx

So what exactly is it about “Western Civilization” that renders it having to be “saved” time-and-again by Russia? What exactly is it about Russia that has it time-and-again coming to the rescue of an apparently foundering “Western Civilization”? What exactly is the essential nature of “civilization” itself, as discernible in its actual effects in and upon the LivingLoving Arrangement of Earth and Sky? Does the supposedly uniquely “Russian” variation differ in that respect in any significant way from any other, and if so how specifically?

From here in Indian Country these are things worth wondering-about, and worth devoting some precious attention-to....so as to get some sense of “WHAT WORKS” as mutually beneficial responses to the actual effects of these things here....which Poupon Marx will likely concede are far from consistently salubrious. In-fact, we don’t waste precious attention on speculations about what-ifs and might-bes. Our domesticated Human Relations indulge in more than enough of that.

We do see that failing to look into the essential nature of “civilization” for-instance, and instead taking its propaganda and p.r. as “truthful,” those who are effectively confined within its “field” are time-and-again completely and disastrously blind-sided when some of its far from salubrious characteristics erupt into their own lives....rather than staying limited to areas of the LivingLoving Arrangement they try to keep safely fenced-off from those lives.

It sure looks to us like the “performance parameters” standard has not been rigorously applied to the actual over-all performance of the “civilization” contraption itself. It looks like the many destructive aspects of that performance are generally viewed not as inherent features of the thing, but are instead regularly excused and explained-away as various sorts of “human error.” Frankly, that makes no sense whatsoever to us, even though we can see clearly how and why the “decisions” to do that are made.

Poupon Marx is welcome to induce and/or deduce from that whatever “works” and/or “should work.” Us surviving Free Wild Peoples belonging with and to the Free Wild LivingLoving Arrangement of Earth and Sky will keep on being what we do and doing what we are, as components of their natural immune system.

From a comment in MOA

Prigo was bought and recruited by Western and Ukrainian intelligence during or before the battle of Bakhmut. During the battle he and/or his handlers decided to use Wagner PMC as a tool against the Russian State – to weaken it and to create command paralysis at the right moment.

There are those in Hopi who could say exactly where “Pahana” is. Somebody there might well do just that one of these Days.

Meantime, the revolving stage where various “civilized” versions of The End Times are playing-out for the edification of the several audiences making up what some wannabe demigods might like to think is the immediately-pre post-human population, is a “wheel still in spin.” It looks like they will each in-turn have their chance to fool all of The People all of the time. When they all have inevitably failed miserably, All of us will see finally just exactly what IS what here....and always has been. In that moment will also be revealed of-course what actually ain’t and never was.

Wagner in Belarus makes total sense. The Belarussian Army is not exactly strong. Wagner secures Russia's western front.

I see two problems with this proposal. First, The Belarussian Economy isn't exactly strong either, and Wagner has probably been drawing some really substantial wages. I can imagine a lot of resentment from the regular Belarussian Army if conscripts there learn they're making a small fraction of the wages of the mercenaries

Secondly, Wagner's rebellion will make them untrustworthy for any prospective employers with a lick of sense. Small unit work in far-away places may be their future, if even that.

Maybe notsofast could re-read the above comment 12, supposedly being responded-to here in 17. Nowhere there does this Old Man even vaguely suggest anything about Russia being “part of the west.”

Or maybe notsofast could direct those feces-filled objections to Poupon Marx instead, whose comment 7 did make some specific assertions about ongoing relations between Russia and “Western Civilization.” This Old Indian only posed some questions raised by those assertions, and invited Poupon Marx (who has so-far not responded) to elaborate upon them.

One important lesson for both Russia and the God-fearing world is how the Chechens immediately stood up to protect the motherland and her leader. These are brave and honorable people.

I’ve seen on Telegram channels were Chechen military commanders make it clear to Chechen soldiers that this is a battle against the Godlessness of the Globohomo West.

I doubt that the CIA have had foreknowledge of the “Mutiny”.

The Russian Army was. It was the reason Wagner has been denied heavy arms. Shoigu and Gerasimov knew it and allowed it to conclude in favour of Moscow and Minsk.

Brazil, India, Saudi Arabia and Turkey are not to be trusted. All are ruled by corrupt U.S. stooges subservient to Western dictates. Noone should trust Lula, or the Neo-fascist Modi and Erdogan. They are the scums of the Earth. Let’s hope Russia can see that.

Thanks. This scenario seems realistic to me. I would add a few points.

First, I don't think Prigohzin would have undertaken such a military operation merely as a demonstration". It has too high a risk of turning deadly. For example, Scott Ritter has reported that Prigohzin was told that he and his 2000 troops in Rostov-on-Don were surrounded by 20,000 special forces who would kill him and his troops that night if he did not back down and accept Putin's terms and offer.

Similarly, Putin and his advisors would not have engaged in such a high risk operation for some deceptive purpose. Again, there would be the risk of such an operation turning deadly, and they got nothing of significance from it. As The Duran pointed out, the Russians want stability, especially in this time of war, not some crazy, risky theatrics.

I think there are good reasons to suspect this was instigated by the West. The Duran reported that stories had been appearing in the British press predicting a rebellion in Russia led by Prigohzin and the Wagner group. That looks like a possible MI6 operation. On a related note, Max Blumenthal has reported on how the Western media exploded with an orgy celebrating the rebellion as soon as Prigohzin made his move, as if they were primed and ready to launch their PR assault. Also on the information front, there are reports that Prigohzin had fairly recent contacts with Western intelligence.

Second, Scott Ritter reported that the FSB broke up Ukrainian terror cells in Moscow before they could start setting off explosions to coincide with Prigohzin's troop advances. That indicates some serious planning.

Third, there were NATO air force exercises in Europe, reported on Redacted. These would have made a formidable air strike capability available, allegedly to support the “rebellion of the Russian people”, and destroy weapons factories inside Russia.

But when the terror attacks in Moscow failed to materialize, Prigohzin had to quickly change his plans, change his story, and capitulate.

I suspect most of the world has been impressed by how promptly and cleanly Putin stamped out this NATO coup attempt. Blinken’s denials belong in the same trash can as his denials about the West’s Nordstream pipeline sabotage.

I hope the Russian people appreciate not only Putin’s systematic approach to the war with the US via Ukraine, but also his victories on the global diplomatic front, where his honesty, fairness, and humaneness are in stark contrast to the dishonesty and thievery of the Western oligarchy pirates.

@Wokechoke

One plausible scenario is yours, to be added to the following:

Russia and Putin had no grip on how far the loyalty of Wagner soldiers would play out abroad. Is Wagner or not at hoc, a pertinent tool for Russian power projection else-where on the globe? Is this the reason for the weak approach to the crisis? Crushing Wagner, the Russia guarantee brand, decisively, hard and short, with the conviction of “can do” would have been the normal sain finalee. Why the meek approach other then the fear for popular civil war, was it not elite dissent?

This further translates to the whole of the Ukraine approach: SMO, either “bravoure” over-confident to test and try military capacities, as some commenters mentioned, or soft-core porn, to attend to the riches of the Moskou courts [mostly Jew, Jew inspired, oligarch, elite, name it as you wish].

My take, Putin is still maneuvering out of the hold he started his career in. Yes he is some-how always a step ahead, his loyalty to his own plans for Russia are not questionable, his vision globally is not, but his immediate circles are magnetized by personal ambitions and gains. A Prigozhin should never have ended up into the position where his theater act was even conceivable.

Nabiullina is another accident in the making on the Moskou side.

In a sense, complex societies, globalism of resources, and production, migrations, enforced Jew dominance [mindsets, projections, concepts] are present as much @Moskou as @Washington and @London. The reason is simple, yet opaque: Jew identity, Jew group loyalties transgress borders, concepts as nation states are as retarded as doormats. That is where Douglas Macgregor is wrong, retracting into territorial borders, as in US territorial borders is nostalgia. Power entities do not consist and are confined within territorial borders. Identity and group collective identities must on the contrary transgress nation-states and borders to be effective. Corporations, International Jew alignments, are the better examples. Such an alternative group only would offer lean-back to the International Jew power nucleus, by defining a distinct and better projection of principle and long term goals. A Renaissance for the Globe.

The Chinese, will run into the same problems of military capitalism on the Western side, globalism must be in some form or other. All phenomena point to this. A minor example: the bought and sold times over EU corps of elites, administrators, and corporate actors, almost never seen as the obvious outcome of globalism [any globalism]. “Every-body is somebody’s whore” is only stable and un-inhibited in free flux when “some-body” is at the center.

There is an interesting sentence from Pepe:

The Ottoman Empire's Janissaries – their Wagner at the time – were meant to protect the Sultan and fight his wars. They ended up deciding who could be Sultan – as much as Roman Empire legionaries ended up deciding who would be Emperor.

What do the two cases have in common? In both cases, Serbs are involved. Janissaries were Islamicized kidnapped Serbian boys and represented an elite army due to their physical abilities. Many also became grand viziers (prime ministers), ministers, generals and admirals of the army.

In another case, the Roman Republic became an empire when it made a deal with the Serbs, with whom it had been at war for a hundred years, whereby the Serbs, the first outside Rome, received Roman citizenship and the Empire got elite recruits who became the empire's iron fist. Dozens of Serbian emperors were launched by military acclamation to be emperors – Diocletian, Constantine, Maximinus, Licinius, Galerius, Thrax (8 feet tall), etc. They were decisive in early Christianity where they first persecuted Christians (e.g. St George) and then legalized Christianity.

Are there any in Ukraine? In fact, the previous name of Ukraine was SlavenoSerbia (and New Serbia) with the capital Bakhmut. And the current name ('borderland') was created after the name of the Serb soldiers of the former Military Krajina ('borderland') (from the Carpathians to the Adriatic Sea) who defended Europe from the Ottomans and who, after the dissolution of that Krajina, settled in today's Ukraine. They also produced several generals who distinguished themselves in the war against Napoleon.

It would be fair to return the original name (New Serbia) to that area instead of 'Ukraine' after the end of the military operations. I don't know if that will be the request of the Serbs who are currently in Wagner.

“Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov is cutting to the chase: he has reminded everyone that the Hegemon’s modus operandi is to back coup attempts whenever it can benefit. This dovetails with the fact that the FSB is actively investigating whether and how Western intel was involved in The Longest Day.”

Whatever the problem it is always the West is guilty. It is laughable both to read Lavrov and Pepe attempts to read tea leaves. I really love these “experts”.

It has been known since ancient times that mercenaries as a part of military is always present a danger. The structure of Russian army that deploys various mercenaries detachments is backward and clearly has potential for exactly such events given personal qualities of the leaders of those detachments. The conflict between Prigozhin on one hand and Shoigu/ Gerasimov had been brewing for months before coming to this and what did the great multi dimension chess player was doing? Nothing.

There is no doubt that Western intelligence is not involved and all causes are internal. Prigozhin is wealthy self sufficient man with own resources and nasty criminal habits. I have been writing for months that having Prigozhin i this close to power at the head of military force is huge mistake. It is huge mistake to use mercenaries too as they are the most prone of mutinies and are mostly loyal to their commanders. What however is interesting what this attempt of mutiny has shown. That no one will stand up for Putin and his cabal of thieves. Even his national guard, police whoever he pays so handsomely to use against people to keep power and all those stolen Soviet assets, they all vanished when Wagners was approaching. More than that. I have been reading that Wagners guys were cheered by population in Rostov. There was no fear and there was no support for Putin and his regime. Basically the outward view of this regime being stable is only because there is no real challenge to it, and regime is doing everything to ensure that this situation stands. It dumb down population via propaganda, lies and machinations. It uses various tricks to divide and separate population and opposition, uses election tricks and so forth so on. But events has shown that internally regime is weak and has no real support. If similar thing would happened under banners of return of people Soviet power, socialism, just society, nationalization and confiscation of stolen assets and resources and so forth so on, there might have been different outcome. Prigozhin after all is not communist but just one of the same characters who has been close to power and benefited from it. But Caesar he is not. Most probably all those billions in his pocket made him change his mind. People with a lot to lose financially never make good leaders neither of such mutinies or as a leaders of state.

There is an old Russian saying that captures an old Russian belief: “If the Tzar knew, this would not happen.”

The belief is that the Tzar is surrounded by advisors who use their stations to enrich themselves at the expense of the Tzar and Russia’s base population, “the people” (as opposed to the animals, vegetables, and rock, I suppose.)

Prigozhin’s recent actions fit into the above Russian belief. Prigozhin was only trying to tell the Tzar (now Putin, acting as Tzar) how badly he had been deceived, and demonstrating how badly by showing that the Russian Army was ineffective and, by implication, that the Russian State was ineffective at raising and maintaining an army.

Simple as that.

The 1917 revolution became much more likely when the factory floor workers in St. Petersburg, a quarter of a million of them and, being about 76% illiterate, were organized to demand government amelioration of high mortality living and working conditions. (<https://www.britannica.com/place/St-Petersburg-Russia/Evolution-of-the-modern-city>) The situation was so bad, and the use of military force against the workers on such a scale, that the workers believed that the Tzar really did know, therefore was evil, therefore the Imperial Russian government had no legitimacy and must be replaced.

That’s why Putin is handling the Prigozhin affair so cautiously. He knows, or had better for him know, that the Russian population believes that the Tsar has been informed by a loyal and risk taking subordinate. The Tsar must now either act on the information or be widely perceived as illegitimate, and his government as well (and presumably his little dog, too).

Foundation myths are amazingly influential. Consider the Old Testament story about the time that the Jews talked the men in an entire town into Circumcising themselves and converting to Judaism. They then waited a bit while the wounds became debilitated, then killed everybody in the town. This set the standard for treatment of outsiders in that particular religion, and we can still see something similar today with the Trans emphasis on castrating or spaying children.

And you can still see it the emphasis on treachery today in the comment stream at unz.com. The comment stream assumes raw pursuit of power backed by treachery, and forgets the end of the USSR, for example, which really did run on treachery and power until Stalin died, renounced that afterwards, then ran on inertia for about 3 decades until it coasted to a stop.

I can agree with much of your synopsis about this scenario. The older Russian people to me, were molded into One during the Soviet times, and I mean really molded. Moscow knows that it has a big big following no matter what happens and their place is secure because of this. I remember reading that the real Russia won't be seen until the old Sovoks are gone and a new generation takes over, but that can be said about most countries. United Russia isn't going anywhere, no matter how much dirt is dragged up from the past. President Putin and Compañia saved Russia from the Western Hordes and it matters little to the old Sovoks if he has 1 billion or 100 billion – he saved them and Russia.

Russia is for Russians and they make it perfectly clear.

I don't think Humans will ever be able to evolve into what we – should be able to achieve when it comes to intelligence, logic, freedoms, inner and outer peace etc. etc. etc. as long as we have so many negative interferences, manipulations and the syndicates working against the people. There always seems to be a force ready to stop this next transition into the natural assent to more intelligence and peaceful coexistence. My 2 rubles worth.

The Janissaries (“Yeniçeri”, or new soldier) were not only Serb but also Christians of Greek, Albanian, Bulgarian, Croatian, and other SE European / Balkan backgrounds.

Fair or not, Serbs will be lucky just to keep the territory they still have (without Kosovo). Serbs do not have children much, so they are an aged and further aging people, i.e. they have a high median age that’s still rising.

Since 1995, the median age in Serbia has risen from 34 to nearly 42!

In the same span of 28 years, the population has dropped from 9.9 million to 8.7 million.

Given a total fertility rate under 1.5 and a dearth of women of safe childbearing age, there likely will be fewer than 7 million Serbs in Serbia just twenty years from now.

Russia, with its own dire fertility problem, may not be able or willing to save Serbs 20 years from now if Turkey decides to make a big push in favor of the Albanians/Kosovars.

It’s great to have pride in being Serbian or proud/bitter about their conscription as Janissaries 300 to 500 years ago. But anything more than barely surviving constitutes a delusion of grandeur for Serbs at this point. Like many European and Balkan “White” peoples.

This fact remains, and the pilots of those aircraft and their surviving families need retribution against Prigozhin. Cutting him a deal where he walks away free doesn't honor the dead pilots who gave their lives for Russia. This is an ugly stain on the Russian government.

Prigozhin was protesting the break up of the Wagner forces. The government wanted to integrate the Wagner fighters into the Russian military. This would make no money for Prigozhin.

He had better watch his step. I figure the next time he pushes back, he dies.

Max Poop, as usual, a two dimensional analysis from a lightweight bully.

Ukraine is one battle of a wider war. One pebble on a global “Go” board, where taking your opponents ability to move is the goal.

Ukraine is not there to drain the West, it is there to keep the West from controlling the World. You know smartass, to control the world, you control Eurasia, to control Eurasia you control Ukraine. That’s why the colonial masters are throwing everything at it. Again, Ukraine is one pebble on the world’s Go board.

What do I mean? you ask. Pay attention deckhand:

1. Jammie Diamond’s visit to China, one week before Blinken. Diamond talks amicable reserve currency divorce, talks win-win. Assures China that the Colonial Masters are also America’s enemy. Blinken goes to China begging for an audience with Xi to find out what happened. Gets one in exchange for reiterating the “One China” policy, publicly. Colonial Masters are unhappy order Biden to insult Xi.
2. China encouraging Egypt to renegotiate its huge debt with the International Mother Funders, and insists that the IMF takes an unprecedented haircut. China will underwrite Egypt’s debt. Egypt offers 20% investment in the Suez Canal. Who invests in the Suez Canal? China? On the map, this is the North entrance to the Red sea. Another “Go” pebble on the board of frustrating hegemonic maritime power.
3. Yemen’s war is over, China to aid reconstruction with a new port, this is at the southern entrance of the Red Sea. Another Go pebble on the board.
4. From the article, new ME energy distribution hub. Oil producers are starting to go downstream and are controlling distribution. Another pebble on the Energy “Go” board.

5. Uganda signs letters of intent with China to extract the newly discovered gold deposit estimated at 1 trillion. Another pebble on the board of the new Gold and Commodities based world order.

6. China announces investments in the Palestinian West Bank in return for guarantees Palestinians will not attack Israel. Another "Go" pebble on the board to deactivate Israel as a colonial foothold in the ME.

5. Expect an attempted regime change operation in European capitals and in 2024.

Why do you think, this shit show is being documented world wide. Russia is not embarrassed about another MI666, 007 script, instead Russia is signaling the gloves are off. After all, which population, hungry and cold next winter, will be ready for a revolt? This is how you look at Ukraine without the clichés of "let your enemy make mistakes.... blah blah blah. I could go on, but I risk overloading you weak circuitry.

Next time you feel superior to someone's posting remember, I'll be watching you and I will embarrass you again in front of everyone you childish prick.

The largest number of Janissaries were Serbs due to their superior physical constitution. Greeks and Albanians were not warriors (the latter were Muslims and the Janissaries were mostly kidnapped Christian children). There were no Croats while Bulgarians are also mostly genetically Serbs. No pride here, just stating the facts. I wrote about history, including the Roman Empire, and we can talk about the present when the topic arises. There are a lot of your correct assertions, and the news is that the birth rate of Muslim Albanians has also dropped drastically (plus large emigration) because there are no longer large social benefits like there were under Serbian rule (Americans are not so generous), where they lived like parasites with ten or so children and were effectively the cancer of Serbian society.

If Wagner moved fast then the Chechens moved even faster. Still, how do we know that further down the line the Chechens may not stage a rebellion too?

Both Wagner and the Chechens have been promoted by the media but are they really the formidable fighters who have done the heavy lifting in this war? It could be that they're reaping the glory but that those most responsible for Russia's success in the war so far have been the unassuming LDNR militias and the Cossacks we hardly ever hear anything about. [Where is The Savior striding down from The Clouds to deal out “justice” to the wicked and “salvation” to the righteous?]

A legitimate question that I had already pondered about back in 2015 when I finally thought that if God’s will does not crush the rampant evil, meaning the great reset of Schwab and his Western oligarchic handlers driving humanity into the dystopian world of Aldous Huxley and George Orwell, than it is no use believing anymore in salvation. But then God has His ways and knows how to foul evil’s plans by anointing someone to act as his punishing hand and it looks like the choice fell upon the only remaining Christian nation that matters which is Russia. That Russia had endured and survived the crushing boots of the atheists who fanatically and ruthlessly pursued their aim of eradicating Christianity in Russia, should give us a clue about what Indians call Karma.

Charle Martel was called the hammer of God after he successfully defended Europe from the Muslim Arab and Moore invasion. Maybe Putin will be the wrath of God against the new infidels.

But then I caution you not to take the metaphors and symbolism of the gospel literally for that is a Protestant specialty. Give it ten years from today and we will see.

The war in the Ukraine was caused by the neocon / communist led coup in 2014 by the zionist/communist Nuland and her communist cohorts and this is a typical zionist war just like Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya , Syria, Yemen, Yugoslavia, etc., except, this time they have met their match in a world class nuclear power Russia and this is where the zionists have met their Waterloo.

The recent wars in the middle east were brought about by the Israeli and traitors at the highest levels of the ZUS governments attack on the WTC on 911 and blamed on the muslims to give the excuse to destroy the middle east for Israels greater Israel agenda, killing millions of men, women and children in the process, zionists are destroyers of nations and humanity and they are destroying America.

Russia is the defender of Christians everywhere in the world and God bless Putin and the Russian people.

@Anonymous

{I've seen on Telegram channels were Chechen military commanders make it clear to Chechen soldiers that this is a battle against the Godlessness of the Globohomo West.}

Chechens are smart enough to understand that if anything happens to Russia and Chechnya is cast aside, the GloboWest will come in and LGBTQ+++ them: they know they cannot fight against it with their small numbers. They will lose their religion, their ancestral traditions, their traditional roles of men and women.....everything. They will cease being Chechens. That's why 1,000s have left Chechnya and have volunteered to fight the GloboWest so far away from their homes. They know as long as Russia is intact, they will have their Chechnya as-is. (Chechens run Chechnya fully, and Moscow lets them.)

I am a little surprised how well Chechen leaders understand the real agenda of GloboSorosWest.

“Chinese advice is always prescient: Beware of how you use your soldiers. Make sure they believe in what they’re fighting for. Otherwise, they’ll turn around to bite you.”

Ha! Except in the homo USA where the US military is ready and willing to obey every command of the globalist perverts who run the US government.

So far, US-run NATO has been reluctant to take the war into Russia proper, though I know a few missiles have been fired and unsuccessful incursions have taken place in border towns. But would the same reluctance apply to Belarus if Wagner, supported by the Russian army, unleashes an attack toward Kiev from there, as it attempts to decapitate the Zelensky Regime?

We inch closer to WWII every day, but no one is paying attention. The incompetent Biden Regime is asleep at the switch, allowing the psychotic Jewish Neocons to do as they please, as the War Pigs in Congress’ Amen Corner cheer on their own destruction in a desperate attempt to maintain US Hegemony. The Netflix farce, “Don’t Look Up,” has become reality.

“Ah, you don’t believe we’re on the Eve of Destruction.” (Barry McGuire, 1965).

June 28, 2023 The NeoCons' Proxy War "Against Ukraine":

Nuclear War is On the Table. The Privatization of Ukraine

In this article, I will be focussing on the NeoCon agenda, largely inspired by The Project for the New American Century. (PNAC). The Neocons exert control over foreign policy. They are involved in bribing and manipulating politicians and decision-makers. They have played a key role in defining nuclear doctrine on behalf of powerful financial interests.

{True but what beats dying at 60 in Russia from cheap Vodka caused cirrhosis of the liver?.}

Anti-Russian trolls spreading old, retread disinformation — as usual.

Russians did consume lots of alcohol — in the bad old days. But that was, like, so yesterday, homes.

[In Russia, More People Are Drinking Less Alcohol

*On October 8, the World Health Organization (WHO) stated in a report that the rate of alcohol consumption in Russia declined by 43% from 2003 to 2016. In particular, Russians are drinking less liquor and “unrecorded alcohol,” or alcohol which is unregulated, homemade, or smuggled into the country. The report notes a 40% decline in the consumption of recorded alcohol and a 48% decline in the consumption of unrecorded alcohol.] **

And the life expectancy has been creeping up.

[The current life expectancy for Russia in 2023 is 72.98 years, a 0.19% increase from 2022.]

That’s average for males & females.

For males it’s about 65: not good enough, but it will get better. Meanwhile in US, the life expectancy dropped 2nd year in a row***: let’s see you LOL about that.

Meanwhile in the good old USA:

[Fentanyl: The million dollar streets strewn with bodies contorted by the effects of the drug]

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/3QrZLNyYHVw>

This is repeated in EVERY large city in US.
Let's see you anti-Russian trolls come up with a similar video from Russia, homes.
